Aspirants For Parts In Offerings Will Be Chosen At Early Meeting Of Members; New Recruits Urged To Come Out

Paint and Patches Club, dramatic organization on the Hilltop, is planning on making this a banner year in the history of college drama, locally speaking. Last year's presentations were rather successful under the leadership of Cecil Abernathy and Lewis Bush. The new executives, Lewis Bush and Walter Passmore, president and business manager respectively, have been making early plans and as a result, Paint and Patches will be heard from in a big way.

It is advisable, though to present tomething prepared by a writer who is an authority on playlets, also, the tot should not run over ten or fifteen minutes. The college library is prepared to give assistance in the selection of something to present and will laddly help you in this matter.

After the try-outs, the club will vote on the various applicants and a list of the successful ones will be posted on the bulletin board. Get busy, freshmen and win a place on the club, is new talent is needed and there is plenty of it on the campus because the high schools put out plenty of good, experienced material.

One hour's extra-curricula credit is given for dramatic ability along with the fun of being in either a one-act or a full length play will be given just before the Christmas holidays, but severe one-act plays will be presented in chapel before that time, so watch for the announcement of the date for tryouts.

Epworth League Has Social; Dr. Poor Leads Sunday School For Church

On Weekly Newspaper

To promote interest among writers on "Gold and Black" staff, Mr. E. B. Core, of Yonkers, N. Y., has offered a prize for the best article printed in the paper. Every three issues, a five dollar gold piece will be given the author of the most worthwhile story, poem, column, or news article appearing in one of those three numbers. This prize is to be known as the "Alice Core Award for Journalism," and may be won by any student submitting aticles to the college weekly. Thus far, Freshmen and upperclassmen have responded in surprising numbers to the call for reporters and writers, but places are still open for others with aspirations along these lines. Drop around to the "Gold and Black" office in the Library basement for assignment.

Members of the Ministerial Association will hold their first meeting of the year Monday evening, September 22nd. Every member is urged to be present as this is an important meeting, Much of the success of the year's work depends upon the way the old members and the new ministerial students respond. Heretofore the meetings have been held in S. A. 3 at 6:30. Until further notice the same time and place will be continued this year. Although we have tried to get in touch with all new students who are preparing for the ministry there may be some whom we have not seen. These are expected to come to the meeting and get acquainted with us. The association feels that every man can help us in our chosen work, and that in turn it can help the ministerial student in many ways.

Officers for the current year are: J. L. Hallmark, president; Robert Westbrook, vice-president; Ross Rush, recording secretary, and J. Davis Messer, corresponding secretary.

NOTICE

There comes a time in every Birmingham-Southern College session when professors drop their stern and academic robes, when upperclassmen forget that they are thoroughly familiar with the "wilds and ways" of college life, and when freshmen are regarded as ordinary, intellectual human beings. That time is known throughout our college history and traditions as the "Freshman Y" social. Friday night at 8 p.m. in the Student Activities building, faculty members and students will unite for the purpose of welcoming new students and freshmen to Birmingham-Southern. Howard Cleveland, president of the Y. M. C. A. and Sara Alice Mayfield, president of the Y. W. C. A., will act as host and hostess for the occasion. "Captain" John J. Smith is executive chairman of the festivities with the following committee: Wynelle Lowery, Robert Westbrook, Bethel Stanfield, Katherine Carmichael and Jimmle Stewart.

Francena Hamilton and others.
Captain John Joseph Smith has the responsibility, if not the opportunity, of planning refreshments for the big social. He has a very efficient chore of workers helping him in this all-important feature of the party and it is rumored that the refreshments will surpass all those of former freshman socials.

In addition to the committees and chairmen mentioned above, every member of the entire Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. has be n appointed on a special committee to see that every-body gets acquainted Friday night.
According to the spirit aiready manifested by the freshmen and upperclassmen, every student in school will join in the Friday night festivity.

Several good openings can be offered to feature, editorial, and business staff members. The first meeting of the staff was held Saturday, and regular meetings will be held in the Student Activities Building every Saturday during Chapel hour.

Upper classmen and freshmen,

Class of 1934

Members of the class of 1934 have been showered with advice during a hectic orientation period, and during the last week of class work. There is one bit of counsel which can not be over-emphasized -a word we should like to whisper to every beginning student: "Do —a word we should like to whisper to consider a collegian must do is study. It is no longer considered smart to flunk or merely skim by. An honor roll student is really respected, but a dumbbell is—just a dumbbell. Every course is a crip or a pipe if a little concentrated effort is applied regularly.

As De Whiting and others have taken pains to show, the school

As Dr. Whiting and others have taken pains to show, the school offers much beside purely academic pursuits. It's a student's own fault if he fails to have a swell time on the Hill. If the newcomer wishes to insure a pleasant four years at Southern, he should affiliwishes to insure a pleasant four years at Southern, he should attiliate with one or more of the college organizations.

Get busy! The publications, departmental clubs, musical organizations and athletic teams are open to everyone. It is easy enough to make friends among these varied groups. Something is going on about the campus every day and one is always assured a welcome. Carlyle was of the opinion that in idleness there is "perpetual dispair." As an antidote for such a condition, we suggest petual dispair.' petual dispair." As an antidote for such a condition, we suggest again, "Do Something!"

Lucky Thirteen

There is an old superstition that thirteen is an unlucky number; There is an old superstition that thirteen is an unlucky number; it is classed with black cats, walking under ladders, seeing the new moon through glass, and other such omens of ill fortune. By all rights, therefore, the editor should see this issue of the Gold and Black go to press with no little doubt and trepidation, for with its appearance on the campus begins its thirteenth year as the weekly

Prior to that time there was a magazine, published quarterly.

This was replaced by what was intended as a weekly newspaper. But circumstances have altered the original intent slightly; inasmuch as Birmingham-Southern cannot support a magazine containing literary matter such as stories, features, essays, and poetry, or comic material, it has been necessary to step out of the usual bounds of journalism and permit such material to enter the columns of the

There has been some criticism of this, yet the editors intend to follow the precedent and continue as before. After all, mince pie is better when well spiced. So is news better read when surrounded by a bit of lighter stuff.

The Gold and Black proposes at all times to further the best interests of Birmingham-Southern; to promote a greater degree of good feeling between faculty and student-body, and to foster the college traditions.

SOCIAL NOTES

Joe Dean Cromwell has returned om Montgomery where he spent the immer with his parents.

Miss Mary Beard left Tuesday for Radcliffe College where she will con-tinue her studies in English in the graduate school.

Among the Birmingham-Southern students entering Auburn this fall are John Hotchkiss, and Harold Gassman

Gilbert Sanford is leaving next week to return to Emory where he was a former student. Clyde Cruse and Clothing Company one would judge him still a student.

"Yes," he said as he shoved away an order book, "they didn't use bells back in those days. The larger part of the college was comprised of young men who had enlisted in the U. S. Army—the Student Army Training Corps branch of it, that is. These men were taught not to be Cultured Christian Gentlemen."

Gentlemen."

He laughed, "In those days a man received his college education and went to war; now you receive one and get married. And they say they depend upon college graduates to get world peace!" But he didn't mean that because there's a Mrs. Bob Wolfort.

that because there's a Mrs. Bob Wolford.
"Mary Owens Hall was a barracks, and contained between three and four hundred cots. The bugles were sounded in military calls where the bells now signal the beginning and end of classes. Drill and college courses were alternated, from a study of Greek the student hurried to a course in the use of the bayonet in the charge," he shook his head, "those were exciting times, i'm telling you." It was at that time, 1918, that three fraternities installed chapters at the college, Pl K. A.—Into which Mr. Wolford was initiated—S. A. E., and A. T. O.

Mr. Wolford was business manager of the first newspaper printed on the Hill. There had been a quarterly issued since the latter part of the nine teenth century, but no weekly. After deciding to change the form to what was the forefather of the Gold and Black, the next step was to popularize the new paper, which met with rather a cool reception. The country was being swept with a craze for climbing buildings much as the recent one for ing for proper remuneration. Crowds gathered quickly to watch him "do or die."

The Gold and Black decided to secure a human-fly and do a bit of advertising. But since money was short they looked among themselves for talent. Tommy Haynes, now Sports Editor of a large paper in Nortolk, Va., volunteered to climb Science Hall. And so the news was spread about the city that Tommy Haynes—"the inhuman flen"—would perform at such and such a time. A large crowd gathered, staff photographers from the News set up a battery of cameras, and then the lcimber made his appearance.
"Tommy was dressed in rather flashy clothes that fitted him like a vaudeville comedian's. In addition he sported a flaming set of whiskers that would shame Dean Mead. After shedding gloves and cane he walked up to the building and posed for a picture," Bob grinned. "Then he ran through the front entrance and climbed the stairs to the second floor. From a window there he made an address that was largely responsible for the change in attitude toward the paper which was the cause of its success. After he finished he rushed to a ladder and ascended through a trap-door onto the roof, where he further amused the audience with his clowning."

One cannot help but agree with Mr. Wolford that, in spite of the smallness Southern is coming into her own, it seems, for in a very short time she can proudly claim to be the alma mater of two world-famous bandits, Bufford Word and Joe Whitson. That is if Buford or Joe can uphold the startling pace they have begun in their career of crime.

As yet the principals in the affair have not confessed everything, but little by little by little it is being revealed. The story goes something like this:

Buford and Joe, both being aggressive, enterprising young men according to their own statement, ran up to Michigan this summer to show those peace-loving people just what high-pressure salesmanship is like. But, alas for them, they had reckoned without Constantine. Now Constantine is one of the coming young towns of Michigan and will brook no inroads by bandits.

Debate Schedule To Include Cam bridge

Debate plans are now being made by the new Speech Department of Birmingham-Southern College in order to insure an early beginning to the 1930-31 debate season. While no definite call has yet been made for aspirants to the team that will represent the school in a heavy schedule of contests this year, it is understood that a number of men are arranging to try for the several places that were left vacant by graduation.

Only one match has yet been scheduled, that with Cambridge University of England. The British orators are touring America and will stop, as on previous occasions, in Birmingham to debate the Birmingham-Southern team. The cortest has drawn a large crowd in other years, and it is considered quite a compliment that the college was chosen as one of the American colleges to be encountered. Birmingham-Southern was victor in the last match, so the current one is expected to be hotly contested.

Truth needs no support; Sheaffer's is the college favorite

TODAY there are more Sheaffer's bought than any other make; among America's hundred leading colleges, each registering 1,700 or more students, Sheaffer's sales overtop all others.

With Sheaffer's, the reason for such success is that these instruments are supremely well suited to the business of writing. First, there is a Sheaffer's Lifetime° pen point for every hand. Second, each is a Balance° in-strument, fitting the hand comfortably, taking class notes quickly, making long themes easy. Third, the Balance' contour is truly modern, a happy blend of line and curve, the combination of utility with beauty. And fourth, nobody can outlive his Lifetime'pen's guarantee of satisfactory service.

The house was elaborately decorated for the occasion with early Fall flowers. Urns holding asters, roses and dahlias added to the charm of the setting. SORORITY NEWS

The Alpha Omega Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega fraternity entertained Tuesday night, September 16th, with a formal dinner in the Green Room of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. The fraternity was fortunate in having present Mrs. J. Ellis Crosby, Southern Province President of Alpha Chi Omega. The table was attractive with Ferns and Radiance roses. All active members and pledges were present besides several prominent alumnae. Miss Ellen Frances Cooney, president of the chapter, was becomingly gowned in egg-shell satin. as I had, the origin of the Passion Play.

In 1632-33 a terrible plague swept the valley in which Oberammergau is situated, and an appailing number of deaths occurred in this as in other adjacent villages.

Today many of them show a cross, or chapel, which is a votive offering, for deliverance from the plague. The village of Oberammergau in 1633 vowed to give the Passion Play once in every ten years, as her votive offering; giving it first in 1634, and for nearly 300 years has kept her pledge, many times in spite of poverty or oposition.

A Tip From Sir Thomas

For the past few weeks Sir Thomas Lipton, the picturesque Irish yachtsman, has appeared consistently in the newspapers as first page copy, a position usually granted golf champions, absconding bank officials and first-class murderers. But Sir Thomas is none of these, far from it. His only call for publicity and admira-none of these, far from it. His only call for publicity and admiration lies in the fact he loses as consistently but graciously.

For thirty-one years he has endeavored to wrest the yachting championship from America. Five times he has challenged and five times lost. But he grins each time as he sails away, and in a few years challenge again with a new Shamrock. That's why the American public is so fond of him. So fond, indeed, that when Will Rogers suggested that lost Sir Linton he thirst for lead of Rogers suggested that lest Sir Lipton be thirst for lack of a cup from which to drink, American people should furnish him with one, there was an instant response that brought in two hundred dollars there was an instant response that brought in two numered donars in one mail delivery.

The 1930 football season is opening tonight. In the past the athletic teams of Birmingham-Southern have always been praised for sportsmanship. But on several occasions the "bleacher athletes" have allowed the school's name to be besmirched a bit.

Just a few little breaks cause this. When the referee walks the wrong way for Southern's best interests, and he will, and at times for Auburn's, let's not hand him the razz. Such an exhibition doesn't help us at all.

And if Captain Pilgreen gets tackled around his neck and a

And if Captain Pilgreen gets tackled around his neck and a couple of fat tackles sit upon him, don't advertise your opponents as criminals. A few minutes ago we said it was good playing when Tucker grabbed the opposing half-back by the ears. He stopped the man who was about to slip through a hole in our line.

Take the bad breaks quietly and the good ones with reserve. And don't forget that it's no disgrace to lose. Look at Sir Lipton, at Walter Johnson, at a thousand others who took defeat with a grin and the will to come back. It wasn't until then that the public was theirs.

Take the bab freaks quietly and the good ones with reserve. And don't forget that it's no disgrace to lose. Look at Sir Lipton, a grian and the will to come back. It wasn't until then that the public was theirs.

So start out in Montgomery. Win or lose, be sportsmen. And if the team doesn't scalp the Plainsmen, maybe Southern will comback to Birmingham with a still better reputation.

those who can arraign and dispose of Him.

Next comes the scene at Bethany, where Mary Magdalene anoints Christ, and Judas protests again the extravagance. Christ foreshadows his departure from them and they are filled with foreboding. A beautiful and most tender scene occurs between Christ and his mother; and the home of Mary and Martha is offered her, as her own. Act four shows Christ and the disciples on their way to Jerusalem, as He weeps over the city, and sends two to engage a room for the last supper, and Judas again reproaches him for the extravagance of the "wasted ontiment," and then turns away to meet those from whom he is to receive the money for Christ's betrayal; while the other disciples go on to the city.

The scene in the Garden of Gethsemane as the disciples try to get the meaning of Christ's conversation, and attempt unsuccessfully to remain awake and watch with Him, I could have wished had more closely shown the intimate little green garden one sees, even yet, in Jerusalem, but it seemed more what it was, a stage setting.

Christ passes through His last agony of renunciation as the disciples fall asleep and Judas guides the armed band that hurries the Master away to Calphas. The scenes of the shameful trails; of the evasion of authority by Roman and local rulers, and the final handing over to the mob; the weary, weary journey with the heavy cross, even the last moments on the cross all were accurately and convincingly portrayed. Too late Judas realizes that his betrayal is leading Christ to torture and death and when his frantic efforts to secure Christ's release by giving back the money are scorned, he throws the 30 pieces at their feet, rushes away and hangs himself. His role is perhaps the most dramatic and well given of any.

The frenzied, picturesque mob of 400 that follows to the cross; the little group of tender intimate friends that take Christ from the cross and lay him in the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea; the "Mother, behold your son" are all very impressive. When it is all ended the audience of 4,000 people moves quietly and reverently away.

I had never wanted to see the play,

I had never wanted to see the play, and had not believed it could be given a sufficiently dignified and reverent way, with no touch of hysteria, but low I am very glad to have seen it."

"Athletics played no less a part in our college days at old Southern University than in those of today," said Dr. E. V. Jones, looking over Munger Bowl from his office in Science Hell. The genial head of the Birmingham Southern chemistry department is well qualified to compare athletic life of the two periods. In 1912-13, Dr. Jones served on the faculty of the Greensboro institution, which united with Birmingham College in 1918, to form the present school.

"Compare to the past," he remarked in speaking of his connection with Bouthern. "Our professorial life of today is becoming a proberbial bed of roses. I taught classes in chemistry, blology, and physics, and spare time was spent as physical director, and leader of the College Glee Club."

In blinding bursts of speed the country's foremost daredevils of the dirt tracks will seek to shatter all track records and vie for the huge cash purses to the mount and driver finishing first in Monday's whirlwind competition. The fastest field that ever gave a State Fair crowd a thrill will be entered in Monday's Petrol Derby and Dust Mountain Sweepstakes.

It took more money to build this year's Fair than any that have preceded it. As a consequence the attraction will outshine any that has gone before. With lavish hand the State Fair management has gone about the business of offering cash prizes in the many departments. Months of preparation will blossom into a reality as the thousands of visitors view these super-accomplishments.

Brown is another Freshman that we should hear from. An excellent passer and good receiver, all that he needs at present is a little weight and some improvement in the blocking department. Another good prospect is Rat Waller, brother to Les and Winnie. He scored a total of eight points against Phillips and the way he was blocking those high school ends and backs was something to write home about.

blocking those high school ends and backs was something to write home about.

A line that should average around 175 pounds will be available. Four promising ends are struggling for the two first choice positions. Harper, Pineapple; Wade, Handley; Richardson, Russellville, and Battle, Tuscumbla, are the men. Battle seems to have the inside track because of his adaptability to get down on punts and his regularity in catching passes.

Tackles include Hand, Dothan; McFarland, O. M. I.; Steele, Centerville, and Red Hill, Lineville. Hill is the boy that has been giving the varsity so much trouble in their scrimmages. McFarland was the line star of the Phillips scrimmage.

Wilson, Tuscumbla; Norris, Snead Seminary; Salmon, Bessemer, and Warner, Wetumpka, are four excellent guards. The only trouble with the guard proposition is going to be the selection of the best two. Quinn is at present the best looking center, although Wilson and Roberts are two scrappers that are going to give him a fight for his job.

Players Discuss Shift

The Birmingham-Sothern team to a man feels it can cope with the shift which Auburn is expected to show. Co-ordination and pep seem to be the medicine to kill the shift's effectiveness, and these qualities the Gold and Black squad possess in abundance.

So far there have been no injuries appearing in the Panther fold; the whole crew is in good physical and mental shape. Pot Thomas has been favoring his bad ankle, but should be prime tonight.

The work of Jackson at end continues to stand out, and his punting is a feature of the afternon work-outs. Coaches Gillem and Robinson don't expect to lose by any one point margins this season, as every man who looks like a kicker has had to try his skill at putting over that extra point. Al Blanton looks like pick of this crop so far, with Black right behind.

Co-ed Sports

Co-ed athletics are already being splendidly organized under the leadership of Miss Ransom, assisted by Zemma Singleton and Dorothy Roper. Posters are being put up on which girls may sign up for tennis matches. Class tennis teams will be organized this week or at the beginning of next week.

this week.

Toward the end of the week, tournaments will select the best tennis players from each class. During the next week inter-class tournaments will adjudge the victorious class. These tennis matches will be judged by competent referees, who will be announced later.

From tennis, interest in women's sport will for a time be centered on swimming. Plans are on way to form an inter-class tournament here. It is being rumored that for a nominal feall girls will be enabled to swim at some indoor pool during the wintermonths.

Drum Major Needed For Completion Of Fast Stepping Band

The response to last week's article about the band was quite gfatifying. There have been additions to every section during the last week and it looks as if Southern will have a band of at least thirty-five in Montgomery to beat Auburn.

The officers of the band were elected Tuesday afternoon at the regular rehearsal. Bob Brown was elected manager and Bill Crunk was elected manager amount of spirit was shown in the elections and enthusiasm is running high for a good years' work.

SORORITY NEWS

Now that rushing is over we can all settle down and prove to the Professors that the first impression isn't always the lasting one.

Every one is satisfied and happy and each Sorority congratulates the other on the success of this season. Show all we have to do is wait for another rush season, with classes in the meantime, of course.

The Alpha Chis are so glad to have Mary Cutler back on the campus this year. Mary couldn't attend school last year on account of illness but now she's back and this week takes a part in the Civic Theatre production. Harriet LaPage, who attended Columbia University last year was visiting in Birmingham recently before going to California where she will live. Her brother has been stationed there with the U. S. Navy. Another loss to the chapter is Louise Benson who left last week for Toronto to make her home. Louise hope to attend the University of Toronto this year.

Catherine Cahoon entered school
Monday of this week. Catherine, a loyal Zeta, has just returned from Detroit and she looks as though she's had a good time. Margaret Brown, an active alumna of Z T A, has been recovering from an operation of appendicitis at her home. Margaret advises any one against such a step.
Lucy McCauley McNice and "Cat"
Sibley were on the campus last week.

If there is anything Sally Lee Woodall has a weakness for its acting. The Kappa Delta's should be proud of her achievements and for the second time Sally Lee is in the cast for the Civic Theatre. Mary Perry, who has just completed a delightful summer as camp councelor was among those present on the campus last week. Mary is missed on the hill for she was listed in the student section last year.

Beverly Aderhold can't resist Birmingham and its people so she is again in town this year. The Theta Upsilon's are glad to have her with them when she can come on the hill.
"Beve" says the teaching jobs fell short this year.

Annie Lou brought "Red, Jr." up for a visit last week. It's a pity that the
A. O. Pi's can't take in boys (I mean into the chapter) because even at so early an age this youngster is very attractive.

Chapel Programs Announced For Week of September 28th

FROSH IMPRESSIONS

When the freshman first decides to enter college and applies for entrance to the school of his choice his first impression is of how big and important he is, a college man.

This impression is speedily changed as soon as he reaches school and registers. He begins to think in entirely different terms. Here he is nobody, just another "frosh." This, too, changes as he acclimates himself to the conditions surrounding him and begins to take a part in echool work. He again regains his self-respect.

What should be the most lasting and profound impression is gained when he first takes part in the singing of ALMA MATER. It makes him feel that he is a part of the echool and the school a part of him. Also this gives him the spirit to "Do Tole."

The freshman who enters the classroom expecting it to be like high school has indeed a surprise in store for him.

Holler When You're Hit

Along in the spring there comes an annual howl that elections are not run on a fair basis; candidates are railroaded into office; fraternities take the upper hand; sororities meddle in affairs not their own; cliques operate to the detriment of other students. True all of it! But whose fault?

Right now can these wrongs be alleviated if anybody really is desirous of doing so. Class elections are being held this week-end. Heretofore only a handful has attended these.

desirous of doing so. Class elections are being held this week-end. Heretofore only a handful has attended these important meetings. Class officers rarely have opposition. They are elected, take office, and a majority of class members receive word of proceedings when La Revue is issued.

This fall there seems to be an unusual amount of interest in various class positions. Let us hope that it is general among the

If you wish a voice in selecting your class officers, get out and vote for them. If you want to get this election business on a square foundation, begin with the class offices. If you vote, all right. If you don't, all right—but you can't yell when tricks are played in the spring races.

Highlights Of That Montgomery Game

There are many famous highways in the anais of history, such as the Appian Way and the long beautiful roads of North Carolina but none burn with the treads of anxious football fans like the much traveled artery to Montgomery. This famed and familiar highway transported many hopeful students to the field of battle on last Friday and brought the same number of happy and well satisfied ones back. This journey has been made several times in years past but none have been so exciting. In order to make the trip to Montgomery, it is of course necessary to climb over Red and Shades Mountains (in automobiles, my dear Watson), and in doing this you always get behind some slow driver causing you to shift into second gear and you don't get that chance of showing off the pulling powers of your horseless charlot. This doesn't seem to worry Liewellyn Johns because he steps on that La Salle and you never see him again until you arrive in Montgomery about an hour and a half behind him, and Lutie Price and Edith Black smile sweetly as they whiz past, very condescending-like, you know.

I'd bet that Jean-Pierre would have had a much bigger time this year than he did last, because there are many new faces especially feminine onnes, and it is said that Monsieur Pradervand had a very wild ride in a rumble-seat on the last occasion of this migration.

Cramton Bowl offered as much excitement as the highway, Once inside the gates that familiar football tingle took hold of you only to have it all place and the players looked like applied took hold of you only to have it all place and the players looked like application of the highway, the air-drawn of the Highway, the air field and the players looked like applied took hold of you only to have it all place and the players looked like applied to the were characted the payers looked like applied to the was bound Montgomery abound Montgomery abound Montgomery abound Montgomery abound Montgomery abound Montgomery abound Montgomers completed to come to a stopped of the yea burning turcher a he Cramton Bowl offered as much excitement as the highway. Once inside the gates that familiar football tinglet took hold of you only to have it all washed out when old Jupiter Pluvius started crying. The team seemed to take possession of that extra pep lost by the spectators when it stared raining, throw it right in the face of the Tiger and as a result the Panther.

Leaving Montgomery right after the game, nothing happened except a few drifts of fog which were floating along the highway "Stretched like a silver ribbon in the moonlight." After Clanton was passed, however, things did begin to happen; to begin with, a driver who seemed to have had a naughty drik of some intoxicating beverage, side-swiped the car in which the writer was riding. He had no connection in the mooth of the was riding. He had no connection in the meeting adjourned.

AFTERNOON

By Mildred Cowan

The sun vainly endeavoring to pierce the clouds. The highway filled with cars—new and old. The gay tooting of horns followed by passing cars filled with boys and girls. Happy, free laughter floating on the air.

Evening—and Montgomery.

Traffic moving haltingly, crowds gathering, dispersing. Cheers given. Hotel reached at last and safely. Friends greeted. Dinner. Cafes filled to overflowing. Hotel again. More greetings—cheere—laughter.

Night—and the game:

Streets and walks all leading in the same direction. Cramton Bowl—the center of attraction. Seats sought and discarded. Yells. Cheers. Wonderful spirit. Superb playing. Excitement. Rain—on with the game. Victory! Morning—homeward bound.

Automobiles once packed — now overflowing. Crowds subdued—tired, but wonderfuly happy. Greetings exchanged from one car to another. Excitement upheld by a blazing car. Home. Bed. Last waking thought—victory! Sleep of the drugged.

The Panther Cubs open their season tomorrow morning when they meet the Baby Tigers of Auburn. The rats expect to do as well as the Varsity did last Friday night.

Coaches Ben Englebert and Lex Fullbright have been trying to pick an eleven from about 30 men that will work together. The job has been a tough one. The scrimmages with the Varsity are the means of getting the best idea of the frosh gridders.

Jones, a 150-pound back from Walker County High, will no doubt be barking signals for the frosh. He will do the most of the punting and it will be done well. Rat Jones has also shown up well in the broken field running against the varsity.

Brown, of Sheffield; Briner, of Eneley, and Smith, of Jefferson County High are the three halves that are putting in the strongest bids for the positions

Coach Gillem's pony backs and reserve linesmen should get plenty of chances to make "whoopee" against the Marion Cadets tomorrow on Lejon Field. And this should also prove true the following week end when the Union Buildogs are entertained at the stadium.

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEING PLAYED

vart Stresses Need For Good Courts At College Meets

The fall tennis tournament is on. First round matches must be played before Saturday, Oct. 4, or default. Quite an active interest has been shown so far in tennis. The freshman class especially seems to be almost entering to a man. The varsity lettermen, Beiman, Miller, Stewart and Mallory, have been seeded, but it would not be at all surprising should an unknown upset one of these favorites.

marker that it had started. In the last half the Tiger forward wall blocked a punt and the ball was put into play on the two yard stripe, and when the last plunge was over the Cat wall had pushed the ball back to the five yard line.

At half.

Johnson at Fullback

Johnson, an All-State man at Dora last year, will see much service at full this year. He is a fast plunging back with plenty of fight.

Waller, Linton and Bolen are three other sweet running backs that will get to perform against Auburn, part of the game at least.

Prescott and Goodrich are two hard tackling and blocking backs that will give any team trouble.

Battle and Wilson seem to be holding down the end post in most of the scrimmages with the varsity. However Norris may be used at end if not at guard. Hand, a blonde from Dothan, and Hill, a red-head from Lineville will be the starting tackles, Hill is the heaviest man on the squad. Metarland will get the next call at tackle.

Line Averages 175 Pounds

Salmon and Wilson will probably start at guards with Norris and Warner ready to go at any time. All four are promising men.

Roberts and Quinn are waging a strong battle at the middle of the line with Roberts showing up best in the last few scrimmages. The line will average around 175 with the backfield tipping the scales around 155 or 160.

Mallory, nave used all surprising should would not be at all surprising should worltone winknown upset one of these favorites.

Varsity Looks Good

got off several nice boots. With more practice these boys should be two of the best punters in the S. I. A. A.

The work of our line during the second half was one of the highlights of the game. Carter, Tucker and James featured the defensive play of Southern. Carter and Tucker were smashing through the line at all times, forcing Auburn men to punt and pass quickly.

However, it was over the right side of the line that most gains were made. Townsend, Rice and Waller were moving their men out of the plays nicely. Mann also played a fair game at center even though he was pitted against "Red" Harkins, Auburn's captain and last year's selection for All-Southern center.

In the backfield Pligreen and Black. Carraway, Vaughn, Blanton and Cranford crowned themselves with glory. Prigreen's line plunging was faultless, while it was Black who did all of the passing. Carraway again proved himself to be a main cog in the offense by his sterling blocking. Blanton showed his headlness in several places. Vaughn and Cranford took the bail all over the field, the former making the longest run of the game, a 45-yard trot.

The resignation of President John C. Dawson of Howard Col-The resignation of President John C. Dawson of Howard College comes as-sadness to Birmingham-Southern as well as all friends of the Baptist institution in East Lake. Dr. Dawson, with his genial smile and ever-ready word of cheer for his collegians, seemed a fixture at Howard; having served there for twenty-eight years as professor, dean, acting president, and president. And in that time he never spent a day on the campus without mingling with the students for a few words, nor did he let executive troubles so perturb him that he would pass a student without a friendly greeting.

been rivals of varied intensity. In pre-game excitement there have been flare-ups. But at all times Dr. Dawson has been close to the hearts of Southern students, a splendid running-mate for President Snavely. The two have worked together, laughed together, and sortened together at the antics of their charges. Without their friendship and cooperation the ties between the two schools would have been broken on numerous occasions. But they have held the bonds together, and earned the appreciation and love of both student bodies in so doing.

Varsity Looks To Tulane Game Soon In New Orleans

On October 18, Birmingham-South ern's fotball eleven will invade New Orleans and enter into combat with Tulane, a formidable Southern Conference team, whose very name formerly struck terror into the hearts of their opponents. From many reports, it seems that the lonely roads between here and the battle ground will be dotted with every vehicle imaginable, each bearing gold and black decorations.

dotted with every vehicle imaginable, each bearing gold and black decorations.

This will be the first time in Birmingham-Southern history that the Panthers have had an opportunity to claw at the Green Wave of Tulane, and in case anyone is not aware of the threat that this squad can offer, it might be well to state that Tulane is not only a courageous fighting teambut is as versatile one as can be found in these parts. Those boys are good alike at shifting, passing, running and punting.

Hugh Whatley, halfback, promises to be the greatest menace to opposition as he proved by the neat gains he reeled off in a recent game with Northwestern. The eleven also has its star kicker in Nollie Felts, whose successful punts seem to have a clock-like regularity about them that is uncanny. The strength of the Greenies as a whole is adequately proven by the fact that they held the great Northwestern team (which is rated as two two talles in the game there October 4.

That gleam in the Panther eye is not one that is focused on the Union Buildog, maybe a corner of the eye is on the canine, but that cold hard gleam is directed to the town of New Orieans, home port of the Tulane Green Wave. In some manner or another the Cat is getting into his head the fact that Tulane is due for a long hard session Saturday week. Not that there is any open boasting, or the act of putting up a false face but the fact that the Cat is working hard and is not trembling in his book. The Greenles have failed to cause fear to strike at the heart of the Panther, and the Cat handlers are working both night and day to dig up a powerful offense to throw against the Wave.

and any to dig up a powerful offense to throw against the Wave.

This column is making no predictions, but is going into October 1s with the belief that anything can, and sometimes does happen. We are not going to tell people how many touch downs Southern is going to hold the Conference champions to, nor make any claims for a moral victory. Now, and any scores make a bigger impression upon the public than a so-called moral win. Any win is a moral victory if the team gives all it has to the laat inch and remain true sportsmen. It is hoped that all games are such victories for Southern teams.

Tulane will be weary of traveling after this week end, for they will have made trips to Chicago and Dallas, playing two strong teams like Northwestern and Texas A. & M. on successive Saturdays. No doubt the Tulane mentors scheduled Birmingham-Southern for a rest period between their inter-sectional tilts and launching upon their conference schedule. Well, we shall see what we chall see.

Students Discuss Revival Plans In Early Conference

J. M. Culbreth Addresses Car pus Leaders In Effort To Stir Up Interest

In a special meeting of thirty-six leaders from various campus activities Saturday morning, October 11, Dr. Snavely announced tentative plans for the annual revival to be held on the campus early in December. Services will be held in chapel every morning and at McCoy Memorial Church every evening for a week. Other group services will doubtless be arranged for the afternoons. The student leaders selected by Dr. Snavely will be largely responsible for planning and arranging the revival.

This is a new idea for Birmingham-Southern, and was decided upon in a conference between J. N. Culbreth, of the Southern Methodist Board of Education, and President Snavely. In previous years all plans have been in accordance with the wishes of the administration without special consideration of the students. Lack of co-operation has always resulted.

"The age of a paternalistic relation between the old and the new generations has ended," Mr. Culbreth said in an address to the students assembled in conference. "I no longer dictate to my children but welcome their suggestions and ideas in planting any project which we will attempt together. And I find that they stand one hundred per cent behind me in the undertaking because they shared in its formulation. The same principle applies to students. Give them a share in planning and they will share in the backing."

During the summer he was doing a paint job in Munger Memorial Hali. The idea that more buildings of its kind would be a fine thing for the college kept flitting through his mind. Thursday night to invade the lair of Green Wave of Tulane where they will attempt to scalp their new Southern Conference enemies. The game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, and quite a number of the student body is expected to make the trip.

The coaches left here with probably the smoothest and most versatile grid machine that Birmingham. Southern has ever produced. Line Coach (Carey Robinson demonstrated the finesse of his forwards in the Union game by making substitution after substitution in the line and having all combinations check the Bulldogs.

Gold and Black Writer To Cover Out Of Town Games

The Gold and Black is to have a member of its sports staff on the ground whenever an athletic team of Birmingham-Southern is in foreign territory. Thus may students on the Hilltop get straight dope when the Panthers play abroad

Palmer Cowglll is with the team at present, riding the Pan-American to New Orleans where he will be on the spot when the Green Wave goes up in steam. He can cover the game from our angle better than a scribe unfamiliar with Southern's boys.

Ed Dannelly will be along when we play in Mobile and Bill Scott is planning to get straight stuff at Macon. McCoy Mays is to go to Clinton.

October 8. Dr. Snavely Introduced to the assembly Mr. Stansell, pastor of the Avondale Methodist Church. Mr. Stansell announced no subject, but told us that he would give himself the freedom of wandering from one thought to another. Most of the thoughts were about the meaning of Christian education.

"It is necessary, of course, to educate the mind," Mr. Stansell said, "but more than that, one must learn to worship God. If a person has learned that, he has the essential part of a firm foundation for life."

Mr. Stansell further said that emotion is one great need in religion. One of his diffusitation of more meaning of the girl and boy in the dimity lighted room—reminded us of what Ed Hamill said about tradition and the sun dial.

"Everyone of you yells on the footbail field when your team wins," Mr. Stansels did. "Give more emotion like that to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the time the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat to your religion, and you will know the text of the tat the text of the word was applauded at the end of the first.

October 16 Dr. Matthews, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Bessemer, spoke on "Why We Go to College."

"Some people go to college for a good time," said Dr. Matthews, "but the primal reason is to learn to think clearly, a cacurately, a nd. quickly Years ago men were successful bed cause of physical strength. Enemy Camps

The Birmingham Southern Panthers returned from New Orleans after throwing a scare into the S. C. Champions and have settled down to a week's work preparatory to meeting their first S. I. A. A. foe tomorrow. Spring Hill look's impressive as they held the Vandy Commodores to 27-6. Vandy has recently trounced Minnesota who in turn tied Stanford. So this gives the Hillians a very good rating in their scrap with the Panthers.

Auburn looked extremely good in holding Georgia Tech 14-12, after having the lead at the half, 12-0. This looks like a real comeback.

Chattanooga seems to have risen from a deep sleep and trounced Mer-cer 8-6. A sllm margin, but enough to spell victory nevertheless. Mississippi College looks mighty good in trouncing Louisiana Poiy 39-0.

This might give the Panthers some thing to think about in a coupie of three weeks. These boys also trlm-med Misslsslppi A. & M. a few weeks

Howard attracted attention in holding Duquesne, 14-9. Howard threatened seriously but were nosed out by the eastern eleven.

DEBATE TRY-OUTS HELD

Tryouts for positions on the school debating team were held Thursday afternoon and Thursday night. Several students appeared at the tryouts and secured places on the squad. The full announcement of the membership of the team has not been announced as another elimination will be held next Tuesday night at 7.30 and Wednesday afternoon at 1:30. Prospects for the team seem very well with several debates already scheduled, and work will begin soon for the season's grind.

Tryouts will be held at this same time for the freshmen. The rat squad looks unusually good with several all-state men on the list.

On the cleanest lockerroom floor you'll catch the germ of "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

You don't have to make any one of the teams to have "Athlete's Foot." The glee club probably has some victims. The man who gets all his exercise out of differential calculus, not to mention the "crammer" and the "plugger," may be wondering about that redness between the toes, with i-t-c-h-i-ng. Or it may show up with a thick, most skin condition. Or again, with tiny blisters on toes, or a dryness with scales.

This tiny parasite of the vegetable kingdom has infected about half the men in college, and in the second straight of the seco about half the men in college, according to many authorities. The U.S. Health Service reports that "at least half of all adults suffer from it at some time." Universities as far apart as California and Pennsylvania have found 50% of the men infected. And the co-eds get it too. Little tinea trichophyton has made itself a campus pest.

where we all go for cleanliness and health—on the edges of swimming pools and showers—in gymnasiums—on locker-and dressing room floors. In spite of modern sanitation (you have to boil socks 15 minutes to kill it) this fungus parasite infects and re-infects bare feet almost any time they come in contact with time they come in contact with damp floors.

A curious condition is apparent on the Hilltop. Almost $3,000 is being quite thoughtlessly spent for no good reason at all. That is, a thrifty crowd of students are putting out the money for an annual for which they seem to have no particular enthusiasm. Sometime in the spring when La Revue appears, the Editors of the publication come in for the razz because the book isn't "worthy of Southern", isn't "what it ought to be"—all the old blues line A glance at any year book is enough to see wherein lies a majority of its success—pictures of the student body. All an editor's art and ability are lost if he has no photos to make the annual complete. Individual interest is awakened only by having one's own likeness in the book.

At present only a pitiful handful have visited the De Luxe Studio. Jack Cooke exhibits annuals from the larger schools where the students to a man co-operate in posing for the photographer. Jack laments the poor showing at Southern.

In other words, no pictures, no annual!

From the Mouths of Babes

That there is a growing demand for intra mural athletics at Southern was demonstrated Wednesday afternoon when the pledges of two fraternities on their own initiative planned and played a rather scrappy footballf game in the Bowl. These boys were backed by a group of men students who have been clamoring for inter class contests.

by a group of men students who have been clamoring for inter class contests.

Through no fault of the administration, perhaps, no steps have been taken in this direction. Probably no concerted attempt has been made by the students to secure these contests within the school. However, the issue has been put up to this paper and we hope to see intra-mural football appear soon.

Two years ago, a halfhearted effort was made to present such a program as is now suggested. The plan was not given sufficient backing by the athletics department, was not fully organized, and fell through, but not for lack of support by the students.

As demonstrated by numberless other institutions, intra-mural sports are beneficial, cheap, and decidedly interesting to the whole school. Many more men may compete than in varsity competition. Classes become better acquainted, and "spirit" is thereby engendered. The loss of football equipment two years ago in the class games was due to inefficient management and should not be a serious deterrent again.

Next Week

This week chapei program promises to be an interesting as well as educational one. Three faculty members are to speak during the week.

Mr. Hunt has chosen to tell of his experiences in traveling abroad, and to give some interesting facts about Thomas Chatterton. Mr. Hunt will talk Tuesday.

Thursday Dr. Jones has charge of the program. A very interesting discussion is in store.

Dr. Karraker concludes the week's program by speaking on "Historical Advertising." We have an idea he will rival former humorous speakers.

This Mr. "Smear-em-Under" Carter was right there Johnny-on-the-spot. Several times Carter would go through and splil the Badgers for a loss. Carter had the 3pringhillers goat all through the game. When the Badgers would try the other side of the line they would hit just as hard a wall as Big Tucker and Townsend were guarding it faithfully. So the Springhillers had to take to the air.

"Speedy" Varghan kept up his old tricks of getting away from the would-be tacklers and tearing off twenty and thirty yards at a time. In the first period Vaughan carried the pigskin down to the Badgers' ten yard marker.

Pilgreen rammed the Badgers' line several times for good gains. P. G. was off to the promised land in the third stanza but Southern drew a fifteen yard penalty.

You all know who the "Big Blonde Brute" of Birmingham-Southern is, weil he was out of the game on ac-count of injuries but he stayed in there and fought them, he was vamping the fair maidens.

Jimmio James, the star end of Birmingham-Southern, who still has an injured knee, rested Charley Rice in the last frame. Jimmie was in there fighting, but the old knee was calling for sympathy.

Even brain-workers and frat-house fans get "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

YOU don't have to be an athlete to get "Athlete's Foot."
Men who do their daily dozen in the library giving the old bean a big workout; and the boys who big workout; and the boys who do a mental marathon in class but never try for the track—as well as those who really do give their muscles to Alma Mater—any and all are just so much good red meat to the tiny germ which has spread this ringworm infection everywhere. Tinca trichophyton is its name and it's the cause of "Athlete's Foot."

In universities from Pennsyl.

In universities from Pennsylvania to California, it has been found that 50% of the men have it. The U.S. Healt's Service has reported that "at least half of all adults suffer from it at some time." Co-eds are not immune from this trouble, either.

It lurks in the very places where we all go for cleanliness and health—on the edges of swimming pools and showers— in gymnasiums—on lockers and dressing-room floors. In spite of modern sanitation (you have to boil socks 15 minutes to kill it) this fungus parasite infects and re-infects bare feet almost any time they come in contact with damp floors.

Absorbine Jr. kills the "ATHLETE'S FOOT".

Tests in a famous New York "lab" have revealed that Absorbine Jr, penetrates flesh-like tissues deeply and that wherever it penetrates, it KILLS the ringworm germ.

It might not be a bad idea to examine your feet tonight. At the first sign of redness between toes, itching, peeling or blisters, douse on Absorbine Jr., and keep a bottle handy in your locker as a preventive. Tips from the Fashion Market

What modern woman or miss is interested in the Fashion Market! If you're an old friend of this store, you know, if not, you should surely find out, that we're qualified brokers in this fashion market, ready with sure-fire tips. Like any market, there are ups and downs—but you may be sure there's no need for speculation on your part. We advise only on the fashions that are up—and prices are always down—that is, as far down as is consistent with our quality and good merchandising.

Here are a few tips to bear in mind when selecting the Autumn outfit. There are two skirt lengths—below the knee for daytime and way to the floor for evening. Sihouettesl follow chic; body lines both in dresses and coats. Black is everywhere acclaimed as the color and is smartest when relieved with a bit of bright accent. After black comes deep tones of browns, greens, wine-reds. As to hats—"off-the-face" and at a tilt, is the tip regarding them. So remember—be wise—and take a little tip from us.

This long distance jaunt is sponsored each year by Mr. Herston Cooper, an alumnus and former cross-country star of this college, in honor of his mother, who takes great increst in the event. are in good condition and the affray promises to be excellent in every department.

The elevens seem to be well matched, and both have an enviable record so far this season. The S. M. A. boys defeated the Howard rais, 13-0, and this indicates that a scrap will be put up for the game. Southern has defeated Springhill and Chattanoga, the latter defeating Howard, 14-0. And since the Chattanoga victory was 7-0 this gives Southern a 21-point edge over the Howard Frosh. And this in turn gives Southern merely the extra point after touchdown edge over the Moward Frosh. And this in turn gives Southern merely the extra point after touchdown edge over the S. M. A. boys. This doesn't appear to be much, but he way Friner makes the placement kicks, this may be an advantage.

The Rat team is showing up well this year and promise to send up some valuable material to the varsity, especially in the extra point department.

After two heartbreaking defeats in two weeks, the Panther, now with bristled hair, is determined to throw off its jinx and hit fits true stride. The supposedly unfortunate victim is Millsaps, but from the way those boys snowed under the Union eleven, it seems that again the hilltoppers will have quite a job on their hands. The Majors walloped the Union team 48-7, the lone touchdown of the losers being the result of an intercepted pass. Millsaps failed only once out of seven tries for the pointafter-touchdown. This in itself is a great threat to the Panthers. Professor Glenn certainly hit the nail on the head when he said, "Those Millsaps are not such saps as one might think."

The only glaring defect in the strong aggregation from Millsaps has been their apparent inability to check their opponents on the kick-off play. Even their weakest foes seem able to return the kick-off to midfield, and a fast runner might be able to make a touchdown on the first play. The Millsaps line goes like a blue streak for about twenty yards, but in midfield they hesitate, and wait for the ball carrier, who is usually down at (Continued on Page 3)

Birmingham-Southern has suffered a great loss in the death of one of her Alumni, Dr. L. C. Branscomb. We knew him as a trustee and benefactor of the school, who gave liberally time, thought, loyalty and financial aid to his Alma Mater. As an alumnus, he de-lended the principles for which the college stands. As a trustee he was ever interested in those things which would make for a greater, ore progressive institution. As a benefactor he gave liberally to dowment funds that the purposes of Southern might be furthered. He was a true friend, ever ready to share our varied problems.

Macon College, og Ashland, Virginla, the first two days of his visit.

The centennial celebration of Randolph-Macon College took place on Thursday and Friday, October 28 and 24. An alumni luncheon was the midday interest of both days. Thursday afternoon was devoted to class, fraternity and literary society reunions, and tours of the campus and the city. There was an academic procession of officers, official guests, delegates and alumni Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the administration building to the front of the Walter Hines Page Library. Dr. John H. Finiey, of the editorial staff of the New York Times, whom it will be remembered, was our commencement speaker last year, made the main address of the morning. The celebration ended Friday afternoon with a football game—Randolph-Macon versus Lynchburg College.

In order to arouse a little more interest and get in a few more points, the committee decided to introduce as minor sports, volley ball, archery and horseshoes.

Plans are being made to have stakes set up somewhere on the campus. The horshoe stakes ought to give the sun-dial quite a bit of competition. There will also be rifiled, athletically speaking, with hockey, followed by a hot swimming meet and water festical at the B. A. C. Crowning it all, there will be a stuntrack meet, for entertainment, not for competition.

There is at present an intra-mural competitive sports movement at Southern. There will be intra-mural hockey, basketball, baseball, track, volley ball, horseshoeing and arching teams during the year. All co-ed athletes are expected to come out to try out for different teams, and Miss Ransom's hopes are running high for a big year.

At Macon

In a game featured by iong runs numerous passes and dumb football, the Birmingham-Southern Panthers iost their third straight game of the season and their second straight S. I. A. A. game of the year. "Pinky" Walden, the "Toy Express" from Mercer took a fifty yard punt of Captain Blacks early in the second quarter and raced 95 yards through the entire Southern team for a score. The extra point was added and the Panthers went off the field with a one-point lead against them. The final score came when Johnny Cimperman, the Bears Sophomore fullback intercepted a pass and raced some 45 yards for the last counter of the game.

Panthers Outrush Opponents

The Cats with tails between their iegs fought gamely against the Bears and rushed the Baptists off their feet throughout the game but with the intercepted pass went the game. The "meow" lads rolled up some 12 first downs to the Bears' 3, but the old fight was lacking when the ball came down to the last marker. down to the last marker. Pilgreen, the Cats' quarter, made a little but costly mistake down on the goal line when he attempted a pass after a series of first downs that had been run entirely through the fine. This is the first mistake the writer recalls in the captain's judgment of plays and all must remember that this boy was raised at the fullback position and is a made-over quarter. He has played heads-up in the other major tilts and has kept the team fighting all along. He made a mistake but everyone bobbles now and then.

Doster, the diminutive back, was run into the fray and how this boy did step. It was taking three and four men to stop him on every play and with his twisting and turning he was gaining every time he got his hands on the ball. The line showed the lads from feorgia what a line they did have and played beads-up defensively except for the long punt they falled to cover. All's not so quiet on the western front, here in Munger Bowl. Panther supporters and backers are not so well beads with the results of the past tive years or more the Panthers wo weeks of football orgy, displayed the back-yard boys were taking the baif around in the mid-field but they could get into the promised land but once.

Our Motto: Quality and Service!

By Louise Posey
At Williamsburg, Virginia, estands William and Mary College. This is the oldest co-educational college in the world. Girls' school have their place, but for the average girl coeducation is natural and far more beneficial than the cloistered halls of a "Female Seminary."

Preeminent, to most of us, among the activities which only men can bring to a school, is football.

Several nights ago I was clinging to a tence in the last moments of a football game, weak with excitement and near to tears. Those about me and the substitutes were in the same state of mind. Full of a strange feeling of kinship—of comradeship—of being "in the fight." I turned to my girl friend. "Oh Ruth, aren't you glad we're not away at some girls' school missing all of this?"

What "this" was cannot be clearly explained. The social life of the whole world depends upon the mingling of men and women in a congenial, unselfconscious manner. If a girl spends her formative years talk ing to girls, dancing with girls, soling places with girls, will she be prepared to do the same things with men's kgoling cured through novels and "movies."

Competition sharpens wits, but particularly it makes a girl feel the honor of her sex at stake. In a mathematics class the superior attitude of boys is enough to arouse any girl. Science, too, boys consider assigned to them.

A generation or so ago men might talk to women about only trifling matters. Now men and women are con versational equals. They study the same subjects, read the same books, and think along the same line.

The greatest promoter for honest thinking is the school which lets boys and girls think together. Love storles or psychology courses cannot teach a girl the masculine viewpoint. Only actual experience, which the intelligent girl can find daily in her class room discussion, teaches her this. Over-shadowing all of these, co-education gives her a normal attitude toward men. The most dangerous result of girls schools is the strange.

There's a sunny dream a'surging, Like the waves of ocean tide, Over my sub-conscious mind, and Bringing you close to my side.

There I see you face bewitching, Half-hidden by a veil of mist, And I see your lips a 'twitching, Waiting eager to be kissed.

There I feel your arms cares
As we by each other stand;

The ind and Black,
Mr. ingham, Alabama.

Guess it's about time I got the old pen moving to someone down there, from all the letters and papers I'm receiving up here. It sure is great to get some news, believe me, after having been away from the hill since June, 1927. Sure seems a long time! And, since then, a week ago was the first glimpse I'd had of a "Gold and Black". I've done considerable work in the editorial rooms of the New Haven Register, both before and after entering Southern, so it is with genuine interest that I scan your sheet.

From the stories you're running, I guess big doings are expected at that Alumni gathering. I sure wish I were going to be on hand to do' some handshaking; to see old familiar faces again; to get up there and tell 'em just how much the old school means; to do everything up that way because I'd be so darn glad to return. But—I can't make it. There's no one who hates to say that any more than I—it's not easy to say, either.

I expect to get down there, though, sometime along February and will try to give the place a good once-over while there. I'd enjoy that immensely, believe you me!

Perhaps you can't appreciate my wanting to get back there, being an undergraduate, but I hope you do—if you give this letter to the one in charge of operations for the Alumni Homecoming he'l't tell you all about that feeling, even if he doesn't live as far away as I do.

May "The Bells of Old Southern" ring loud and long around

The impressive part was that the words which we, in the basement, saw printed on rolls of paper that were immediately folded into newspapers and sent upstairs to be retailed—those words were the very words which, not ten minutes before, we had seen coming from the linctypes. Mr. Childers made a significant remark: "The speed with which a newspaper works is amazing."

We found the basement a fascinating place. Some of us were especially interested in making the nice mechanics come down off their machines. They simply caught hold of the stair railing, lifted up their feet, and flew down. Catherine Beard and Betty Sutherlin wanted to try it, but decided that their legs were full of bones.

Then we went upstairs to see our picture being finished. We scrambled into the photographer's room. The room was little and dark and the crowd large and uproarious. Rumor has it that two or three saw the photograph; the rest of us saw the little, red lights in the dark room and nothing more.

It was an occal-on of great joy for the Panther backers when Loy Vaughn recovered a fillsap fumble on the Major skryard narker and more reason for celebration when Pilgreen rammed the line or the touch on the next play. This lay ended the first half, but with the esumption of play the Cat machine licked on all eleven.

"Well," he said, "let's back up and start over."

"Suits me. Tell me, though, why does everyone call you Jenks?"

He laughed. "People seem to think it's a bad luck omen or something like that. It's not. I've had that name a long time. Jennings, you know, is really my name. When my brother was about three years old he couldn't say it. He called me Jenks. And the name has stuck."

"Didn't you go to Sewanee?" I asked him.

"I prepped at Sewanee Military Academy. Then I went to Sewanee University."

"And played football there?" I interrupted.

"The boys passed by the door on their way to football practice. Then I remembered my job. It was football interrupted.

Jenks Gillem came hurrying into the book store. He was all curious. Charlie Rice had told him that a fair damsel awaited him. Gillem looked as cound, passed me and asked who had sent for him. Then Charlie introduced me. Mr. Gillem looked disappointed. He was courteous, though, as usual.

"I want to talk to you," I said to him, "about yourselt."

"About me? What for?" he asked.

I smiled. Then said, "because I'm interested."

There were several people in the bookstore. We were all talking. Stories were told in a joking way. Each of us laughed. Mr. Gillem teased Pilgreen about his "family."

"She's brunette," he said. Then someone mentioned an interview.

"Interview me for the Gold and Black?" Gillem saked.

Doster Checks Out
Early in the second quarter the Majors scored as a result of their one and only first down on a 15-yard sprint by "Little Goat" Hale around left end. The Panthers came back however and though held for downs recovered a fumbled punt on the Milsaps two-yard line from where Pilgreen went over-for the first Methodist score. Blanton failed to kick goal and the score was tied at the half. The first half was full of thrills. Time and again this shifty little Hale would take the ball deep into the Panther's territory only to have the ball brought back out.

By Sarah Alice Mayfield

The Home Coming . . . giant pep meeting that follows . . . great joint parade tomorrow morning . . . terminated by the spectacular football game with Howard College . . great, stirring epochs of history . . . all of the past four weeks the Gold and Black has been splashed with word pictures of these events. But the paint brushes were in the hands of amateurs who had not sensed or even glimpsed the true spirit of these events which dawn upon us ever as this edition goes to press.

Know ye a student, even upon our own campus, who can adequately proving the glamor, the brilliancy, the full sweeping tide of enthusiasm that will run free this very night at the Home Coming Banquet? Breathes there an aspiring journalist who, with all the lavishness of his pen, can even approach the tenseness, the electrifying thrill, the inevitable excitement of the Southern-Howard football game? Words are innane and superfluous when one endeavors to convey to a reading student body the most glamorous of school year events—that GAME.

With only two weeks to go in preparation for the biggest debate of the year, with Cambridge University, the weekly meetings are being held under the direction of Mr. Evans, and with the date drawing near it is expeciency they have installed withing auditorium. Golden streamers, teksprounds of black, panther heads, biden chrysanthenums, enormous tills of gold and black, floating, hovering, gracefully dancing above the bannet tables—these and many more are cluded in the stage "fixtures" for greatest of all Birmingham-Southm Home-Comlings.

Stunts, bright lights, song, laughter, teers, yells, brief speeches concocted om the fertile brains of our coaches did school president, measure upon easure of rhythmic music coming om the band, the quartet, the banteters themselves—all these and uch in addition will make the proam for the banquet the best remember of the college's history.

One consolation to the student body Birmingham-Southern—there is no SOLD OUT" shingle in Munger Bowl. You can't miss! 1216g, a forty-piece band going at full ast, spewing, sputtering Roman canes, and the flare of the city's best works? Can you get a mental picre of this ensemble? Then you'vest begun to get an idea of what will ality go on from $3:30 to? tonight in lunger Bowl. East Lakers Boast Good Season's Record; Show Offensive Strength In All Games. Sweeney, Davis, Bon-durant Are Mainstays

By McCoy Mays

With their guns loaded and the hobnailed shoes shined the Panther from the Hilltop is ready for the Battle of the Marne. Though a number of the first-stringers have been watching the rough work of the scrimmage from the sidelines because of a recent invasion of bolls and charlie horses, the squad with the possible exception of Tucker and O'Neil, is ready for their real test of the year. With blood in their eyes from three S. I. A. A. losses of the year the Methodists can already see red and blue. Scrimmages and signal drills have been the order of the week. The coaches have been dishing out the regular plays as they are not taking any chances with a new system that would prove unstable at a tragic moment.

"Doc" Newton, freshman mentor, has been working his frosh hard the past week and has his eleven in good shape for the "little Howard-Southern" game. The Bullpups will present an extremely light but an exceptionally fast team against the Cubs.

Coach Newton has given his team a bunch of new signals which worked perfectly against the Bowden team. Hickman Ewing, halfback, was running in great style and got off for several nice gains through the heavy Bowden line. Webster, at fullback, is a great tackler and blocker, besides being a human battering ram. Capt. Hulsey and Fontelle both are excellent broken field artists and can be depended upon to do their share in the defeat of the Cubs. These backfield

It was back in 1923 the Rats defeated the Howardites for the first time in the history of the schools. In 1929 yearlings fought for a draw, and the task is up to this year's frosh to annex another victory from the traditional foes.

The Howard first year men will be hampered somewhat by injuries but will offer stiff opposition as usual, when the most important game of the year is on.

when the most important game of the year is on.

The Gold and Black boys will enter the fracas with every man available for duty if needed. Coaches Englebert and Fullbright have moulded together a combination which has tasted defeat only once this year.

The first game of the year saw the Cubs battle the highly touted Auburn Rats to a 0-0 draw. The following game the Spring Hill Rats invaded the Magic City only to be subdued by the Panther Bables' feroclous attack, 26-0. The next opposition for the "Rats" found the Chattanooga Frosh as opponents.

And after a hard-fought tussel, the Hilltop emerged with a 7-0 victory. It was the following week-end that found the Southerners taking the count for the first time this season, the strong S. M. A. Cadets bowled them over to the tune of 12-0. The Frosh are now anxious to resume the winning streak haited by the S. M. A. team, and will go out Friday afternoon with the purpose of bringing back a victory from the ancient rivals.

Battle and Richardson will get the call at the terminals and are capable of bolding them down in satisfactory manner. At tackles will be found the dependable pair, Hand and McFarland. Two husky chaps will be found at guards in Salmon and Warner. Captain Quinn will lead the team at pivot position.

In the rear-works will be found Jimmie Jones at quarterback, who is capabel of directing the team in a spectacular manner. At the halves will be Smith and Johnson, a couple of hardrunning backs. Johnson is the best defense man on the team besides doing he punting assignment. Briner, the boy who kicks the extra point and field goals, besides doing his share of lugging the pigskin like a "Suther," will be found at full. Bronw and Waller should also see much service in the backfield, along with Hill, Roberts and Norris in the line.

The only difference happens to be in points after touchdowns, and let's don't talk about that particular thing just now.

Aside from that comparison the only other thing is that both teams have been in and outers, playing over a spotty schedule and losing to teams that they should have won from and winning from teams that appeared to have the edge in pre-game dope. Southers gave the Tulane and Auburn backers a scare and wiped the Milisap Majors off the football map. Howard rose to great heights to defeat S. M. U. and held the Pittsburgh team to a close decision in the Quaker City. But this dope, what little there is of it, is worth exactly nothing when the two teams get to battling up and down the field next Saturday. The thing that counts is, which team gets the breaks and what they are going to do about making the breaks count. Choctaws Defeat Panthers With Blocked Punt

Black and Mann Resume Posts -Both Coaches Start Second Teams

Another football game went into the fire November 15 when the Birmingham-Southern Panthers were almost drowned on the swampy Provine field in Clinton, Mississippi. When the final whistle blew, the Choctaws of Mississippi college paddled off the field victorious. The score was 6-0.

Mississippi's lone touchdown was made early in the second quarter when Young blocked a Panther punt which was recovered by Reno behind the goal line. In the same period, this same Young almost blocked another Southern punt; but he barely missed it, and the ball rolled back into the field of play.

Birmingham-Southern's greatest drive came in the last few minutes of play, Pilgreen broke loose past the Choctaw team and headed toward the goal line, but as he reached the tenyard line, he fumbled and the ball rolled out on the eleven yard stripe. In four downs Southern made only eight yards, and the ball went over to Mississippi, who punted out of danger.

The Panthers threatened even in the first quarter, when an exchange of punts, and some excellent driving by Summerford placed the ball on the seventeen yard line. Here, however, the Panthers seemed to lack the necessary vim to push th ball by the stubborn Choctaw line.

Welcome Home!

The annual trek back to Southern at Homecoming time brings grads of bygone days, to whom the undergrads of today say a hearty "Hello." For forty-eight hours we bid you discard your cares and worries, let the god of fun reign supreme, and live again your days here at Birmingham College or old S. U.

Homecoming at Birmingham-Southern! The school doesn't look the same any more; time and progress have left their stamp on her campus. Where frame structures and buildings of ancient on her campus. Where frame structures and buildings of ancient brick once stood, ornamental and modern halls now cap the hilltop. The quadrangle has become one in more than name alone; the underbrush on the outer domain has been cleared away, leaving parklands with paths whose carpet of autumn leaves is rumpled by col-

Halycon Days On the Hill

Editor, The Gold and Black,

Editor, The Gold and Black,
Birmingham-Southern.

Dear Sir:

I have been reading with much interest and pleasure several copies of the Gold and Black, and with all the more pleasure as I was formerly one of the editors of the old "Southern University Monthly".

That was back, of course, in the more or less "halcyon days" of yore, but they were by no means excessively halcyon when they brought Latin and Greek prose composition; the more or less charming "Analyts" and the struggles to solve the intricacies of the "Witch of Agnesi", in the realms of the Calculus.

Sorrowfully, and with the very greatest respect to womankind in general, be it said, that contraption was fabricated by a woman. The women are usually gentle, tender-minded, kind-hearted and merciful. Maybe she also was—outside the realm of Math.

Those were the days when so many of the men who since have left their impress on Alabama and other states, and always in the most brotherly emulation, were contending over the respective merits of the Clarisophic and Belles-Lettres literary societies, and in three years at the old S. U. I can recall only one student who was not a member of one or the other. The training in them was invaluable to many a man now known as a speaker and parliamentarian.

After this lapse of years (A.B. 1888 and A.M. 1891) I most heartily confess that I believe now—and most really and truly believed then, although possibly not mentioning it so openly—that the Belles-Lettres was equally as good as the Clario, and so best wishes to them both. The fraternity days also are not forgotten, and with the very best wishes to all, I still think that royal purple and old gold form a nice combination.

I see a call for the alumni to gather at Birmingham-Southern November 21, and should like very much to be there, but owing to the date none of the alumni who belong to the Alabama Conference can attend, as their annual conference meets in Mobile November 19 for a session of about five days.

Yours truly,
Jas. M. Glenn, '88.

Southern has two excellent punters this year in "Pedro" Black and Roy Jackson. Their trusty toes should be a great aid in the "Battle of Marne" as Howard is very weak this year in the punting department.

A man who can be depended on to make points after touchdown is greatly needed by Coach Gillem. Blanton seems to be the best dropkicker, while Carraway is best from placement. Southern has lost several games by a one-point margin.

"Jiffy" Doster decored two touchdowns last Saturday against his former teammates, the Marion Cadets.

Co-Captain Pilgren, so far, has shown great generalship on the gridfon. The team has been run well and not a flaw can be found in his leadership.

Tucker is playing a whale of agame at guard this year. He was formerly a backfield man but has added great strength to the Gold and Black line.

In the last quarter the "Bionde Brute" limped in to pass a perfect ball which was punted 60 yards.

"Jimmie" James fought an unusually good battle with the line. He gained several feet for Southern by stretch-ing the line.

Much havoc was raised by the team the night before the game. They all slept in one room. Imagine 30 boys in one room trying to sleep and you have a young war clearly pictured.

Southern suffered no injuries in game. All the squad is ready raring to take Howard next.

The shock troops seemed able to hold the Mississippi bunch, but a break gave Mississippi College their only touchdown in the second quarter of the frame.

The Southern coaches tried a new one. The second team started the game, and a god game was played by all.

Letters To The Editor

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

In reading about the good ship LaRevue, I noticed that sailorettes were lacking. Now how can this LaRevue be a good chip without women?

Women always proved to be the most worthy guides of life, love and everything. Why not ships?

Mr. Editor, I think something ought to be done about this deplorable situation. When our LaRevue comes in next spring we want to find spices of style, pep and life in her cargo, not cut and dried facts.

Only the work of a woman can give LaRevue the much needed touching up. Again I say that girls abould have something to do with LaRevue.
Why not have some of the crew feminine?

First Intercollegiate Contest Held On Spot Of Modern Replica

As a part of the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the city of New Brurswick, N. J.. 56 Rutgers students will replay the famous Rutger-Princeton battle of 1859, the first intercollegiate football game ever staged. This noved grid tilt will take place on Nellson Field, which is less than a hundred yards from College Field, the scene of the first encounter.

The rules that governed the original game will be used and the spectators as well as the players will be dressed in the costumes of 1869. In those days the teams were a great deal larger than they are today, so 25 men will play on each side. Two members of each team were selected to play immediately in front of the opponent's goal, these men being known as the captalns of the enemy's goal.

The remainder of the team was divided into two groups, one of which was assigned to certain parts of the field which they were to cover and were not to leave. They were known as "fielders." "HILLTOP IN NOVEMBER"

IT'S November now, and the aspect of the campus seems rather different. It's more attractive now. Gone is the languor caused by the September heat (not that Southern students could be indolent), and it is really entrancing to behold. Books don't seem to be quite so heavy, and people have stride that fairly shouts of enthusiasm. abandoned that lagging step for a in the afternoon there is football practice in Munger Bowl, and the black and gold of the aweaters make a dash of color on the scene.

The trees are beginning to change, but the grass remains quite green and with the blue of the sky, Nature appears quite dazzlingly brilliant. Down in the Students' Activity Building we hear sounds that Indicate a "pep meeting," sure sign of fall and football season. It sounds too enthusiastic for words. Yes, considering everything, we can't think of any place we'd rather be than Hilltop in October.

BAN ON FRAT WARS

BAN ON FRAT WARS

The fraternities of New Mexico University have adopted a Round Robin plan of exchanging dinner guests. Two pledges and an active from each chapter are dinner guests every Wednesday evening at the various frat houses. The consensus of opinion is that aithough there is no material advantage, the plan will create a spirit of friendliness and cooperation, bring freshmen together and do away with much of the antagonism between fraternities. One of the frat men suggests that the sororities be included for the improvement of men's table manners.

THERE is a Professor of English on the Hill who, several years ago, had no intention whatsoever of educating "Rats."

A rose bud grew on a slender stem—Smiling and laughing, and cheering them as they walked within her range of view.

"Rats."

He wanted to be a farmer. Visions floated before him: acres and acres of fertile land dotted here and there with contented stock; great fields of cotton bursting into whiteness; and his hobby—a large kennel of fine blooded dogs.

Luckly for the Southern Frosh fate

tunate his dreams were thwarted. There's a chance that down on his farm he may never have met the charming young lady who now bears

As they walked within her range of view,
Sweet, bright, tender with dew.
She smiled at all who came her way Until an angel passed one day
And thought 'twould make a gift rare
To give the Savior a rose so fair.
So, ere she'd fully bloomed, he cut the rose,
And took it to Heaven, leaving those Who passed that way to wonder why
Their flower'd been taken to the sky.
But in her sweet and simple way
That rose had so fulfilled her day
That tho, gone from sight her love remained,
Pure, tender, and unstained.
And continued to influence those
At whom she'd smiled; and who knows
But that in God's great plan,
Untathomed by the mind of man,
She should play her simple part

He shut his eyes, threw up his gloved hand, and uttered a short rayer. The ball struck the glove, stuck a moment, then fell to earth. He was taken out immediately. His wife was put in his place.

To know Professor Hunt outside his class room is, indeed, a pleasure. He retains the dignity of his vocation and at the same time allows his affableness a little more freedom. He is a man one may meet and talk to for a few minutes, then spend an hour wondering about him.

The Professor was in London this summer. He used much of his time visiting the city's famous dog kennels. The trip may have been made for that purpose. Such a trick wouldn't surprise those who know him.

This complaisant individual posseseses an incredibly optimistic view of life. He was asked if he had any hardships during his college days. His startling reply was: "No, I was fortunate. I got a job washing dishes and waiting on table."

He came to Birmingham-Southern two years ago with six successful terms of teaching behind him. If he is as pleased with Southern as we are with him, he'll stick around.

And leave upon a score of hearts That which would awake anew The light that in her life shown true As Samson, though he never knew, as Samson, though he never knew, The light that in her life shown true As Samson, though he never knew, Ind is greatest ask and ded too. By Geo, S. Leonard
A long ways back there was a war in Europe and the only news of like Importance was the grafting of Southern University of Greensborb and Birmingham College at you guess where. Anyway this event was so momentuous that it wasn't long before they stopped the war, as it was losing it's consumer interest, and turned to an annual Southern-Howard game as an outlet for their more primitive emotions.

Oddly enough each side wanted to win. In this unnatural state of affairs excessive zeal was shown in casting mud and epithets most ungentlemanly. Anyway, Southern took their boys out of kaki and dropped them into old sweaters and told them to beat Howard. After one week of cofficing by their left tackle who was also captain, they drubbed Howard to the sweat aria of 28-14. They went ahead and beat Camp Clinton the next week and called it a year. Those were the balmy days when snow covered the campus to quite a depth, when Prof. Coulette was a letter man in track, editorinchelief of La Revue, president of this, that and the other thing and generally big mugwump of the campus. U. S. Pitts, the new pastor at McCoy Memorial was class editor under him and quite big doings on his on his own account. We had eighteen co-eds and how!

The next year all the football players stood around and watched Anternal of 26th and the charge of a definite group, and the charge of a definite group, and the charge of a definite group, and the charge of a definite group.

how! We had eighteen co-eds and how! The next year all the football players stood around and watched Andrews Hall being built and it ruined their playing so that the Bull-Dogs wrecked us, 2-0. "Sig" Lewie was captain and mainstay.

Down in the fall of '20 we had a man that was recommended for All-Southers because of his ability as a punter and all-around man, Eddie Lewis, captain and individual star. Due to his playing and the roars of the Panther we trimmed our old enemy by seven points, 14-7.

Along came the fall of '21 before you could say scat and we find Mfke Norton captain and our noble Bursar, "Red" Yeliding, manager. Ben Englebert, that able mathematicleian, was a coming forward on the baskethall and the state of the compulsory acrobatics as "sily and childeh."

But hazing is still far from a lost committee in enforcing freshman customs. Which means that freshman rules are under the charge of a definite group, and the reshman truels are under the charge of a definite group, and t mounces the time-honored green caps and compulsory acrobatics as "siliy and childheh."

But hazing is still far from a lost art. At Park College, "originality and humiliation" are still the purpose of the freshman rules. "The Trojan" (University of Southern California) describes "some new and particularly effective ways of making the frosh respect their university," ranging from freshman tree-sitting contests to removing painted remarks from the sidewalks with only "bricks and elbowgrease." At Creighton, the freshman wears a green cap with a bright red bill; at the University of Wichita, garters with socks that do not match. The student in Holland who is a candidate for one of the University corps must shave has head and enter his clubroom by the window. The new corps member, needless to say, is easily recognizable for several months. An interesting device for helping the bewildered newcomer is the "Harvard Crimson's" Confidential Guide to Conraes, which is a really frank appraisal from the student's viewpoint, of the value and interest of various fields of study. As a "Grimson" editorial puts it, "The faculty is amply represented in the catalogue and the various conferences with instructors... This is a defined undergrad opinion. It offers a means of ascertaining just how well the various instructors. Complish their aims as teachers." One has a mental picture of the Harvard faculty peering in trepidation at the "Crimson's very outspoken comments" 23 around November was a big time for all concerned. We tled Howard,

Co-Ed Football Team Headed By Posey Loses Grid Battle Campus Pastors Honor Ba

It seems as if the co-eds are busying themselves digging up something ned and unusual. This time it took the form of one of the most exciting football games on record—a trailer on preview of the Southern-Howard game, as it were. The schools represented were Southern and Southern. Since all orange rompers look like all other orange rompers, the team captained by Louise Posey added black ties to tell themselves apart. Even at that, what promised to be an 80-yard run by Emily Head was stopped by one of her own mates. Cotten's team, the Padookas, came through victorious over Posey's Kalamazoos after a hot battle, with the score 6-0.

On Cotten's team were: Sarah Adolphus, Alemedo Bellah, Edith Black, Margaret Cotten, Kathryn Freeman, Lavinia Joiner, Sarah Minick, Margaret Peterson, Smith, Marjory Solomon, Esther Vaughan, Christine Zeiger.

On Posey's team were: Alice Bar-mon, Esther Vaughan, Christine ger.

On Posey's team were: Alice Barton, Cathleen Ezell, Margy Mangus, Caroline McKay, Polly Paul, Chrystobel Powell, Margaret Waite, Mary Williams, Emily Head.
This is Southern's first real touch-football match played by co-eds, but everyone is clamoring for more. So, in response to popular demand, Cotten and Posey promise a return engagement of their crack teams after Thanksgiving.
If you see any lame on butched co-eds floating around the campus, it is not Panther-Buildog pre-spirits, but co-ed athletics.

Having successfully annihilated the Howard jinx in the last game on the 1930 football schedule, the attention of the athletic department is now turned to developing a strong quintet. Captain Coy Summerford, forward: "Pedro" Black, cener, and crip shot artist; and Jack McCullough, running guard, are three letter men who will represent the Panthers on the basketball court for the last season. Gillem's Men Get Decisive Victory At Colorful Spectacle

The greatest game of the year ended Saturday on Legion Fleld when the Southern Panthers, led by Old Man Law of Average, pricked their ears, ruffled their smooth, silck skin, and made the fearless Howard Bulldogs leave the fold with his bristle torn and smothered, and a 13 to 7 defeat gnawing at his lips.

After taking the lead early in the game, Howard was forced to play defensive football and watch Southern roll up a fatal six-point margin. A beautiful pass from Ed Sweeney to Herman Clark netted the East Side boys their touchdown, and Tom Bondurant added the extra point from placement kick.

"Speedy" is a great ball carrier and can really pick up those heels. He is probably the fastest man on the team and therefore does most of the runing of the ends. He is a shifty player and a dandy broken field runner. In every game this year he has stepped off several long runs, and passed the Panthers to victory over the Buildogs.
Ellis Townsend got the best game of the season out of his system against Howard. Townsend weighs 182 pounds and is a veteran forward.

War-Pots Simmer Over
Peace Flames

(N. F. S. A. News Service)

The annual cry for peace that arises with the opening of the college year has once more begun. A practice that is soon to become a tradition, every year new provisions are made to disseminate anti-chauvenistic feelings among university and college students. This year three universities received the Fidac Peace Medal for "distinguished accomplishment in the cause of peace," and at the same time. Columbia has announced a new course in "Education and International Problems and Values" to promote an understanding of the methods of obtaining world peace.

On the heels of this comes the announcement that several American diplomats are convinced that another. European war is brewing. They attempt to soften these dire prognostications with the plous opinion that the United States will never be drawn into such a conflict excepting to "protect her honor."

The same futility that has attended all academic discussion of war problems will apparently be the fate of the present optimistic gestures. Italy rattles her sword under the nose of France, who retaliates with ostentatious war games on the Italian borber. Germany and Russia too Induige in their share of blustering. From all external appearances, Europe will again be shocked with the news that the cannons are again roaring. The aspect is not a cheerful one, yet it seems inevitable in these times when even disarmament conferences almost end in a war.—From the Harvard Crimson,

Y. M. C. A. Delegates Make Trip To Tuscaloosa Meet

Bright and early that Friday morning we jerked on our overcoats and before 10:00 we rolled into Tuscaloosa. There were five of us who obtained excuses from classes in order to get in on the excursion. Howard Moreland, Ross Rush, Robert Westbrook, David Hutto and Roy Blocker were all in Tuscaloosa feeling fine. Alabama, Auburn, Jacksonville, Fforence and Howard let us know that they have "Y's" too. Each sent a few samples.

Our programs and discussion meetings were good and the banquet Friday night was swell. We not only sat and listened to a lot of things about the "Y", but we also learned a few new jokes as well.

We learned that Mr. Orwin McGill, retiring Southern Region "Y" Director, has gone to China to direct "Y" work there. Mr. Claud Nelson was right proud of it; for he got Mr. McGill's job as Southern Region Director.

Chapel Programs as We Like Them

Only an exceptional chapel program could hope to hold student attendance near par the week before the annual "Battle of the Marne." Only a very exceptional speaker could be expected to draw the students from their campus courses on a day when compulsory chapel regulations are not in force. Yet Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefanson not only played the course in par but also rivalled Bobby Jones in drawing power. For three days there was standing room only in an auditorium accustomed to present-gaping rows of empty seats to the platform.

not only played the course in particular and adaptive in an auditorium accustomed to present-gaping rows of empty seats to the platform.

The week before, the administration presented Dr. Robert Southwick, noted Shakespearian actor and authority, who held the students quiet and attentive for an hour and a half—just three times the length of the ordinary program.

Students are human, contrary to common opinion. They want their inspiration and instruction spiced with entertainment. If it must be taken straight, as so often happens, there can be no criticism for excessive chapel cuts. While purely inspirational talks and excursions into the realm of spiritual life are all right occasionally it is only a real martyr or a Rotarian who can listen to them two or three times a week and derive any real benefit from them.

Compulsory chapel has made many enemies on the hill, because the programs students were forced to attend were prototypes of the sermons they hear on Sunday and the success articles they have thrust upon them from every side.

We understand the difficulties faced in doing away with this, the substitution of entertaining yet instructive and inspirational programs for the general run of chapel presentations is certainly difficult. But if Dr. Snavely and his program committee continues the good work they have started in presenting for the past few weeks subjects of broad interest chapel services will fulfill the purpose for which they were begun—gathering the students and faculty together in fellowship for a brief respite from class work.

Unfolding Flowers

By Mary Edwards

"WHEREVER we strayed, some tranquil leisure enfolded us; day followed day in an order unbroken and peaceful as the unfolding of the flowers and the silent march of the stars. Time no longer ran like the few sands in a delicate hour-glass held by a fragile hand, but like a majestic river fed by the fathomless sea. . . We gave ourselves up to the sweetness of that unmeasured life, without thought of yesterday or tomorrow; we drank the cup today held to our lips, and knew that so long as we were athirst that draught would not be defined us."

The vitality of a soul is like the growth of a flower. The unfolding of a bud is gradual until it reaches the state of perfect development, and to moure complete development, and to moure complete development, nourshament is a necessity.

A student, like a flower, is fed by stamosphere and food. When a student enters college, he is nourished with the atmosphere of the institution which he attends, and the influence of both teachers and pupils. Here he is fed in the fathomless sears of knowledge. The student finds all branches of work from which he may lelect something that will suit his initividual tastes and needs.

Browning speaks of eating ortolans in Italy and that "their after-taste" is elicious. The romance behind a lourse in Latin or Greek carries the student in a classic world of fadeless plendor, where beauty, law, and menal renown takes intelligent men and women will never willingly forget. Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

Birmingham-Southern has been accused a lot of times for its lack of real spirit. Various reasons have been given as to why the so-called spirit has been absent. It must be realized from the first a school that has seventy-five per cent of its students, town students, is under a heavy handicap to start off with. In the past even hese town students have been divided into their several factions; the frats, non-frats, the sororities and the non-sorority groups. Each section of town has sent its students to Southern and these sections have had very little to do with each other. Now take even the twenty-five per cent of the students that stay out at school the year round. These have in the past been divided into the frats and the non-frats with not an over abundance of fellowship being noted.

I didn't mean to get personal, but I will have to, to get over my point. I've been a cheer leader seven years, and I've never seen a student body with the spirit, the will, and determition to win like the Southern student body had last Saturday. Town students were popping resident students on the back, frat men were yelling side by side with non-frat men, sorority girls

The alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta entertained the active chapter and pledges at a banquet at the Thomas Jefferson celebrating Founder's Day. A Founder's Day ceremony was also held in the Gamma Phi rooms by the active chapter. Quite a few alumnae came as guess of the chapter.

Miss Marie Harrison and Miss Gladys Turner recently made a short but profitable trip to the University city. However, they have returned without mishap and are now in regular attendance at their classes.

The active chapter and pledges of Gamma Phi Beta were entertained at luncheon at Britling's Saturday before the Southern-Howard game.

Miss Francena Hamilton and Miss Loulie Jean Norman, two eminent pledges of Gamma Phi Beta, were reported seen near the Howard campus late Saturday evening. They escaped injury, however, and returned with all their hair.

In the same period he circled left end for a gain of 35 yards. Southern took to the air in the fourth quarter and changed the array of the lights. Waller, a substitute halfback, flipped the oval into the waiting arms of George Briner seventeen yards away. This brought the ball to Howard's 33 yard stripe. After one buck, Southern again took to the air. Again Waller shot the ball through the conne. Richson brought it to rest over the scoring stripe. Briner's try at placement was blocked by a mass of bullpups that eked their way through Southern intety-eight yards from four passes that were completed out of the 14 tried. Howard's aerial attack was not so successful. Out of the five passes that were completed out of the 14 tried. Howard's aerial attack was not so successful. The annual Howard-Southern footgreen, of Southern, met in the center

Punts Begin To Shower

A series of punts by Sweeney and Black kept the ball floating high above the wet, soggy field, until the young Irishman, Sweeney, sent one sailing far behind the safety-man to net Howard 56 yards and an edge on the Southern punter, Black. Then Eddie, the smartest football player on the field, faked a punt, then ran to his right as if to circle the end, stopped, paused a moment, then flipped the oval into the hands of Herman Clark, who leaped into the air to make the catch, and ran unmolested for 40 yards to cross the final white stripe.

The Bulldogs were fighting hard.

The Bulldogs were fighting hard, neir blocking for Clark being superb, a well as Clark's running being the ay's most thrilling run, with the expeption of one Sweeney made late in the last period. Howard kicked off to outhern as the first quarter ended.

Passing Attack

Sweeney got off a bad punt, netting only 28 yards, and the Panthers came back with a score. With a 15-yard penalty placing the ball on the one-yard marker, Pilgreen carried the oval Hargrove, was good for 10 and another first down. Sweeney to keep the ball on the next play and gained eight more yards. Estes failed to gain, so Sweeney shifted off tackle for two good yards. This marked the end of Howard's gaining for the day, Sweeney punted down the field to Vaughn, who fumbled, and Hargrove flopped on it. The Howard captain was rounding out his athletic career in the greatest of form. A moment later Southern was forced to kick after being penalized 15 yards. Bullard and Estes lost 10 yards and then Sweeney ran the ball back 12. Sweeney punted to Southern's 36-yard line, where it lay until the whistle blew.

Sixteen candidates for varsity berths answered Coach Englebert's premier coil call for the 1930 cage season. Keen competition for all the positions seems to be the order of the day. Varsity men will undoubtedly find rough sledding in trying to keep their regular places. The return of Brant Currie, letter man of year before last, has raised the number of letter men.

Currie, letter man of year before last, has raised the number of letter men to five.

Coach Englebert has used the first week's practice for drilling his boys in the fundamentals of blocking opponents and passing the ball. A few limbering-up exercises have also been included in the first week's menu. The schedule has not been fully completed, but a game with the Auburn Tiger cagemen is scheduled shortly before the Christmas holidays. The local basketeers have little more than two weeks to prepare for the feline invasion from the plains. Next week should see work begin in earnest. Daily scrimmages will be added to the program of fundamental instruction. Captain Summerford, Black, Waller, Currie and McCullough are the returning letter men. Jackson, sophomore football player, is vieing with Black for the right to play center. Holt, Wright, Allbrooks, Balbanos, Whitesides and Gay, all Freshman numeral men, are pushing the first stringers for a place on the squad. Miller, Vaughn and Cranford complete the list of candidates. Experience, A Great Teacher

Experience, A Great Teacher

By David Hutto

We May sit at the feet of the most lack the very essence of life, experience. Dante said, "Give light and the people will find their own way." Experience is the method we use in finding out way after we have seen the light of hope, ambition, achievement.

Experience is an unseen maker of men. Its force is felt, but it cannot be seen, neither can one tell just when its influence is first felt. It is an unheralded architect of character. Whether we admit it or not, our experiences are molding character for us every minute of our existence.

Experience never sleeps on the job. We may find ourselves nodding under the spell of a dry lecture or the boresomeness of the routine task of the day, but the demon experience is still on the job. He works while we sleep, finding tasks for our hands and minds to do.

Experience never slights a task. We may think we are getting by with a shoddy job, but sometime, somewhere experience lis going to point out our failure. Experience always scores a point for or against us. It never lets us get by without being better or worse for having come in contact with him.

Experience never tins a task over to some one else. The secret of the force of experience is the selfish per severance. It is always looking for something to do itself, not something, that it might give to any one else. Let us be mindful of this fact, and not pass on to others' tasks we ought to do.

When the formal lessons of the day have been done, experience goes on with its endiess work. Faithful to the door of shaping the soul of childhood and youth. When school is out, experience alone goes with us to our well and the people of the force of experience goes on with its endiess work. Faithful to the top of shaping the soul of childhood and youth. When school is out, experience alone goes with us to our well and the people of the force of experience goes on with its endies work. Faithful to the top of the people of the force of experience goes on with its endies work. Faithf

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Have you noticed how interested

Have you noticed how interested the girls seem to be in athletics this year? Only today I heard a group talking about the interest that is being taken in tennis. One of my friends who is on the Athletic Council told me that at least half a dozen girls had told her they did not get to enter the fall tournament but they surely were going to enter the one in the spring.

The very next morning I saw two very interesting sets being played. Girls athletics are coming "into their own" at Birmingham-Southern. I am glad my attention has been called to this fact. Congratulations, girls!

By Geo. S. Leonard

Over this glorious week-end the dear precincts of Andrews have suffered from a great exodus, to the farthest reaches of the state, to the most silent purileus of Montevallo, to woodlands and to the fields. North, South, East and West the endless string has pursued it's way. On to home.

Waller and Gladdir, noisemakers of the ground floor, wended their way homeward to Waverly. They returned in the car of a certain Mr. Orr. S-s-h a secret. We have on very dependable authority that Wylie Waller is known in his home town as Mose. If you don't believe us, ask him.

"Speedy" Bowers, oversize roommate of Carl Neal, tripped the light fantastic to Gadsden. Believe it or not, he returned.

A great caravan trekked it's way to the tall tmibers. Back where men are men and moonshine is not an astronomical term. The impressive reaches of Sand Mountain saw nothing impressive in the homecoming of Thomas, Owens, "Rat" Battle, or Norris.

Ring out the tocsin, sound the alarm, the stupendous checker classic is under way. They're neck and neck now and they're thunderin' down the home stretch, it won't be long now and it's gonna be c l o s e. Gladdin and Haines are out in front. Come on you red. Anyone wanting to get in on this had better come down to the room of the triumvirate with the missing transom and get registered for the last lap.

This Little Tube Measures Stars Centuries of Light Years Distant

BY MEANS of a new vacuum tube called a low-grid-current Pliotron tube, astronomers can gather the facts of stellar news with greater speed and accuracy. In conjunction with a photoelectric tube, it will help render information on the amount of light radiation and position of stars centuries of light years away. It is further applicable to such laboratory uses as demand the most delicate measurement of electric current.

So sensitive is this tube, that it can measure 0.000,000,000,000,000,001 of an ampere, or, one-hundredth of a millionth of a billionth of an ampere. This amount of current, compared with that of a 50-watt incandescent lamp, is as two drops of water compared with the entire volume of water spilled over Niagara Falls in a year.

General Electric leadership in the development of vacuum tubes has largely been maintained by college-trained men, just as college-trained men are largely responsible for the impressive progress made by General Electric in other fields of research and engineering.

Frosh Basketball Gets Under Way With Scrimmage

Coach Robinson's Men Open Wednesday In City League

Twenty freshmen reported for the initial basketball practice Wednesday afternoon. Coach Robinson put the plebes through a light scrimmage in order to get a line on them and after some "weeding out" is done there should be two good squads to work withThere is some excellent material among the first year aspirants which points toward a successful season for the Panther Cub quint.

Norris, an all-state guard from Snead Seminary, showed up well in the practices this week. He works the floor like a veteran and with some practice in shooting, should make a polished player. Taylor, a lanky boy from Phillips, seems to be the most likely candidate for the center post. Stevenson, a fast little guard from Roanoke, will give someone a fight for one of the guard positions. "Dog" Johnson, Nixon and Walton are other candidates for the caural jobs. Battle, Brown and Hagan seemed to be the best shots and two of these may play forwards.

There are several other lesser lights working out, so there will be plenty of competition for each post.

The frosh quint open their season next Wednesday, with a game in the City League. The schedule hasn't been completed.

PABLO GARCIA ACOSTA is his name. As we sat talking on the steps of the library, I found that he speaks English so well that I could understand nearly all his words.

"Is this your first visit to the States?" I asked.

"Yes," he said, "I have lived in Havana nearly all my lite."

"But how did you happen to choose to take your work at Birmingham Southern instead of at one of the hundreds of other colleges in the United States?"

"That's because of Mr. McNeill." he would walk the street in front of her home. If she were in, he wight hear her play the piano. She serenaded and --."

"But that," he interrupted, "was fifty years ago. In the days of my grandfather it was different. A boy of that generation saw a girl for the first time at mass. The boy would try to catch her eye. Then, night after night, he would walk the street in front of her home. If she were in, he might hear her play the plano. She let him catch a glimpse of her. might even throw back the window. During the day, he bribed servants to take her his notes. Custom decreed that she should return the first two to him unopened. Later, she received his messages. In such ways, she encouraged him. At the end of six months, or even a year, he would sit beside her at mass. After this brazen act of affection, the young couple was closely watched. The girl was scarcely permitted to leave the house. Her vigilant family would not permit her to go even to church. This, then, is the period of which tradition and legend has said so much. Every possible night, the boys, with three or four friends, would play his guitar beneath her window, and sing love songs to her. She would peep out the window, or she might be able to come to the balcony. He would give heavy tips to her. She would peep out the window, "surely the family didn't take it seriters tease the life out of the poorously. Didn't the big brothers and sislitite boy and girl?"

"But, Pablo," I wanted to know, "surely the family didn't take it seriters tease the life out of the poorously. Didn't the big brothers and sislitite boy and girl?"

"Oh, no. There was no teasing," Pablo assured me. "It was all considered very serious."

"How funny. But do go on."

"Well, after the first two or three years of serenading, the boy managed to be introduced to the family. Then he sat with the girl in her home—but the girl's mother or grandmother was always present. Which, of course, made a well-chaperoned party. After a year or so of such tete-a-tetes, the couple, provided that the family approved, might be married."

"Well, then, a courtship lasted four or five years. That mad

"How is that?"
"Today there is a tendency towards

Violet Softsighs Answers Problems Of The Lovelorn

If In Need Of Love-Life Advice, Address Miss Violet Immediately

Immediately

After a great deal of expense The Gold and Black has at last secured the services of Miss Violet Softsighs, the noted authority on troubles of the lovelorn. Every week Miss Softsigs will publish in this paper questions of the troubled students around the campus. She will endeavor to advise these unfortunate people to the best of her ability. Following is the lirist set of answers and questions. My dear Miss Softsighs:

I am a young man of about nineteen, not bad looking and have, I think, a good deal of personality. I am in love with two girls, a blonde and a brunette. I cannot continue going with both of them and am loss as to which one to choose. What would you do?

Yours very truly,
Frank. You have no choice in this matter. The brunette is the one. Have you not heard that only gentlemen prefer blondes?

Dear Miss Softsighs:

VARSITY BASKET BALL

Senior, is probably the most experienced man on the team, having played with Simpson in the heyday of that school's cage supremacy. Brant's versatility makes him one of the most valuable of Southern's basketmen. Holt, letter man of last season's frosh combine is making things hot for all competitors by his fast floorwork and blocking. The veteran McCullough is playing his last season as guard for the Gold and Black. "Mac" is a steady floorman and a fast dribbler who may be depended upon in the pinches. Miller and Vaughn, also aspire to do guard duty. These two boys lack the experience of Wallter, McCullough and Currie. Such hard competition as the above mentioned may, however, bring them to the front rapidly. Captain Summerford is the bonly regular returning at forward. If Coy keeps up the good work he is likely to make his last year on the Hilliop five his best. Thanks to the "Class of '33" there is plenteous material striving to win a letter at forward. Allbrooks, Wright and Gay are all three wearers of the 1933 basketball numeral. Both of these boys are crip shot artists as well as good dribblers. Gay and Cranford are working hard for the coming grind. Stewart, substitute in 1929 is out for a few days due to a knee injury.

Birmingham-Southern's three basketball teams are rapidly taking form and shape. Each of the teams have ansaged in a practical tilt and for presenson form they all are looking great. The varsity shadowed the frosh five in a game last week and yesterday the frosh and Southern ry" fought through four periods, the game ending in a tie, 28 to 28.

Manager Jones would like to arrange games with other teams of the city for any Monday or Friday night. Anyone wishing can get in touch with him through the coilege book store.

Coach Carey Robinson was well pleased with the showing of his Rat crew in their tilt with the "Y" team, all his rats showing to an advantage. This year's Frosh team should set a mark for other teams to shoot for; and with any type of luck should go a long way in their division of the city league.

Writers

With All-American teams sprouting up overnight, the sports writers of southern schools have determined to pick a really representative S. I. A. A. combination. This work is being carried on by Jack Douville, editor the "Springhillan" at Mobile in conjunction with other college newspapers. Roy Tucker, guard and Pedro Black, fullback, will probably be nominated for this mythical crew from the Golden Panther supply of fighting footballers. Captain Welch of Union, "Toy Excaptain Welch of Union, "Toy Excaptain Welch of Union, "Toy Excaptain Welch of Mercer, Raymond Davis at Howard, Altkens, a passing back from Spring Hill and Watkins, Maryville center are likely choices. The final selections will be announced next week.

And Black

The Goid and Black came very near being printed on a mimeograph this week, as one of the staff at the West ern Newspaper Union, where the paper is published, was arrested for implication in the Southside Bank Robbery.

Saturday evening, Harold Johnson, in the stereotyping department, was incarcerated on some vague charge that made him appear a combination bank robber—ogre—baby killer—and cigarette fiend. But it was no joke spending two nights in the city jail. Finally, Monday morning, Johnson was released on identification, little the worse for wear, but decidedly opposed to bank robbing in any form.

English Debaters Have Jolly Sense Of Humo

By Katherine Carmichael

An Englishman, I had always thought, was a peculiar type of fashion plate which spent all Saturday laughing at the jokes the preacher had puiled the Sunday before. I thought that—until I met some really live students from England.

Mr. N. C. Oatridge, Cambridge debater, was emphatic on the keenness of the English sense of humor. "I can ever understand all points of American vaudeville," he modestly acknowledged. "Furthermore, I can occasionally bring forth a joke of my of the English race. I came to American. Well, I'll tell you. Americans, who cherish the idea of being ultra-modern, are the conservative element of the English race. I came to American to see American architecture, to hear American songs, to observe American schools. But I find none of these. I find, instead, a mere imitation of that which is English. You copy our architecture. Your songs are taken from ours. Your schools are our schools on a small scale. In the designing of our educational buildings, we are at present leaning toward the modernistic. But you, who are conservative, continue to build accord-net to the lold style. Hard Schedule

Slow Up Varsity In Furious Practice Game, But Lose 36-14

By Harry Northrop
The Freshmen basketeers, under the training of Coach Carey Robinson, are practicing daily at Simpson in preparation for some difficult games on their coming schedule. At the beginning of the season, twenty lads showed up for practice; this number, however, has been cut in half, and now Coach Robinson is focusing his attention on ten very promising ones.
The future of Monday's practice was a furlous game between the Frosh team and the varsity. Though the score was 36-14 in favor of the varsity, it was certainly not a run-away. The freshmen showed nice form, and the varsity was compelled to keep continually on the alert to prevent the uncanny long distance shots of the tats from being successful.

The frosh have a tentative engagement in the City League every Wednesday night. The schedule of the rat cagemen is not quite complete Coach Robinson announced, but will be given at a later date.

The roster of the squad is as follows:
Forwards: Hagan, Brown, Battle, and Nixon; Guards: Norris, Steven

But the pebbles attracted him again and again. That little boy is now Dr. Russell S. Poor B.S., M.S., Ph.D. and Dr. Poor is the Professor of Geology at Birmingham-Southern College.

I went into Dr. Poor's office the other day to find him playing blocks with Charlie Rice and Olaf Collier. I was a little taken back. But after he had asked me to be seated, I learned more about the blocks. They had a geological significance, so it was all right.

A Fishy Fantasy

I'd like to be in the H-o, that's the life for me Take your terra firma, I'll swap my share for the sea.
I'll go to a nautical pawn shop and buy me a pair of gills
And borrow some fins from a kindly fish and laugh at my earthly ills

I'll lead an ideal existence, an existence scarce on this earth;
There'll be a sea cow in the barn-yard and a catfish on the hearth
I'll train me a pack of dogfish to seek my daily bread
And when I grow tired of hunting I'll sleep on an oyster bed.

When I finish my castle, deep in the emerald shade,
I'll pack my grip and look around till I find the right mermaid.
I'll take her back to my rooftree and we'll live in connubial bliss—
We'll live in a house by the gulf stream and be a friend to the fish.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Quite a number of students were surprised at the boldness recently exhibited in a letter to your columns in which the writer advocated dancing as a college activity. She gave as her reason the fact that we all dance and a college activity. She gave as her reason the fact that we all dance and like it.

Let the young lady be assured that quite a number of us neither dance nor like it, and the reason is that dancing is questionable—a fact which she evidently denies. The trouble with questionable dancing is that there is nothing questionable about it—it is unquestionably bad!

It is true, as she has said, that the social customs and fashions of our parents have changed. But it is equally true that the standards of Christian morality have not changed—nor will they change, and those standards have branded dancing as immoral.

She would rate it, along with music and poetry, as a fine art, developing grace, rhythm, etc. The very names and motions of the dance come from the lower animals as, for instance, the Bunny Hug, Bear Cat, Grizzly Grapple, Fox Trot, Rocking Horse Gallop, Skinik Waltz and Wiggly Worm. The very idea of one developing grace, rhythm, etc. by bouncing like a bunny, grappling like a grizzly, trotting like a fox, rocking like a horse, or wiggling like a worm! For one, I can't see the young lady's logic.

As for dancing becoming a school activity, such a thing is impossible. Dancing is prohibited in the Methodist Discipline and this ban is sanctioned by an overwhelming majority of both the laity and clergy of the church. As long as this school is supported by the Methodist Church, the dream entertained by the young lady of seeing dancing a college activity is but an idle fancy.

Long may the Methodist Church support the gehou!

Long may the Methodist Church support the school!

We used to have an awfully good time in that class. Both are married now."

And since then I've wondered how Poor could come between Patterson and Peck, alphabetically.

"And why did you decide to major in Geology for life, Dr. Poor?"

"Well." he sald, "that's hard to say, though I can tell you the person who influenced me most in my choice. That person was any first Professor in Geology, Dr. M. M. Leightion. I shall never forget some of the things he told us in that class. In fact everything he said was worth remembering. I have been privileged to have known him."

Dr. Poor says that geology requires an open mind and stimulates thinking. He also says that it does not destroy Faith but strengthens it. He expects to go back to tillinois as Geologist for the State Geological Survey, next summer. We wish him luck.

Away From You
I sit alone and think;
Your picture smiles at me;
I smile at it and link
My heart with yours,
And in your eyes I see
The light of love.

I love the picture. Yet, In spite of all its charm It's not the Ruth I met, And love so dear; But still my heart grows warm With thoughts of you.

Yon're far away—so far!
Out of sight and sound.
But, dear, no space can bar
You from my heart.
You're with me now—I've found
You in my dreams.

Why, Fate, must you keep n So far from one I love? Why must I never see Her lovely self? Those eyes like stars above? Her rosy cheeks?

You were never loved
With love like mine for her!
Else you could not have shoved
Two lovers apart
In this rude way! On you
I blame it all.

"Zane Grey gives an exciting picture of the West," continued Mr. Oatridge. "I am pleased to notice that P. G. Wodehouse, one of our humorous writers, is popular over here."

At this point, the debater opened a bright silver cigarette case, and drew out a cigarette. Someone, noticing the unfamiliar brand, inquirred:
"Can one obtain the same brands in England as in America; for instance, could one purchase a Lucky Strike or Came!?"

"In very few cases," was the reply.

HERE AND THERE IN FASHION

By Alice Morefield

The first sign of Spring Isn't aiways the premiere appearance of a robin but rather, new hats. And from all sources of information comes the shout, justy and loud, that wide brims are back for Spring and Summer. Colors? Most decidedity white and pastel after a winter of blacks, browns and dark greens.

The new, wide brim straw isn't to be the only thing found in the shops for the turban and beret are to continue with linen, shantung and cotton adding to their attractive smartness. And, pique hats that really fit.

Gloves. Wide and bulky, smartest in white or natural chamois color. And the more wrinkles over the wrist the better.

Accessories. White hats, white fabrics or leather bags, white slip-on gloves, and white slippers or oxfords in kid or calf accompany both white and pastel outflis.

This is a far cry, this talk about fashions for Spring and Summer, but it is a delightful feeling to know that certain colors are to be smart for a season rather than having the dreadful experience of buying clothes and sitting around hoping that they will somehow or other attain smartness.

Bad Bush Boulevard Burglar Baffled By Bold Bluff

The apartment of Professor Owenby on Bush Boulevard might have been a bloody shambles, and could easily have been featured as a swell axe murder by the daily press. But Mrs. Owenby forestalled any likelihood of this when she failed to awaken her husband as a burglar strolled casually through the apartment about midnight Wednesday. The intruder failed to find anything to his fancy and departed without further ado.

Fish Mean To Hibernate

Dorrah And Vaughn Wonder
How To Feed Finny
Friends

As a rule the weather man's observations do not enter into the ideals and philosophies of gold fish. Few of the finny tribe give much serious thought to the climate. However, a little reflection was painfully forced upon two undergraduate members of the great school of fish.

You see it was this way: Two of the inhabitants of the dormitory, Burdette Dorroh, and one Speedy Vaughan, have taken to themselves two little goldfish for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer. And evidently the last named attribute is uppermost at the present time, as the tiny white wafers upon which the gold fish are wont to feast have been consumed, lo these two days.

And then the weather came to the rescue by freezing the water and piacing the goldfish into a pleasant state, reputed to be the semi-conscious, vaguely happy sensation. It seems this condition may last without harm to the fish for a period of several days, without need of fool or sustename. Burdette, unaware of this lepfful fact, thawed the water, and reawakened the appetites of the fish. This is the irony of something or other.

The program of this week was in charge of Mrs. Johnson's class. Evelyn Smith presided. Scripture was read by Roberta Farrar. A reading was given by Mildred Smith, followed by a talk, "The Goal of Christianity," by Edna Mae Richardson. The program for January 25 will be supplied by Mr. Englebert's clars. It is probable that Andrew Turnipsed, renowned debater, will make an address on that occasion. There may also be a quartet, provided one can be gathered together.

The credit courses have been combined this year, boys and girls meeting together. Students may register for this course at the registrar's office and will receive one hour's academic credit for their effort. Boys who don't care fro the credit course will find Mr. Englebert just as good in Sunday School as in math. The college girls' class has been reorganized, with Mrs. Evans as teacher.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I feel the urge strongly to ask the Honorable G. W. Hamby whose letter delineating the deplorable conditions existing at dances, whether or not he has ever attended a dance and sent the things which he deplets with such certainty?

The idea occured to me that Mr. Hamby had a very vivid imagination which had taken him for a ride. But the fact he states there are dances used as, "the Bunny Hug, Grizzi, Starbel, Skunk Waltz and Wiggly Worm" leads me to believe this young nam somewhere in his life has exerienced such things, And just where to these things go on?

Although the collegiate vocabulary assessment of the states there are dances used to be the states there are dances the states there are dances are not entirely immune. All who are thus tormented can rest assured that you have my sympathy. Just to prove it to you I am going to do what I can for you. Now, the only on seed to get your mind greased up thing to the state out. Just to show you how it can be done by a fellow who really tries, here's a sample.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Naturally, we suppose, these things do not add to Nelwyn's happiness, but at that, they have their advantages. Think how economical it will be for her to eat only spinach and carrots the rest of her life. Then, too, she may marry some poor, struggling young person who can afford only a litle cottage next door to the glue factory, down by the vinegar works.

Even in the face of her solemn statement and all the proof we can find, there are still some skeptics. Mr. McWilliams, for example, maintains that Nelwyn should not be allowed to get by so easily. It is his idea she be given red pepper in great quantities, proving that, after all, human beings of today are only a step removed from the heartless barbarlans of long ago. As this story goes to press, Nelwyn has not yet consented to the test.

Pitted on the one hand against a dean who demands censorship of his paper's editorials and articles, and on the other hand against a group of fuential students who object to his editorial policies, A. S. Koscleiny, editor of the Detroit Collegian, of the College of the City of Detroit, is waging a Apparently, the student editor has most of his fellow undergraduates on his side in the censorship battle. A group of students started the fuss when they claimed that, among other things, the collegian was giving too little space to sport write-ups, and too much to other campus events which they considered less important, Koscleiny replied, editorially:

"When we contemplate a mirror-like report of the insane and stupid meetings of the Student Council; the almost universal degeneration of our fraternities into cilquee which do their drinking, gambling, and paddling under the banner of the Greek alphabet; the boring stupidity of the classroom procedure under far too many of our instructors; the petty politics characterizing class and other elections . . . we are forced to admit that both our love for the college and for our own skins will continue to make The Collegian a mercifully shaded mirror."

And he concluded:

"Finally, to the charge that The Collegian devotes less espace to social and sport news than has been customary under former editors, we plead guilty and will defend ourselves in writing or on the platform. When it can -be successfully demonstrated that the students, faculty, and administration of the College of the City of Detroit intend and wish it to be known and run as a country clubrather than an institution of learning, we will not only retire from The Collegian but from the college as well."

MAD MOMENT

By Alice Morefield

By Alice Morefield

The moon was low. It just tipped the edge of a row of tall trees along the east of the campus—It really was a wishing moon. A perfect night for lovers. Surely such moonlight was made for draams. Flowers tucked their petals in at dusk and drowsed through the silent silver flood that melted away under a sane, reasonable sun.

She walked to the

She walked to the edge of the porch and sat on the next to the top step, with elbows on her knees and head resting in her hands. These back steps had come to mean being alone when she wanted quiet. Here talk and music of the after dinner dancers on the long, red-filed front porch could not be heard. Those who did not dance watched the others, so one was sure of heirs undetarbated.

not dance watched the others, so one was sure of being undisturbed. There were times when she had to get away from everybody.

A round, heavy moon always brought back memories of that night. Could it have been a dream? He had been new in town and there were various opinions as to how he would fit into their crowd. She couldn't have described him then or now, except that she was very conscious of deep brown eyes, that grew soft and iiquid often. He was tall, looked good in his clothes, and wore the right kind of ties. One would exchange places with him at the first glance; he was that sort of person.

It seemed just yesterday the curls had tucked into place magically, and her soft blue dress lent asurance to the reflection of very blue eyes in the mirror. She had been eager for that hour to arrive; now each minute seemed slow hours. Perhaps if she looked at a magazine the minutes would pass quickly. Twice she looked up and listened then resumed turning the pages unseemingly. Her heart beat so loud it frightened her to listen. Then the slam of an automobile door, the introduction to her mother. Brown eyes, deep voice and firm, cool fingers. Did her mother hear heart beating?

They drove upon the mountain overlooking the blaze of lights from town. The same moon beamed down. There were no formalities: that would have been silly when they felt as though they had known each other for a thousand years. He told her she was the glr in the world he dreamed of finding. He had given up the idea of ever finding that dream girl and yet, here she was, real, from head to toe. They talked about a house, and laughed a little about the color of the rooms. They were made for each other; they both felt that from the first moment. The wonder of it grew as they discovered they both liked the same thing. What a haven this old earth was!

When they reached her home and were asying goodbye he took her in his arms and kissed her. He was everything she wanted; there was nothing else to wish for.

He stood in the door a minute and looked at her in a tense, puzzled way, then was gone. She had never seen him again, there was never a letter.

The Panthere were a bit off in passing, this being their chief fault during the evening. The Reds, led by Dewey Byrd and Chapman, outehone the Cats in this division of play, but these baseballers could not get the leather into the hoop, missing numerous crip shots that should have been counters for the "pro" aggregation.

"Silck" Vincent and "Skeeble" Caldwell led the scoring for the Reds. Both men were in on every play, showing some nice defensive play. Black met his match in Eddleman, the rangy Red tip-off man, losing the ball on the jump the majority of times. 1931 Football Prospects Looking Up With Spring Training Opening In Bowl. Twelve Lettermen Lost By Graduation

Jones, Briner, Goodrich, Waller Come Up From Rat Backfield. Hand and Norris Promise Competition For Varsity Line

By Edward Dannelly

Spring Football Training opened with a bang on Monday when some forty odd gridders answered the first call of Coaches Jenks Gillem and Carey Robinson. Light drills were held for the first two days but some heavy work was expected before the end of the week. Despite the loss of some 12 lettermen, seven of whom were regulars, prospects seem rather bright with a group of heavy linemen and some capable backs graduating from the freshman squad. weak spots seem to be at the flanks and in the backfield where

Backfield Uncertain

The backfield Has only one regular from the 1930 machine returning. Yaughan, co-capitain of the 1931 team, will be the neucleus around which coach Gillem will have to make his backyard lads. Blanton, a good kicker and fine passer, will probably be the first string signal caller. This boy showed that he was fully capable of this position during the last campaign when he ran as understudy to Co-Capitain Norman Pilgreen. The two vacancies will be filled by "Fot" Thomas, captain of the 1929 freshman team; "Speedy" Doster, "Sloppy" O'Nell, or any of the freshman backs who include Jones, Briner, Johnson, Goodrich, Linton and Waller, the midset back who was responsible for the only touchdown the freshmen scored on Howard this year.

Ends Lack Weight

At the ends is where Coach Gillem is going to find the majority of trouble. Allbrooks, flashy sophomore, will be slowing them down at one terminal but the other side of the line is still to be solved, Jackson, leading kicker of the squad is out for basketball, but both he and Allbrooks lack whight to make efficient blocking ends. The failure of James' knee to heal has been a thorn in the coaches' side. If (Continued on Page 3)

Dr. Emory Q. Hawk, for the past four months absent from the campus on leave, will resume his classes Wednesday, February 4, according to an announcement from the office.

The Y. M. H. A. basketeers, led by Steve Browdy, won their first game from the Panthers last Thursday night. Although Y. M. H. A. scored only one field goal in the last period they sank eight foul shots which in the end won the game for them.

Southern was trailing by five points at the half but evened up the score soon after the half began. However, they were unable to overcome the reazy goal shooting of Browdy who tossed them in from every angle.

Walton Wright, little sophomore forward, started the Panther machine off right by sinking four long shots soon after the game opened, but did not tally in the last half.

The floormen from the Hilltop played the last ten minutes without the service of Black and Wright who went out via fouls. Wylle Waller, after playing a splendid floor game, went down under an avalanche of players in the last few minutes of play. He continued in the game despite his injury.

Seniors Urged To Purchase Invitations At Book-Store Now

Doctor Russell S.
Poor, professor of Geology at Birmingham-Southern has recently edited a pamphlet on the Geologic structure of the Birmingham district. This bulletin was published by the college and contains an interesting history of the iron and coal producing area adjacent to Jefferson County. It is over this ground that many of the Class Field Trips are made during the year. Announcement was made today concerning the dead line for orders for senior invitations. Orders for these must be in by February fifteenth in order to insure delivery.

Leather invitations will cost thirty-live cents, while the paper ones will be soid at seventeen cents.

Deacon Reeves, at the book store, will have charge of the invitations. Seniors are urged to place their invitation orders early to avoid any possible last minute rush.

The Debating Team held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Public Library. Most of the entire team was present and several plans for the year were made.

The question to be used for this season is: "Resolved, That the nations should adopt a policy of free trade."

This is the question which most of the schools in the United States are using this year and it will be used by Birmingham-Southern also.

The schedule is by no means complete but several debates have already been arranged. These include debates with Emory, Florida, Mississippi College, Howard and several other bates with Emory, Florida, Missiasippi College, Howard and several other northern and mid-western schools. Several trips have also been planded. The team expects to take a trip to New Orleans to debate Tulane, and several other schools on this trip. It is also expected that a trip to North Carolina will be made which will take in several schools. Besides these extensive trips, there will be several week-end trips to schools closer to Birmingham.

Perry Woodham Teaches Class In Economics Dept.

Perry Wilson Woodham, '28, assistant Bursar of Birmingham-Southern College, has been appointed to a professorship in the economics department of the school. He has been assigned a class in marketing.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1928, Woodham continued his work in the field of economics and business administration during 1929 and 1930. In June of the latter year he was a candidate for a Master's degree, receiving it with the graduating class at commencement. His thesis was based upon banking; it is considered one of the best critical surveys of the Alabama banking system organized in recent years.

Duties in the bursar's office limit Woodham to one class.

Leather invitations will cost thirty to cents, while the paper ones will esold at seventeen cents.

Twentieth Century Mania

The University of Minnesota Daily is somewhat perturbed over the excessive amount of sophistication among college students of this generation. Especially does the Editor deplore the fact that this odious affliction has become more that of the female than the male.

Commenting on what he calls, "The 20th century mania," friend Editor says: "The victim of this 20th century mania for standardized character is indeed pitiable, particularly when the sophisticate is a girl. Why a young woman should deliberately cast off her interesting individuality and assume the nature of a nondescript is incomprehensible. There is nothing fine about sophistication: it is too fundamentally artificial for that. But there is something akin to the divine about a modest woman."

Letters to the Editor

January 27, 1931.

Dear Editor:

I wasn't surprised that one of the devotees of dancing took issue with my views on this subject expressed recently in a letter published in your editorial column.

Miss Alice Moretield asks if I ever attended a dance. Yes, I attended dance regularly up until my conversion, after which I was no more invited. Strange—eh wot? Who ever heard of a real Christian receiving an invitation to a dance?

Strange—eh wot? Who ever heard of a real Christian receiving an invitation to a dance?

When I danced, Miss Morefield, and it wasn't so long ago, we knew in our vocabulary such dances as the Bunny Hug, etc. But I didn't think that such steps were known at Southern, for I was told at the opening of school, by the administration, that no dancing of any sort was known here. However, I have found this quite contrary to the existing facts.

Having attended dances regularly for several years and having associated the major part of my life with devotees of the dance, I feel, Miss Morefield, that I know a few things about this subject.

It has not been my fortune, or rather, misfortune, to ever attend a dance sponsored by a Birmingham-Southern organization. I know nothing directly of these dances, other than that they are being held. They are discussed on the campus and announced both in the daily papers and the Gold and Black. Who will deny this?

As a Methodist minister, I am very well acquainted with the attitude taken toward the dancing situation here by the clergy and laity of the Methodist Church of Alabama.

A majority of them know, despite the assertions of the administration to the contrary, that dances are being carried on by school organizations in direct violation of the rules of the Church and the pretended rule of the school. And the Methodist Church of Alabama is sick and tired of such hypocrisy!

Mr. Editor, I know personally several families who won't sand their skill.

Mr. Editor, I know personally several families who won't send their children to Southern because of the dance situation here.

I believe that the recent resolution of the Birmingham Pastor's Union appearing in the Christian Advocate, which denounced the forthcoming fraternity dance and the dancing situation in general at Birmingham-Southern College, embodied the sentiment of the Methodist people of Alabama.

Freshman Cagers Drop Two Games By Point Margin

Cubs Stand Good Chance To Win Ten Remaining Tilts

BY HARRY NORTHROP

After two hearbreaking losses by margins of only one point, the Panther Cub quintet, none abashed, is looking forward to the remaining games on its schedule, with a determination me which, it seems, will brook no interference.

In a furious game with the Snead that cagers last Saturday, the Panther Rats managed to maintain a slight lead throughout the greater part of the game; a last second rally by the Sneadmen, however, deprived them of victory by the narrow margin of one point. The score was 24-23.

The Southern-Howard freshment game Tuesday night, scheduled as a preliminary to the Mercer-Howard Clash, proved to be the whole show. Again the one-point margin thwarted Southern's excellent chance for triumph. At the intermission, the Panther five led by the count of 12-6. When play was resumed, however, the Bullpups splurged ahead to an advantage of 27-16. At this point, with fourteen minutes to play. the Southern frosh, hitting its stride, steadily wore off the margin until only one point separated them from the Howard score. But at this juncture, the whistle blew with the score 27-26.

Battle stood out offensively, bagging eleven points.

Besides these two losses, the Frosh five has dropped only one other game, this being to Summitt Coal, 15-19.

Line Looks Good
In the line three starters were lost. It should prove a hard problem to fill the shoes of Carter, Tucker and Rice, but Coach Robinson has plenty of capable material. Beard, at center, got to start in most of the games because of injuries to "Brute" Mann, and proved himself a capable snapperback. However, he is being pushed for his position by Quinn, freshman captain, and he is not at all sure of his piace in the starting lineup. Wylle Waller and Joe Bleker are the two lettermen returning at the guard position. However, there are more men out for this place than any other on the team. Cottle, a capable substitute from last year, Warner, Kidd and Salmon, all freshman numeral men are the experienced men out for these two jobs. Tackles will be led by Co-Captain Townsend, with Moore the other letterman out. Bowers, a former freshman star; Hand and big Joe Norris, up from the 1930 freshman eleven, are the other men that are showing mid-season form. Kenner, a new man, has been showing the lads what weight can really do and with his 218 pounds has been julling stunts that have the coaches all perked up.

Many New Ends Present on Squad There are several new men, former high school stars, that have been showing up unusually well. Most of these men are out for the terminal positions. Armstrong, a former Bessemer Hi product, looks like a good man, as does Hynds, a former mate of Allbrooks out at Woodlawn. Davis, of Double Springs, is the other player that is out for the terminal. He is a bit heavier than the former two but he is not quite as adept at catching passes.

There are several new men, former high school stars, that have been showing up unusuaily well. Most of these men are out for the terminal positions. Armstrong, a former Bessemer HI product, looks like a good man, as does Hynds, a former mate of Allbrooks out at Woodlawn. Davis, of Double Springs, is the other player that is out for the terminal. He is a bit heavier than the former two but he is not quite as adept at catching passes.

A scrimmage is to be dished out to the prospects about Friday at which time the freshmen and new men will set to prove their true metal. Signal practice has been resorted to in order to get all the novices acquainted with the varsity system. However, hard work will been Monday with a full training period ahead for the next five weeks.

While Waller came to Birmingham Southern from Waverly, Ala., where he played three years of basketball along with his football. There he held down the center's post but dince becoming a Panther he has been placed at running guard. And how he was that guard! His success on the basketball court goes hand in hand with that which he attains on the griding because he is every bit a fighter, an artist at dribbling the ball, and in passing he is second to none.

Wylle stopped ringing goals long enough to answer a few questionsmently, whether he liked football better than basketball, why he made the choice, and what Southern's cage chances are this year. Wylle obliged and proved himself an interesting talker.

Student Federation Convenes In Atlanta To Discuss Problems

Al Blanton, Howard Cleveland Represent Southern At Congress

After a week of many stormy sessions in which a panorama of student opinion from every section of the United States was voiced, the Sixth Annual Congress of the Student Federation of America, at Atlanta, Ga., came to a close Saturday of last week.

More than 250 student leaders from approximately 175 institutions brought the registration to highest point in the history of the organization, and provided a difficult problem for the host schools, Georgia School of Technology and Agnes Scott College for Women. From the point of view of the Individual campus problems, the outstanding features of the Congress programs were the discussions on collegiate athletics led by Earl Dunlap, student president of Georgia Tech and captain of the 1930 football team, and publications headed by Lewis Gough, scudent president of the University of Southern California.

The Andrew's Anchorites have been disporting themselves around the town, the state and who knows? The end of the exams was a welcome excuse to utterly neglect the dust covered bookshelves of our amateur bibliophiles. These boys up here can scram through their courses and still have the pages of their text-books uncut. You would think, what with the piratical prices of Deacon Reeves, the Bookstore would at least lend their efforts to cutting a person's pages for him so that there would be no distraction in studying.

Little children, who read these lines in a spirit of innocent candor and trust in the rishreousness of ye author, be not deceived by the similarity of popping to the sound of opened bottles. The only fault with "Speedy" is that can't ride in anything except an open car without perforating the roof. We prophesy a stoop-shouldered old age for the gentlemen in question.

Two More Tilts To Be Played Cn Courts of Military Boys

By Harry Northrop
The Freshmen cagers, in two encounters with Southern Adalemy at Simpson last week, tasted both of victory and defeat.
The first meet was considerably a one-sided affair, the Rats chalking up a score of 24 against 14. In this game the Cubs, at intermission, led by only one basket, 7-5. After the respite, however, the Freshmen, catching the soldiers in a slump, steadily increased the margin until the final whistle blew.

Hagan and Battle performed stellar work offensively, netting eleven and six points respectively.

Battle (6) and Hagan (11), forwards; Taylor (5), center; Norris (2) and Stefanson, guards.

On Tuesday, however, the lads from Greensboro turned the tables, crowding in one more score than the Cubs omake a score of 25-23.

In contrast with the previous game, this engagement was crammed to the powith excitement and ssupense. Though the Rats led 18-8 at half time, the last minute of the same found, Virginia; superintendent of play, Bevis of S. M. A. was fouled, and with the free shot tied the score. On the next jump from center, Hocket seized the ball in the center of the court and looped a long field goal; the whistle blew just as the ball hald left his hand.

This game, to quote one spectator, was the type one sees in the movies.

Among other positions held by Mr. Searcy were: President of Y. M. C. A.; Y. M. C. A. scholarship to Blue Ridge; delegate to the Detroit Convention; president of college Epworth League; chalrman of Dormitory Committee; winner of Y. M. C. A. Loving Cup; winner of Student Senate Loving Cup; wi

Love of Flogging Brings Secret Order Before College Authorities

Norman, Okla.—Once more authorities are investigating into the activities are investigating into the activities of a secret order on the campus known since its organization in 1907 as the D. D. M. C.

For years the purpose of the organization seemed to be that of playing harmless campus pranks, but in 1918 the society set out to prevent cheating in examinations. A few years later when the society, masked, was attempting to discipline a student, he shot two of its members.

But the secret order seems to have flourished in spite of the authorities. In 1925 Lee Thompson, leader of the secret order, and now the son-in-law of President W. B. Bizzell, was beaten up by a student being disciplined. Thompson was arrested and convicted of breaking the state anti-mask law, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and to a term in Jall. His fine was later reduced to $50 and his prison sentence suspended by Governor Trapp.

Kappa Circle of O. D. K., will meet tonight at 7:00 p. m., in the Faculty-Trustee Room. Members are requested to note the change in time to seve o'clock.—Wm. Hamilton, President.

President Guy E. Snavely has been confined for several days, suffering from influenza. However, he will be with us in a few days.

Dear Editor:

In last week's issue of the Gold and Black I notice that Rev. G. M. Hamby wishes to continue a useless and futile controversy over dancing. Generally I am of a very retiring nature and someone's harangue over a matter of this sort never gets me unduly excited, especially it his views will never amount to the proverbial "row of pins," but in this case where week in and week out the college paper is cluttered with letters of that sort containing exaggerated if not narrow-minded statements about the conduct of this student body, it is time to call a halt.

As to the alleged immorality of dancing I personally believe that as much or more harm can come from an old fashioned parlor date. It all depends on the principals involved, a girl or a boy can be Christian, cultured gentlemen and gentlewomen one place as well as another.

I do not believe this denouncement of dancing embodies the sentiment of Alabama Methodists, because I have seen the daughters and sons of Methodist ministers, Sunday School teachers and others too numerous to mention, with close associations to the church, attending dances in Birmingham as well as elsewhere.

He also knows several families that refuse to send their children to Southern because of the dance situation here, on the other hand I know several hundred that would not attend if their constitutional rights were to be administered by the busy bodies who are so willing to help, even when they are not invited to do so.

are not invited to do so.

I think the present administration is quite capable of handling the affairs of this school and student body without being openly assaulted in the college paper by one of its students with so many valuable suggestions to offer free of charge, except for possibly a little publicity in the Gold and Black.

There are many problems that rest heavily upon the brow of Southern students which need a first class looking into and if a student can't find any other outlet for his pentup energies and burning desire to do something other than create friction in this school. I suggest he direct his efforts toward creating a relief fund for the blind and aged mice of Andrews and West Halls.

Sincerely,

to that student who in the judgment of the faculty has rendered the most conspicuous service for the year; scholarship honor roll; membership of intercollegiate debating teams. He is a member of the honor societies of Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Kappa Alpha, Pl Gamma Mu and Kappa Phi Kappa, and of the social fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha.

The first big thing he has done this fall is to assist ambitious young men to find part-time work so that they can afford to stay in college. More recently he has given a great deal of his time to cooperation with the Birmingham Methodist Layman's Club, who are in the midst of a campaign to raise sufficient stunds for the Brandon Memorial Building. He has worked with the officers of the Alumni Association in holding alumni group meetings and raising scholarship funds. He handled most of the details of the Homecoming Alumni Banquet, held the night before the Howard game, and has prepared the material for this first issue of our alumni news organ.

Dr. J. S. Ward, head of the French department of Alabama College, Montevallo, will deliver the 39th Founders' Day address today, according to Dean Burns. The ceremony is an annual one at the college and is observed by special services in the chapel in commemoration of those who first conceived and put into effect the idea of a Howard College.

Howard College was founded near Marion, Ala., Jan. 3, 1842, as a school for boys. Nine enrolled under Prof. Samuel Sherman. Classes were held in a small frame building. Later, the college was devastated by fire.

A new sport has been added to the list at the East Side institution, as boxing is now established under the tutelage of George Alken.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

It seems odd that Birmingham-Southern students continue writing articles about things they evidently know nothing about. I'm referring to the untimely bit of sarcasm called "Paradox" pertaining to the cruel slaughter of poor dumb beasts in the name of Science.

Such space-fillers, even in editorial columns, are pointiess and not very clever as to motives. It is true that animals are killed, their bodies used for experimental purposes in biological laboratories. Such a thing is necessary in preparing pre-medical students and bacteriologists for a study of the human body. Men and women in college supposed to know human organs are made more approachable after a knowledge of lower animals is attained.

The third paragraph, beginning, "Gentlemen who laugh at the whimpers and moans of animals born to live, etc.," would be a bit insulting, if not so amusing and well understood. It seems an appeal to human interest could be reached in a more forceful, and certainly a more truthful, way than by misrepresenting the zoology department. Especially since biologists, through research, are capable of appreciating animals in more than a sentimental fashion.

Odd, too, that those giving their lives for science are doing it to better the existence of half-baked morons incapable of understanding.

And if anyone is spending sleepless nights over the question of persecuting pups, read the advertisements—they are guaranteed.

Sincerely,

NELWYN HUFF.

Panther Harriers Face Hard Schedule Of Six Meets

Meets

The most attractive menu prepared in several seasons will be offered to Panther track aspirants in this spring's campaign. Coach Fullbright will issue the first call for cinder luminaries immediately after the termination of spring football training. Light workouts which begin in midden march are to be increased to full time grinding long before the first meet.

Five meets have been definitely arranged with a sixth one pending. A three-cornered affair has been arranged with Howard and the B. A. C. as the season's starter. A trip to Atlanta for a tie up with Emory University and a dual meet with Florida in Munger Bowl follow the initial encounter. Chattanooga and Mississippi Coilege engage the locals in a triangular contest at Legion Field. The annual May Day meet in Munger Bowl will close this extensive schedule.

With the mainstays of the 1930 squad returning this year and such a full schedule to attract new material, Southern cindermen should experience a successful season.

City League Leadership May Hinge On Two Games With Howard

With Howard

By Harry Northrop

The past few days have been busy ones for the Freshman Cage Quintet. The Rats have played eight games in the last two weeks, and have emerged victorious in all except one engagement, this being a loss to Southern Military Academy by a one-point margin, 23-25.

The recent victims of the Panther Cubs have been: Howard Rats, Snead, S. M. A., Avondale Mills, Walker County High, and Hanceville High. The win over Hanceville High is especially commendable since that team has won seven out of nine games against strong North Alabama teams. As the season is drawing near to its close, interest in the City League is growing keener. The Panther Cubs have thus far maintained an excellent record in the league. Who shall remain on top of the league is still doubtful; the outcome probably hinges on the two games between Southern and Howard Rats, which are scheduled to be played today and tomorrow at the Howard Gym.

At present, the Frosh Quintet is showing the best form it has attained this season. Battle, Hagan and Taylor especially are doing flashy work at their respective positions.

In the two previous games with the Howard Rats, the Cubs have made a percentage of 500, losing the first engagement by a one-point margin, and surging ahead to an easy victory in the latter meet.

After the Howard series, the Hilltop Rats will move over to Greenshor where they will resume hostilities against the soldiers of Southern Military Academy.

PRISONERS BECOME STUDENTS IN EXTENSION COURSES AT CALIFORNIA

Nearly fifteen hundred prisoners of San Quentin prison are enrolled in extension courses of the University of California. There's little to the social side of college life on the "stone-walled campus," but the school spirit is excellent and shows up in the remarkable work accomplished. Language courses are the most popular with Spanish leading; mathematics and economics are next.

Must be a nice, quiet place to study at any rate, and no difficulty has been encountered thus far with students cutting classes.

The fair Southernites are setting the latest fashion in basket ball at Simpson Gym. The last word in gym suits is anything from the beloved orange rompers to last year's best chiffon. Some very novel tricks in the way of passes and goal-shooting have been displayed. All of them are guaranteed to have a "patent applied for" though. "Where's this 1-B course, please."

"1-B what?" inquired the harassed girl behind the grilied window of the registrar's office.

"I don't know. It says 1-B on this schedule."

"Here, let me see it. This easy English 1-B; that's in Science Hail."

The above is just a sample of what goes on at the office of the registrar when college opens.

This doesn't stop, though, when school gets started and all the students are registered. It goes on every day in different forms. It, indeed, takes a world of pattence to keep the individuals in the office from going berserk and start throwing things.

First comes a boy wanting to change his schedule. No reason for it what soever; that is none he can give. If the truth could but be known he wants to be in the same class with his girl. Then comes a fair young lady wanting to change her schedule. Why? She thinks Prof. So and So is sodarling and would like to have a class under him.

So it goes from day to day with nine out of ten cases being utterly unnecessary. It it a wonder than that the men in the office get bald and the girls gray.

Squad Show Well In Hard Scrimmage

"Jaffe" Doster, "Sloppy" O'Neil, "Frat" Thomas Shine In Backfield

By Lucius Brannon

With the third week of the spring training grind near a close the Hill-toppers are rounding into form as Coaches Gillem and Robinson are pushing their proteges in preparation for the hard schedule of next fall. It will be a tremendous job to replace Black, Pilgreen, Carter and company, but the competition is keen for the vacant positions and capable men are out for each position.

A rip-snorting scrimmage was the menu Tuesday with the coaches endeavoring to see how the men functioned in battle. The teams were well matched with neither having much advantage over the other. Team A took the ball on their own ten-yard line and started a drive down the field. The battle waxed hot (although the weather was cold) and both teams were punting often. Finally Team A took the bail to the opponent's five-yard line where it was first down and goal to go. Team B rose to the heights and held on that spot for four downs. The leaders of Team A's drive were Co-Captain "Speedy" Vaughn, "Brute" Doster, and "Fot" Thomas. In the scrimmage the coaches paid special attention to the blocking is much improved over that of two weeks ago as the men are working hard to perfect this phase of the game.

The ex-frosh who showed up well in the scrimmage were Hand, Quinn, Mc-Farland, Johnson and Briner. McBea and Roberts who have been shifted from center to end, are showing much promise. They make up in fight and determination what they lack in experience at the new position. Roper, who entered schools at the beginning of the second semester, also gave evidence that he is very much in the fight for positions.

Daily workouts include the regular routine of blocking and tackling with hard scrimmage sandwiched between. Only two casualities have occurred during the hard work, Co-Captain Vaughan suffering from a badly turned knee and "Bobo" Goldbrick?" is taking all work lightly with an injured

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., December 21, 1865. It was intended perhaps for the organization to be local in character, and the name Phi Kappa Chi was assumed, but because of the possible confusion with Phi Kappa Psi, the name was abandoned for Kappa Alpha. The fratarnity was estable. Psi, the name was abandoned for Kappa Alpha. The fraternity was estabished with the idea of creating an organization to foster and maintain the

The conclusion of Ranger F. S. Garl, of Yosemite National Parks.

Describing one biaze, caused by a lighted match near a big black ant hiti, Range Garl said that about 50 unants started promptly for the fire and we jumped right into it, kicking and biting.

Then a lighted cigarette was thrown near the match, and a larger force of ants hastened to the scene and destroyed the cigarette. Some of the heroic little fremen were burned to death, or so badly burned that others is killed them. But for every ant disabled, another took its place. After the fire was out, other ants were sent the fire was out, other ants were sent to pick up the failen.

Bill seemed to warm to his subject. As a rare treat, he raised the bars of the Registrar's cage-like window.

"A year ago." he went on, "we had quite a larger number of new students than we have at present. This semester, they are fewer than usual. But they seem to represent a wide variety in territory. There are three out-of-state students: William Crume from Bardstown, Ky., Elizabeth Crymes from Albuqurque, N. M., and Earl Webster from Pensacola, Fla. Then several come from Alabama towns. John Gray is from Pell City, William Hill from Ft. Payne, James Seay from Melbourne, Woodrow Weaver from Brewton, and Kermit Young from Albertville. But the majority come from Jefferson County."

"Thank you, Mr. Clift." I said.

Mr. William Clift, assistant registrar, nodded absently. He leaned toward his files. As he adjusted his chair, his customary grin spread slowly over his face.

Time was with

Time was when Aipha Chi Omega had a reputation for "marrying off" alumnae members. Every time "June," the proverbial marrying month, came around, many of their atumnae succumbed to the Springtime and romance-time. It hasn't been so long ago that Alpha Omicron Pi had quite a siege of losing active chapter members. Three secret marriages occurred in the Birmingham-Southern chapter last year. But for the first time in the history of the institution there is a sorority group whose active members, pledges

Next came Marion Mullens who married a Birmingham-Southern aium ui, "Dizzie" Dismukes. He's teaching at the Georgia State College for me in Tifton, Ga. She is the only one othe six who used good judgment in marrying a R. S. grad.

There was a lapse of nearly two months before Rhona Meriweths changed her name to Mrs. Ewell Conwell.

Lauise Roberts, a please of me.

Louise Roberts, a pledge of Theta Upsilon, recently married Ludwick Smith. She was registered for regular sophomore work and was attending school regularly. She decided that she really didn't need an A. after ali and that a M. R. S. would be a lot nicer.

Josephine Moss who would have been a senior this year, recently an nounced her marriage to Hugh Craig, a Birmingham architect.

Two alumnae are just hefore announcing their weddings, but the active chapter treasurer is tearing her hair in the frantic purchase of wedding gifts. Theta Upsilon has broke all records for marriages on the Birmingham-Southern campus.

For a while the prospect for this year looked rather dark due to the fact that Wright is now at Duke and Mallory was not expected back. At the present four lettermen are back from last year, Beiman, Miller, Stewart and Mallory. These four have been practicing every Sunday since Christmas and at the present are in good as form as they were last spring. Every Sunday afternoon a good many Southern students drop by Highland Park to watch these four work out. All these four will be lost after this year and the feeling is to make one grand sweep this spring. Matches are in the process of being arranged with practically every team of importance in the south. This year for the first time there will be our S. I. A. A. tennis tournament. Wanted: One Firebrand

When a sad-eyed Pan-Hellenic can't get together long enough to decide when pledging shall take place, it's a lovely indication of the general Greek attitude. An inter-fraternity organization without power or nerve to fix the blame for such an occurrence and carry out their decree, no matter how drastic, is worthless as a governing body.

Intramural athletics could easily have been fostered on the campus by this Hellenic Council. Plans were made, committees no doubt were appointed, but Southern is just as far from inter-class or inter-frat competition as ever.

Elections will roll around before long. If nothing goes amiss, fraternities will pull the usual skulldugery, sling perhaps six tons of un-filtered mud—put their men in office.

It doesn't take a press agent to picture for anyone with eyes what will happen when the non-Greeks wake up.

If some bright boy decided he wanted to run politics here, the frats would just sit back and watch. That's about all they could do, legally.

A little non-fraternity rule would be a grand thing to have around for a while. When the Greeks were "outs" they might patch up their differences, settle down to a bit of harmony and do some constructive work together.

As things are rocking along at present, it appears no one has the gumption to make a move. What this place needs to start the ball rolling is some first-class hating. A dash of old-time scrapping would put some new life into existence.

The idea prevelant that "all good men are in fraternities" is plenty of hooey. We can only hope the good men will decide to run for election, will stir up some number one hard feelings, and drag down our vote first crack out of the box. Fraternity man or non, we would like to see some politics on the up and up for a change.

Unfinished And-Irons

He was old, and grey, and wrinkled,
With a face like sheet copper, that crinkled.
With hammer, great anvil and iron that was hot.
His hands had grown calloused, but his heart it had not.

He was caring for bables his daughter had left, For sea claimed a toll and she'd been bereft. He hammered some and-irons for Cap'n Sun. But the Cap'n died before they were done.

For a wagon or buggy he'd made a tire from a bar, But he couldn't work rubber to be used on a car. So the autoe just whiszed right past his place. Neither he nor Old Dobbin could stay in the race.

Forge fire died out—the bellows hung limp.
To get food for those children he oft had to skimp.
Then a banker from the city chanced by on his way,
And stopped on the threshold to have a "good-day."

He was building a Lodge 'mong the trees on the hill, To get back to nature, away from factory and mill. He spled those old and-irons—saw how they would grace A bright burning log in his lodge fire-place.

Then came an idea in that bright, cheerful glare;
The one thing sore needed was a crane hanging there;
Lamps for ceiling and mantel and floor,
Latch, knocker and hinges for a huge oaken door.

The forge fires began to burn and old bellows to roar;
Whatever he wrought, there came calls for more.
Then glad smiles returned to that old, wrinkled face,
And happiness shone in the old, homey place.
Those old eyes turned upward were thankful and glad,
For the work that he'd longed for and prayed for, he had.

MEN are what women marry. They have two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar or one idea at one time.

Like Turkish cigarettes men are all made of the same material, the only difference is that some are a little better than others.

Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes: Husbands, bachelors and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a mass of obstinacy entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are three varieties: Prizes, surprises and consolation prizes.

Pitts Hopes For Abrogation Of Narrow Ideals

Dr. Waites, Presiding Elder Of District, To Speak Sunday

"Christ or Caesar" was the theme developed by the Rev. Mr. U. S. Pitts Sunday morning at McCoy Memortal. He condemned the religion of Caesar as "Blatant, arrogant, selfish nationalism." and warned that there is a tendency in America to subscribe to this instead of to the brotherly internationalism of Christ.

It was brought out that all nations believe themselves the center of the world. Rev. Pitts quoted an American who said to a Scotchman: "I am from God's own country." "Then you've lost your accent," replied the Scotchman. The preacher expressed hope and confidence that Christian internationalism will eventually triumph over this narrow nationalism. A week ago Sunday a special sermon was given for students, and a large number attended. Next Sunday the pulpit will be occupied by Dr. B. T. Waites, presiding elder of the Birmingham district.

-we hope this little rumor was greatly exaggerated

But we heard that the idea had fairly run riot among certain collegiate groups, that our store is just a bit "high hat" for the more modest school allowances.

Decidedly not! Perhaps we have been so centered in spreading the endless store of our intriguing fashions and fine qualities that we've failed to make it perfectly clear that this is an inclusive store, rather than an exclusive store.

Our individual fashions may be really priceless in the esteem of their wearers, but they are priced within easy reach of every school allowance.

Personality Is World-Moving Force-Dr. Smith

Self-Control and Self Knowledge Is Essential To True Success

Dr. M. L. Smith spoke to the college group at McCoy Memorial Sunday morning. Discussing the power of personality, he took for his text the words of Archimedes, "Give me a place to stand, and I will move the world." "These words were not spoken in the spirit of brag," said Dr. Smith, "but in recognition of the power of personality. It is the same idea that we find in the 16th chapter of Proverbs 'Greater is he that ruleth his own spirit than is he that taketh a city."

Major B. Butts Returns Safe To Millsaps Fold

Kidnapped Before Annual Se-ries of Net Games, Goat Is Found

Is Found

Major Boswell Butts, a sheep of the masculine variety, mascot of Millsaps basketball outfit, mysterious disappeared two weeks ago. His abduction was brought about through the efforts of persons unknown who attend Mississippi College.

The goat was kidnapped and held prisoner on the Choctaw campus for almost a week before the annual series of net games between the Majors and Indians. A magician appearing at a Jackson theater advertised the return of Major Butts at a regular stage performance. The abductors, thinking to enjoy the show, were considerably surprised when the whiskered beast was actually presented to its original owner by the conjuror.

teams seemed afflicted with stage fright and it was six minutes after the opening whistic when Bullard, Howard guard, sank a long shot to start the fireworks and Southern soon took a lead which they held for the rest of the battle.

Southern pilled up a lead due to the great shooting of Captain Summerford and the guarding of Holt. It is unfair to say that these boys were the stars because all of the players were stars but these two were a little more conspicuous than the others. Summerford was high point man for Southern with six field goals but Foster was high point man for Southern with six field goals but Foster was high point man for Southern with six field goals but Foster was high point man for both teams. The Howard sharpshooter was good for fifteen points besides playing a beautiful floor game.

One of the most noticeable features of the game was the spirit of the spectators. Southern supporters displayed more pep Monday night than at any time this year. It was also probably the largest crowd to see the Panthers play during this season.

These two colleges tie up again to night in what will be the most important game of the year to the Englebert quintet as a victory will give Southern—Summerford (12) a nd Wright (4), forwards; Black (5), center; Waller (4) and Holt (1), guards; Jackson (4) and Allbrooks, substitutes.

Southern And Howard Meet Again, But This Time In Court Room

The Continental Gin Company was quite appropriately the scene of a collision between two modern youth, one from the Hilltop, the other from Howard. Bryant Whitmire, hurrying home to Leeds from a busy day at Birmingham-Southern managed to disregard a stop sign, only to bounce into a car thought to have been driven by Robert Orr, a student at the East Lake school.

The accident chewed up both cars considerably, as they headed for the same phone pole, according to Bryant, who was stuck with a five dollar fine. Judge Martin was said to have sentenced Orr to a $50 amusement tax for playing tax with the cops and driving recklessly in an intoxicated condition. "I see Southern and Howard meet again," observed the Judge.

In the finals of the City Men's furious but one-sided encounter. The score was 25-12. This victory entitles

The final game, in spite of what the score seems to indicate, was an exciting one. Though the Wenonah team then being 13-11. The game was tied

In Advance

We should not only be religious and love religion, but we should help make it attractive, useful, and agreeable to everyone around.— St. Francis de Sales.

Suffer In Silence

Birmingham-Southern College lists as one of its assets a progressive system of student government. Regulation of college activities, punishment for disciplinary breaches and general surveilance of campus life is entrusted to a group of outstanding men who were carefully chosen by popular election. This group of ten senators represents in its legislation some nine hundred members of the student body. Theoretically it acts in the best interests of these at all times, impartially and unbiased.

There are a number of factors working against student government as practiced at Southern. Lack of campus interest, restrictive politics and the inherent secrecy that cloaks each Senate tend to veto much of the good that could be accomplished by the men that are in office.

Try and name the ten men who are serving on this year's Senate. Name the girls composing the Co-Ed Council.

And what have they been doing all semester? If you get a passing grade on these three questions your P. Q.—Political Quotient—shows you are above normal and will probably marry a blond.

Quotient—shows you are above normal and wall and marry a blond.

Interest in student government has been low on the campus for three or four years. Possibly because the fraternity politicians have been strutting along the primrose path for that length of time. When the non-fraternity party fell to pieces some years ago, leaving the frat bunch riding high, competition for office fell flat.

The big bosses sitting in the seats of political power selected candidates from those Greek letter organizations that offered them support. Capability became subordinated to choice of emblems, popularity and pull.

Opponents of the party were ironed out with precise neatness. They were squelched and squnched.

Last year the fraternity group lost some of its unity. More candidates announced. This year indications point to even more of a free-for-all scrap.

Last year the fraternity group lost some of its unity. More candidates announced. This year indications point to even more of a free-for-all scrap.

Some interest is reviving in student government.

But not enough—not yet—to awaken undergrads to the fact that, in effect, another section has been added to the oath of the senators-elect: "I promise never to disclose anything that happens in the senate chamber to the eager ears of those persons whom I represent."

Ask your snator why he came to class an hour late after meeting with his colleagues. "Just arguing around," he will answer. Ask him what they argued about. He looks hurt, "Just arguing." Over the relative merits of cigarettes? Or women?

Interest could be stimulated by making public what hap-pens behind the closed door of the senate room. Moreover, it is the right of the students, who place enough faith in a man to elect him as their representative, to know what that man is doing. What if it does become necessary to publish the results of trials for disciplinary breaches? The person, if guilty, would serve as an example. The punishment meted out to him would serve as a warning, and perhaps he wouldn't get off with only a reprimand.

Goodrich, Joe Norris, Warner Look Good With Varsity

By Lucius Brannon

"All Quiet on the Western Front" is the by-word of the Gillemuter since there has been practically nothing doing in Munger Bowl this week. Monday was the only day of practice on account of the inclement weather and the absence of Coach Gillem, who is attended a meeting of the "Dixie Conference" at Jackson, Thursday and to-day.

The rain stopped the scrimmages

The rain stopped the scrimmages but the boys had two much-needed squll sessions Tuesday and Wednesday. The piayers are rapidly approaching mid-season form and the end of the spring grind is near.

Coach Gillem said the big game of the apring season would probably come off Friday or Saturday of next week. He is waiting for the end of the basket ball season so the bask-eteers from the freshman and varsity squads can get in on the excitement. The two teams will be picked in an effort to match them evenly and to see how the players will work under pressure.

Co-captain "Speedy" Vaughn and "Bobo" Goodrich are recuperating from injuries but are expected to be in shape for the game. Thus far, they remain the only major casualties of spring training.

Trio Of Panther Floor Artists

JACK McCULLOUGH WYLIE WALLER, TRAVIS BLACK,

Pictured above are three main reasons why Coach Ben Englebert's basket ball quintet has advanced to the semi-final round of the S. I. A. A. Tournament. Wylie Waller has been one of the leading offensive figures of the meet, ranking second among the Panther scorers. Black, veteran center, though handicapped by a bum shin, has been getting the tip-off over much taller opponents. McCullough, a three-year man, is a first class defensive player. He has filled the gap during many games, throwing the monkey wrench into the offensive threats of the opposition at the time most needed.

Speedy dropped over to Bessemer to visit an aunt and confidentially all that Bowers could say was. "So the is the fourth largest town in Alabama." He had to stoop to go in the post office.

We were talking to one of our sin-sterial students the other day and ie was talking about the lady that ooked back on the destruction of foodom and we mentioned that she lidn't know such a lot after all.

Fat Creole Frogs Make Scientific Mouths Water

Somewhere in the Louisiana awamplands an old Creole frog mother, her skin hanging in folds about her body, is dismally croaking over the prolonged absence of her amphibian offspring. Somewhere in the mud and silme stender young frogs fearfully blink through the reeds, watching and waiting in vain for father to bring home the daily stint of files from the lilypad store on the pond.

Perhaps because the legs of the Louislana amphibians are more tasty.

"Believe it or not the only real justification for a college fraterulty existing is to maintain a spirit of scholarship, foster extra-curricular activity and develop a social spirit," Dr. Bathurst told "Y" members in a short talk last Monday. The Greek letter organizations serve as a good means for groups to discuss current problems and arouse interest in those things involving problems. If a true social spirit is to exist on any campus there must be an absence of snobbishness among Greeks and non-Greeks.

The Birmingham-Southern Library has just recently become a member of the Literary Guild of America. This organization under the direction of Carl Van Doren chooses each month from the manuscripts ready for publication, the book which it considers best in the field of fiction, history, or biography. A copy is sent each member on the day of publication.

The Guild selection for February, "Coronado's Children," by J. Frank Doble, is now in the library. It is a collection of stories about lost mines and buried treasures of the Southwest. Though their appeal is age-old, the romance of gold which first lured men across the seas and over a savage continent haunted by bloodshed and starvation, these stories are laid in an actual modern world where there may really be mines to discover and buried treasure to dig for.

Old legends say they are there and the descendants of Coronado have chosen to-believe so. "Coronado's Children" is a compound of history and legend. It refutes the idea that America has no folklore. In the last five years such well-

Classes Might Just As Well Be Excused Promptly

Dear Editor:

I have noticed the tendency of some professors to keep the class after the first bell has rung. Obviously this is a petty injustice both to the student and to the professor of the succeeding class.

If a student has a class one period on one side of the campus and the class of the ensuing period is on the opposite side, it will take him about all of the ten minutes to keep from being tardy.

Of course, if the professor is in the middle of a sentence when the bell rings, it would be silly not to finish it. But by watching his time and gauging his remarks accordingly he would avoid the confusion otherwise entaited.

Yours truly,

HOWARD FULTON.

Into a life misanthropic and bare
You came. It did not take you long to bring
A change as great as that which green Spring Rapidly brings to blackened trees.—And where
There had been void, you demurely thrust your fair
And smiling face. I heard the silvery ring
Of your soft voice, and saw the glistening
Refulgence of your flowing golden hair.

When I had grown to love you—then you left.
I mattered not to you that I should be bereft
Of happiness, for you only seemed to care.
Your leaving was as summer leaving bare the tree.
For the world no longer holds its charm for me,
And life again is bare.

Why we spend $2,000,000 to put Camel cigarettes in the new Humidor Pack

We have been in the tobacco business a long time down here at Winston-Salem and we take a lot of pride in the quality of the cigarettes we

While we have spent a good many million dollars advertising Camels, we've always held to the old fashioned idea that the thing that really counts is what we put into our eigarette and not what we say about it.

If we know anything about tobacco, and we think we do, Camels contain the choicest Turk-ish and the mellowest, ripest domestic leaves that money can buy.

In fact we have every reason to be proud of the quality of Camels as they come from the factory, but the remark of an old friend of ours from Denver some time ago emphasized a point that has been the problem of the eigarctte industry for years.

As he inhaled the smoke from a Camel we gave him in our offices one morning, he sighed with very evident enjoyment and then asked jokingly, "What is this, a special blend re-served for Camel executives?"

'Certainly not," we told him. "This package of Camels was bought at the corner store this morning."

"Well," he said, "I've been a dyed in the wool Camel smoker for a good many years, but upon my soul I never got a cigarette as good as this in Denver. If you would give the rest of the world the kind of Camels you sell here in Winston-Salem, you ought to have all the eigarette business there is."

THAT statement simply emphasized again the cigarette industry's most important problem. The more we thought about it, the surer we were that he was dead right, and that somehow, something must be done.

Denver wasn't getting a fair break. either in fact was any other town. The only peo-ple who really knew how good Camels could be, were the folks right here in Winston-Salem.

That was due to a factor no cigarette manufacturer had ever been able to control.

Naturally there is no difference whatever in the quality of the tobacco in Camels, whether you buy them in Winston-Salem, Denver or Timbuc-too. But up to now there has been a very real difference in the condition of the cigarettes by the time they reached the smoker.

The flavor and mildness of fine tobacco depend upon the retention of its natural, not added, moisture content which is prime at

In spite of our great pains always to make sure Camels left the factory with just the right amount of natural moisture, no eigarette package had ever yet been designed that could prevent that precious moisture from drying

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the

(2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobacco because of inefficient cleaning methods.

(3) A parched dry condition of the to-bacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Always certain of the quality of our tobaccos we had already made Camel a "dustless" eig-arette by the use of a specially designed vacuum cleaning apparatus exclusive with our factory.

Now, if we could perfect a package that would actually act as a humidor and retain the natural moisture content, then Yuma, Arizona, could enjoy Camels as much as we do here at Winston-Salem.

We knew what we wanted. We tried many things. We asked the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory to help us

After many experiments and humidity tests covering all methods of packing cigarettes came the detailed report of which this is the net:

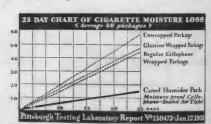

(A) No existing cigarette pack-(A) No existing cigarette package, including those wrapped in glassine paper or ordinary cellophane, gives anything like adequate protection against evaporation.

(B) All cigarettes so packed tend to dry out rapidly from the day they are released from the factory.

(C) Only a waterproof material with a specially devised air-tight seal could give the desired protection. (D) This measure, while costly, could be relied on to keep Camels in prime condition for at least three months in any climate.

If you have a technical bent, the graph below made by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory will show you the exact results of their ex-haustive study.

You may be sure we gave this report a lot of careful study. We checked it and re-checked it and then we went ahead. We tried this device and that. At last we met success. The air-tight wrapping involved the designing of special ses, special machin

That costs a lot of money, more than $2,000,-000 the first year, but after you have tried Camels packed this modern new way we are sure you will agree it is a fine investment.

For some time now every Camel that has left in factory has gone out in this new Humidor Pack.

We have said nothing about it until now, to make sure your dealer would be able to supply you when the good news came out.

Camel smokers of course have already dis-covered that their favorite eigarette is better and milder now than ever before.

If you aren't a Camel smoker, try them just to see what a difference there really is between harsh, dried out tobacco and a properly con-ditioned cigarette.

You can feel the difference, you can hear the difference and you certainly can taste the dif-

This will be done soon after training for this position should report at the same time as the tracksters.

The first two weeks of training will be given over to limbering up exercises and short jogging tours around are to be held during the third week of the campaign in order to determine the most likely looking prospects.

Most strength will likely be found in the track events. Here there is a need for some reinforcement in the

Wylie Lugs Books, Causes Misapprehension In Andrews

The entire campus was more or less astonished to behold Wyiie Waller staggerin down the hill from Andrews Hall Thursday morning with a ioad of books under his arm—under both arms in fact. Professors fell in their tracks and children ceased their play to watch him pass. Across the campus he strode, walking first on one foot, then on the other. He muttered to himself. Students each tered before him. "Ungrateful dog of a Haines," he was saying under his breath. "Steal my History of Education, would he? Now, I haven't got but ten books to sell that guy at the Bookstore."

Spring football training came to a somewhat abrupt close on Thursday afternoon when the annual game was rushed up a day. A hard fought battle resulted in the first trial of the 1931 squad with several men standing out in various departments. The work of Co-Captains Vaughn, Tonwsend was of first degree caliber with all regulars and several Freshmen shining in their respective roles.
Coaches Gillem, Fullbright and Robinson have been racking their brains during the last week of the annual football Spring traning grind, in an attempt to get some of the laziness and fat out of the hones of the footballers, but it seemed that all did not end so well as expected. An air of non-interest has been prevalent to all the daily workouts during the last week characterized by the lack of scrimmages with numerous signal drills taking a lead in the workouts.

During the last few days of the practice Roy Jackson, an end, rushed in from the basket ball squad, showed the wise boys that his kicking was to be looked into as an important defensive measure during the coming fall. Waller Gets Single High Score Of 25 Points Against Moccasins, Summerford Netting Average of Eleven Points Per Game In 23 Starts

By Virgii McCain

Last Thursday's sensational victory over the Y. M. H. A. basketmen brought to a close the most successful season ever experienced by a Birmingham-Southern cage team. Eighteen wins and eight losses in twenty-six starts has been the impressive record made by the 1931 Hilltoppers. Four of these losses were in conference circles, two in the Big Five and two were by the titled gentlemen from Sunshine Slopes.

An early season's start gave the Gold and Black warriors a few days' advantage over their opponents in the S. I. A. A. and Big Five. A large squad of sixteen men gradually dwindled down to ten regulars. Coach Englebert had to begin the season with four letter men. Four promising youngsters from the 1930 freshman basketball team sauntered in to fill the vacancies left by O'Brien, Battle and Sargent. Holt, Wright, Allbrooks and Jackson have given some clever court exhibitions in their first year of varsity play. Holt turned in the best performance of guarding seen on the Hilltop in many court campaigns. With two more years of service ahead of him Walter should make the mythicial siles. I. A. A. team before he finishes.

Wylie Waller and Walton Wright Wylle Waller and Walton Wright have been battling all season close behind Summerford for second place scoring honors. Waller turned in the highest individual score of any mem-ber of the team when he scored 25 points against Chattanooga. The Panther courtmen have displayed a flashy brand of floor work all during the season. At times the pass work has been a little ragged and inaccurate. This was fully compensated by uncanny goal shooting from all angles. The last two games showed what tournament competition can do for a team. The meeting with Boys' Club was easy sailing. Y. M. H. A.'s link was easy sailing. Y. M. H. A. fight, there has been an excellent spirit of sportsmanship on the part of all players. A final tribute was paid to this great team by the election of two of its members, Summerford and Holt, on the first all-star Big Five team and three men, Wright, Waller and Black Defying Lent, fifteen atimulating black letters glare mockingly, aliuringly at our clench-fingered, chin-set determination melting with the vanilla ice cream, beneath the annihilating odor of—Johnston's Hot Fudge Sundaes.

Katherine Carmichael tantalizes our second sense with sips between titters of girlish confidence, while Ben Carraway shrinks into the corner, with something of a gluttonous glint in his greedy eyes. Perhaps it is the chocolate—probably it is the equally devastating blonde at the fount.

Certainly hunger has vanquished Bill Scott's protruding chin, for he counts his nine coppers, delves deep tor the shortage, fails and is swept away with a melodramatic sigh!

on the second string. Summerford was also placed on hie all-S. I. A.A. second quintet.

The ever-smiling face of Pedro Black will be absent when the roll is called in '32. This center and crip shot artist has done some excellent playing in his three years on the court. Jackson will have a man's sized job in filling Black's shoes. McCullough is also finishing in June. Jack has turned in some nice performances in his three years under Englebert.

Barring any ineligibles or failures to return to school, the 1932 quintet should go ever farther than this season's combine. Waller will be back at guard, Holt and Wright are rturning to forward and guard respectively. Jackson, of course, will be a leading contender for center honors. White-side has two more campaigns in which to develop. Loy Yaughn can then devote his time to basketball, since he will not be disturbed by spring football training. Five or more good men are expected to come up from the championship freshman five.

Zemma Singleton Issues Call For Horsemen To Join Happy Family of Southern Stables Society on Mountain Brook Bridle Paths Thursday

By Marjory Solomon

The swimming meet which was to be held today at the B. A. C. has been postponed until Friday, March 20th. That gives the females plenty of time to sew up the moth-holes in last year's swimmersts. I hear the moths have done more than their share in making sun-tan suits out of them.

We hear that the B. A. C. is en-larging their pool to accommodate the big crowd that is expected to enter. And you know people don't like to

And you know people don't like to work for nothing, so don't disappoint the club! Let's see you turn out en masse, in masses, and in massive.

And now we come to the big secret. From those who come out for the swimming neet, a swimming team will be chosen. For lack of funds—that's as big sounding as anything we could think of—this crack team will limit its itinerary to ye olde home towne.

That means that it will swim against the Howard girls, and that means—the same thing it means in football. But remember, only those who come out for the meet on the 20th, at the B. A. C., stand a chance of making the team.

The active Southern Stable-ites and would-be Stable-ites will be thrilled to hear meetings will be held beginning next week on Tuesdays and Thursdays, to keep inevitable lab, and misclessons from interfering. Only ten will be allowed on each afternoon. And this will be another one of those free-for-all, first-come-first-served affairs. So all interested had better see Zemma Singleton as soon as possible before chapel period on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

We have finally obtained an archery set—which is an infallible sign that prosperity is here again—and Robin Hoodettes will soon get a break.

I'll see you at the swimming meet,

"Acres of Diamonds"

"Acres of Diamonds"

Seventy-five years! Little more than the life span of a man. This means great length of days from the viewpoint of the individual, but a brief twinkle in the history of the human family.

The World War accustomed us to the phrase, "doing one's bit". Although Birmingham-Southern's history is brief as we think of the long story of humanity, it has done its bit in the three quarters of a century of its endeavor.

We concede our institution to be classed among the small colleges of the land. The same was once true of all our colleges and universities, even those who now number their students by the tens of thousands. They did their noblest work during their day of small things when America was in the making.

It may be questioned that Harvard, Yale and Columbia are today rendering service as truly great as they rendered in colonial days when they were small colleges. There can be no question about their creative work in that period.

It may be questioned, too, that these larger institutions are rendering greater service than the many small colleges which dot our land, colleges where the whole personality of the student is held in sacred trust and where there is no effort to over-develop one part of that personality and to create a highly specialized machine.

The history of Alabama and her leaders for the past seventy-five years is written, in no small part, in the lives of the men and women trained in Birmingham-Southern College. At a time when comparatively few of Alabama's sons could take advantage of the so-called larger opportunities offered by the eastern and older southern institutions, Birmingham-Southern trained a multitude of young people for service which was nobly rendered in every field, the ministry, the judiciary, education.

As we measure time, her history is brief. As we value service, her record is such to create just pride in the breasts of her alumni, teachers and patrons. This week marks Birmingham-Southern's diamond jubilee. When we survey the field which she has tilled we

We are deeply gratified to know baseball will be continued as Southern this spring, especially since we have championship prospects.

There can be no question but that the sentiment of the students here is overwhelmingly for the retention of baseball as a major sport. Those persons who have expressed their opinion against the sport, center their arguments about the following four reasons:

(1) Baseball has not been a paying sport. (2) The student body has failed to support baseball. (3) Baseball may divert certain good track men from the track team and thereby hurt the track team's chances of a S. I. A. A. championship. (4) The funds expended on baseball can be used to aid in building a new gymnasium. In reply to each of these four reasons, the Gold and Black takes the following stand:

Baseball is not the only sport which does not pay for itself. Football is generally admitted to be the sport which carries all others, therefore there is no cogent reason on financial grounds why baseball should be so singled out from the rest.

In reply to the assertion that the student body does not support baseball, we might reasonably raise the question as to just what extent the athletic authorities have supported it. Attendance at Howard games alone makes the whole expenditure worth while. The sport needs a little pushing, but so did football, basket ball and track.

This third reason we have heard for the abandonment of base-

The sport needs a little pushing, but so did football, basket ball and track.

This third reason we have heard for the abandonment of baseball is just about the most filmsy of them all. Because two or three good baseball players are also track men, we must have no baseball team so the stars in question can devote all of their attention to track. We should be gratified to have the track team win the conference championship, but do not believe the baseball team should be sacrified to that end.

The last contention is the only one which holds water. A new gymnasium is sorely needed and is of more importance to the student body than any one athletic team, but we believe the opponents of baseball overstimate the expense it entails and ited certain the money saved through its abandonment would go only a small way towards the construction of the muchly needed gymnasium.

Let us again express our gratitude to Doctor Snavely and Coach Robinson for their liberal attitude and support of the great American sport.

Remember the old description of woman: a rag, a bone and a hank of hair. Of course, they are like automobiles: some cost more than others, but when they get old, a fresh coat of paint and they look like new.

Women may be put in three classes: questions, questions and more questions.

And speaking of making a wife out of a woman—just SPEAK of making.

And when you speak of kissing the little soft, fulffy, tender, violet-scarted sweet-like woman, it is very much like a familiar story. When Pat got married he was told that he had to kiss his wife. Upon hearing this he looked at her and said, "Well, if the must be done, it must be done than the must himself to look like he just dipped his heed in a paint backet.

Wynelle Lowery Scholar-ship Fund Grows Daily

Doctor Snavely recently received a letter from Mrs. A. B. Thompson, secretary to the pastor of the Ensley Methodist Church. In the letter was enclosed a check for one hundred and twenty dollars which has been contributed to the Wynelle Lowry Scholarship Fund by friends of the Lowry family and by members of the Methodist Church.

This addition brings the fund for the scholarship to a grand total of $275. Among the most recent contributors are Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hughes.

I thanked my informer, entered the library and found Mr. Englebert porning over some thick economics book.
"Mr. Englebert?"

"Mr. Englebert?"
That gentleman looked up from the book. I felt terribly insignificant and continued hurriedly.

The ice was broken (?) I sat down and drew out my notebook. Englebert was soon launched on his favorite subject.
"I was always crazy about sports," he said. "I went out for basket ball, baseball and football in high school and college. I had to discontinue football, however, after a severe leg injury. At Southern, I played the position of forward on the basket ball team and third base on the baseball nine."

nam, I spent one year at Simpson, graduating in June of the same year.

"I entered Birmingham Southern in the fall, working my way through by walting on tables in the dining room."

But though working and athletics took up a considerable amount of his time. Ben still found time to study and make an excellent record in scholarship. He was an all "A" student and in his senior year was presented the Scholarship Medal by the President for making the highest grade in scholarship during the entire undergraduate course.

Ben was a member of Kappa Phi Kappa and a charter member of Omicron Delta Kappa. He was president of the Student Body in his junior year and president of the Senior Class his senior year.

"How do you like teaching math?"

I inquired.

"I enjoy teaching math almost as much as coaching athletics. Math seems to just come natural to me. I majored in Math—and minored in sports," he added laughing.

"While I was still an undergraduate, I oached the Co-ed basket ball team for three years. In my senior year, I became a student teacher in math."

Ben was captain of both baseball and basket ball.

It consists of media, which is corn meal and two syrups and agar called to a paste and allowed to harden. The adults eat almost nothing—though they aren't in training for a bathing heauty contest. But the larva simply gorge. The life cycle takes fiften days, but the flies themselves often live much longer.
"In Lab. we make crosses and record characteristics, we give them ether and put them under the microscope. Occasionally, the flies don't seem to imbibe the ether as I think they should. One time, I gave them too much ether. They went sound asleep. I threw them away, because I thought I had killed them. But suddenly, from amidst the garbage cans, there arose such a whirring of wings that I realized I had made a mistake. Jonnie Foster, who also works with them, once gave her flies too little ether. While she was playing with the microscope, the flies works up and flew away. I believe that Bruce Nelson, who finishes the trio of flying experimentors, hasn't had any trouble yet."
"But if this fly is all so wonderful," leald, "hasn't it some great big technical name?"
"Why, sune," John smiles. "Being a scientific insect, it is called Drosophila Melanogaster. The six types are type white eye, eosimminture, vestigial, ebony, eyeless. And I'm sure you'll remember all that."

I looked astounded. I felt as though the man who calls trains at the terminal had spoken. I stared hard at John. Even yet, I wonder how one college boy can know on much about scientific files.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK

means to Camel Smokers*

OMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin. it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evapora tion is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come Check the difference yourself to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart abo hically shows you that only the Camel Humid delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition It is a very simple matter to check the difference between Humidor Packed Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.

The redness made a vivid spot on the hill. To have missed seeing it would have been an impossibility. It glared, gleamed and flashed with a dangerous brilliancy. And at the end of the girders, some far-sighted workman had fastened a scarlet bandana to register—Danger—or so we gathered.

The lanky one was giving the pigakin as 69-yard ride with little or no wasted energy during days of play. Should the clongated lad continue his finework in the booting department, therewill be no kick acoming about the punting when the Pauthers open their winter campaign against Auburn down in the capital city. Star Dust, Stalactites, Iron Rust, Hematites, Shales Complete Jumble of Geology Laboratory Filled From Pluto's Torrid Subteranean Realm

By Carolyn Brandon

Everybody on the campus knows Dr. Poor and most everybody knows that he is the big Geology Man (no, not from the South, but the great State of Illinois). Everybody knows also that there is a little room on the ground floor of Science Hall known as the Geology Lab, but few are aware of the many mysteries which this little shrine holds in store.

Have you ever seen star dust? Well, if you haven't Dr. Poor has plenty of it and will only be too glad to show it to you if you will just pay him a little social call. Let him know shead of time that you are coming so he can bake a cake.

Oh! Those Walks

Really though, in all seriousness, Dr. Poor has a very interesting collection-of curios in the Geology Lab, and for a man not a native of the south for a man not a native of the south for a man not a native of the south with the Hardon with the Geology of Alabama. We had the privilege of interviewing one of this duelnts last week. Bliss If Seniors Prophesy Aright

IF SOME seventy-five seniors are correct in their calculations, prognostications and judicial astrology, Miss Rebie Perry will be the first member of the class of '31 to take unto herself a husband. Miss Louise Feagin is most likely to become famous within the next twenty-five years by the same omen.

Billy Hamilton and Bob Clingman have equal chances of rising to the pinnacle of success sometime before another quarter of a century slipe by it their classmates are at all informed of a veiled future.

Mr. Hubert Searcy himself usurped the official role of chief seer, and distributed a questionaire among the lofty near-grads to ascertain just who in their opinion was nearest to matrimony, success and fame. The result of the poll was startling, in that four members of the 1927 graduating class of Phillips High School in Birmingham were selected to fill the positions outlined in the circular.

Thompson Mann, of Ensley, gave Miss Perry a close run for her nuptial nomination, but it is rumored his supporters had inside information as to the blond center's amoral qualifications.

Ellen Frances Cooney and Anne Maione, both of of '27 Phillips aggregation came within an ace of snatching Miss Feagin's prophetic crown of fame from her. His mates believe Cap'n John Smith, also of the enterprising Philips class, has excellent chances of future success.

The entire campus was more or less astonished to behold Wylie Waller staggerin down the hill from Andrews Hall Thursday morning with a load of books under his arm—under both arms in fact. Professors fell in their tracks and children ceased their play to watch him pass. Across the campus he strode, walking first on one foot, then on the other. He muttered to himself. Students ecattered to himself. Students ecattered before him. "Ungrateful dog of a Haines," he was saying under his breath. "Steal my History of Education, would he? "Bet a dollar Charlie Rice will be all three," one of Charlie's intimates was heard to say. Charlie stated that his candidacy included matrimony only, so he was cited by a great many as a foremost prospect for question number three. "Acres of Diamonds"

"Acres of Diamonds"

Seventy-five years! Little more than the life span of a man. This means great length of days from the viewpoint of the individual, but a brief twinkle in the history of the human family.

The World War accustomed us to the phrase, "doing one's bit". Although Birmingham-Southern's history is brief as we think of the long story of humanity, it has done its bit in the three quarters of a century of its endeavor.

We concede our institution to be classed among the small colleges of the land. The same was once true of all our colleges and universities, even those who now number their students by the tens of thousands. They did their noblest work during their day of small things when America was in the making.

It may be questioned that Harvard, Yale and Columbia are today rendering service as truly great as they rendered in colonial days when they were small colleges. There can be no question about their creative work in that period.

It may be questioned, too, that these larger institutions are rendering greater service than the many small colleges which dot our land, colleges where the whole personality of the student is held in sacred trust and where there is no effort to over-develop one part of that personality and to create a highly specialized machine.

The history of Alabama and her leaders for the past seventy-five yeags is written, in no small part, in the lives of the men and women trained in Birmingham-Southern College. At a time when comparatively few of Alabama's sons could take advantage of the so-called larger opportunities offered by the eastern and older southern institutions, Birmingham-Southern trained a multitude of young people for service which was nobly rendered in every field, the ministry, the judiciary, education.

As we measure time, her history is brief. As we value service, her record is such to create just pride in the breasts of her alumni, teachers and patrons. This week marks Birmingham-Southern's diamond jubilee. When we survey the field which she has tilled we

"Ten Nights in a Baroom", a play by Wm. W. Pratt, has been presented by the Birmingham Little Theatre for the past week.

Very good acting combined with extremely clever lines, combined to make it one of the most successful of recent productions in the city.

The drunkard who wishes his throat was a yard wide, because it felt so good as it went down, gave the audience many laughs, as instructing his friends to keep out of his "Calico doins." However, he learned his lesson with his drinking, because he confided that his head felt like it had apartments to let.

The play was well acted throughout. Ormond O. Black, brother to Miss Edith Blach, Birmingham-Southern student, played the part of the rustic tipler.

The part of the innkeeper's wife was portrayed by Miss Leola Armstrong, former Birmingham-Southern student, clad in bustles and what goes with them. Clara Moore gets a sweet one. She busts into the Bookstore after gum, muttering, "Benny sent me."

Jack Stuart, Southern grad, now county solicitor, entertained Dr. Barnhart's Crime Club with spirited remarks at the Burns murder trial in Court House Thursday. Lawyer Beddow and Jack seemed about to fly at each other's throats, but to common disappointment they seemed best of friends in recesses.

"Seemed to me Beddow was checking at the judge," said Cecil Blackburn, a confirmed crime chaser. "The defense counsel insisted in calling Coroner Russum 'Excellency,' until the court made Beddow stop. Looked to us like fireworks are due to pop before that trial is over."

Never content yourself with doing your second best, however unimportant the occasion.—Gen. Sheridan.

Caps And Gowns Are Passe For 1931 Seniors Dear Mr. Editor:

Of late there has been quite a stir over the question of whether this year's senior class shall graduate amid the folds of a stately robe or a la naturelle. Some members of the class prefer to reach out and grasp their sheepskin while clad in black, while others had rather step out into the future dressed as fittingly as possible for the vocation or profession which they intend to follow for the remainder of their days here on earth.

Of course, there is ample room for argument on either side of the question. A tradition has grown up in numbers of schools which requires all students to leave the protecting wing of alma mater surrounded in a tight-fitting gown of an ebon hue. This tends to impress them and those present that commencement is a very auspicious occasion.

On the other hand, think of the comfort and convenience of taking the momentous step dressed for business, in clothes which fit you, without that embarrassment and loss of identity which accompanies the wearing of a cap and gown. The occasion is important, to be sure, but does the business man or wide-awake person that most of us intend to be wear a gown on important occasions? Does he make speeches from the suffocating environment of an elougated toga? The answer is obviously no.

Without the trouble attendant upon securing and getting inside of a second-hand robe, our seniors would feel a much greater peace of mind, which is to be considered. Any person, though he be as poor as Job's turkey, should have been able to have secured by the end of four years of college life one dark suit, which would be quite appropriate for any impressive occasion. Thus, the item of expense to secure uniformity is very neglible.

The department occasionally sends young men abroad to serve as clerks in the Foreign Service. The initial salary of clerks sent abroad is frou $1,800 to $2,000, and in some cases slightly higher, depending upon the cost of living. Ordinarily it is preferable for a college graduate to take the Foreign Service examination for the career service. If he should fail to pass, it might be possible to offer him a clerical position in which case he would no doubt be able to find the opportunity, as others have, to prepare at his post for a subsequent examination. After six months' service in a clerical capacity one is qualified for appointment as non-career vice counsul provided he is recommended by the officer in charge.

The written part of the next Foreign Service examination is scheduled for July 27 and 28, 1931. The oral and physical tests completing the examination will be held in Washington, D. C., beginning October 26, 1931. No designation for this examination will be made after June 16, 1931.

It is most interesting to read an account of the first Alabama recorded school, located in Tensaw, several miles north of Bay Minette, more than a century ago. Alabama's first newspaper is charmingly described in the fine old volume. It is said to have been established at old Fort Stoddert, built in 1799, only 400 yards from the present Mount Vernon landing, about 40 miles above Mobile. It was estab-lished under the name of 'Mobile Centinel' and the first edition appeared May 28, 1811.

Stinit Night have been at work for several weeks preparing a finnier and more elaborate skit with which to defend their title.

Miss Kennedy, of the college cafeteria, is again in charge of the banquet preceding the program of stunts. Last year 463 plates were served and several score late-comers were unable to avail themselves of the gastronomic activities due to the crowd. Arrangements will be made to care for a hundred additional guests this year to avoid inconvenience and delay.

Bernard Jenkins, John Joseph Smith and Buford Word, committee in charge of arrangements, promise a program, in addition to the sunts, that alone would be worth the nominal admission, set at fifty cents, all of which will go to the preparation of the banquet plates.

Hear Ye, Hark Ye! The Chees Club is under full ewing any anyone getting under the swing of the club is bound to be brained, supposing anyone who plays chess has any brains. Every day not to mention the long evenings in the calim moonlight we dash madly over to the Gold and Black room or to the tables in Science 16 and ream off a game of chees. That's another game of chees that we just dashed off.

Listen, members of our so-called democracy, come ye all to the grand tournament and let Rodin or McCoy, those flends of the checkered board, explain the intricacies of the game and join us in our hidden pleaeures. Just drop over and bring your board. Any Monday afternoon at chapel period. It seems there is a story about the boy that was crazy enough to invent the game and it seems further that he introduced this monstrosity to a court, where the king was of an inferior mentality and having found the game to his liking ordered his servants to give the inventor anything that he asked for, and what did the poor sap ask for but a grain of corn on the first square two on the second, four on the third, etc. Anyway there wasn't enough corn in the world to supply the need to the king so he punished the man by making him prime minister and as is usual in such cases he probably lost his head in the next month when the votes went against him. So with such a romantic beginning it is small surprise that we continue its mysteries in the darkened shadows and scents of Science Hall.

My love lies in the snowdrift, I tossed it there today, But it will come to me again When winter melts away.

The above chart prepared by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory tells you why.

Please examine it carefully. It is an unfailing guide to cigarette selection and enjoyment.

As you can quickly see by the three upper curves on this interesting chart, cigarettes that lack the protection of the Humidor Pack lose their moisture rapidly from the dear they are manufactured. from the day they are manufactured.

Mrs. Kennedy Plans Menu Of Students' Favorite Foodstuffs

Pedantic heads are bowed in hought over a more weighty matter than mid-semester examinations. With the Annual Stunt Night performance only two weeks from today the faculty is faced with the problem of choosing a skit to surpass in humor their 1930 presentation, "Love Through the Ages," a ecintillating, mirth provoking, burlesque history of the primal passion excellently portrayed by scantily-clad romancing professors.

It is rumored that the faculty plans to render a mock Gilbert-Sullivan operetta on the evening of April 10th. Professor Hemphill is writing the music and Doctor Currie the libretto, it is reported. Doctor Hawk will represent a swash-buckling, adventure-some toreador, a modern version delighting in the old Southern custom of shooting the bull.

Much gusto was manifested Thursday as the Glee Club, luggaged to capacity, hit the trail on one of its concerting, disconcerting tours.

Six automobiles, crowded to the top with songsters and bagage, left the Student-Activity Building, noses pointed to the chosen city of Gadsden. The only mishap during the first lap of the trip was the fate of a poor kitten who chose, unfortunately, to cross the road at the same instant that one of the drivers whizzed by.

At 8:30, a large part of the population of Gadsden assembled in the high school auditorium and listened to a program which was considered one of the real successes of the year.

After the concert, the club adjourned to the ballroom of the Reich where we were entertained at a dance.

The remainder of the afternoon was pent in touring the city. Among the allowes visited were Fort McClellan, sunset Drive, and Alabama Military institute. At 8:30 another concert was given to an appreciative audience. After the program our host-sessed drove us to a dance at the Cavalers Club.

The rat trackmen are unusually well fortified in the distance and sprint departments. However, there seems to be a lack of hefty men for the weight contests.

On the other hand, the upper class tracksters show a decided strength in the field division. Many of the heavy football men are fighting it out for places in this section. Some of the outstanding sprinters and distance runners have failed to show up for practice during the first two weeks, due to minor injuries and illness. Most of these are expected to be out Monday.

We note from a copy of a program of the meeting Dr. Wright is to conduct the model initiation. We also see where Dr. Snavely, president of the fraternity, is to be toastmaster at the general assembly.

Political campaigning on the Hill is rapidly gaining impetus as more candidates announce their intention to run for office in the annual Spring election to be held Wednesday, April 22, Present prospects point toward the hottest battle of votes in recent years, according to leaders in touch with the pulse of campus politics.

Recent meetings of leaders from various non-fraternity organizations indicate the unification of those groups into a party that hopes to rival the original Non-Fraternity Association, disbanded for the past four years. Several men have made known their intention of entering the current race.

A full ticket will not, it is rumored, be entered this Spring, allegiance having been pledged to several fraternity candidates in return for support from their backers.

Two fraternity parties are working on full tickets. It is reported that a split will weaken the major of these,

Letters To The Editor
Inhabit And Puddle

Dear Ed:

Just a gentle hint to the administration about the puddle of water that collects on the sidewalk between the library and science hall every time it collects on the sidewalk between the library and science hall every time it rains.

It seems to me that now, while work is being done on the new woman's building and all the materials are at hand, would be a good time to remedy this very obvious defect of our otherwise beautiful campus.

It is true some thoughtful person has placed a board across the pond. but this board is only wide enough for one person to cross at a time. Honest, dear editor, if you get caught on the wrong side of the plank with the greater part of traffic coming toward you, then trying to cross is like driving a bus sideways up a one-way street.

Of course it may be that our dear faculty is waiting to see if there are any budding Walter Raleighs around the campus, but as yet I have not seen any young man shed his coat and tell a fair co-ed to "step on it, kid." Some few members of the faculty have been heard to remark that they never had any trouble in crossing the pond. Of course not; they are always too early, or too late to catch the traffic rush.

Anyway, here's hoping that the pond will either be filled in or a few more feet dug out so we can at least swim some this summer.

Yours truly,

Yours truly, C. B.

Comprehensive Examinations A Big Time Saver

At many schools any student who is able to take and pass a comprehensive examination on any subject is allowed to take the exam and then go on with advanced work. This permits students who are shead of their classmates or who have taken work elsewhere to progress and not be held back until their classes catch up with them.

Many of the better high schools in the state require math courses which are equivalent to the freshman math course given here. Students from these schools, however, are required to take again this work their freshman year. But would it not be better if the better scholars were given a comprehensive examination either before or at the beginning of their freshman year, and then on the successful passing be allowed to take up advanced work?

Frequently, too, a student will discover a course in his curriculum which he has either taken before or which through outside work or interest he has mastered thoroughly. Should he be forced to take that course again at a great waste of time to him? Will he be justified in spending class hours in going over the rudiments of a subject which he already knows? Yet he has to take the course now if it is in his curriculum.

Southern needs these comprehensive examinations.

Dean Parsons of the University of Oregon states that nine-tenths of the tollege professors would starve to death if they had to make their living any man on the squad and his buletelike throws from deep short are freat. The career of Coach Henry Crisp, who recently became Alabama's athletic director, is a brilliant one.

The loss of his right hand in a sliage cutter at the age of 13 would have deterred almost anyone else from sticking to athletics.

Crip played two years of football at Hampden-Sidney and then transferred to Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he made the All-South Atlantic team his final year.

Every year Crisp alternated between tackle and fullback. From the fullback position he called the signals. When he carried the bail he used his nub to good advantage in stiff arming and in one game the referee examined the nub to see if there was any lead underneath the bandages.

Ill content with football "Hank." as he was known on the campus, played three years of basketball, was a member of the track team, and even went out for baseball. He later played one summer of professional ball.

team in hitting. He led the frosh team last year.

Ai Blanton, an infielder shifted to the outer garden, has been showing up exceptionally well in practice games. He is a fast fielder and will soon develop into a polished fielder. Last year this boy's batting was fair and he is going to be hard to beat out of one of the outfield beths. Considering the all around abilities of this year's team, the Panthers should have a successful season on the dlamond.

Signal Calling Position Forms Enigma Golden Panther Mentors Must Solve

Lack of Weight, Experience Bothers Mentors; Chesty All-brooks Suggested for Job and Might Direct Team From End

Finding a signal caller for the 1931 edition of the Birmingham-Southern Panthers is one of the most Important problems that must be solved by Coaches Jenks Gillem and Carey Robinson.

Al Blanton, little rechead, is by far the most capable man out for the position with his experience, his kicking and passing ability.

O'Neil, an excellent passer and a good offensive threat, is seeing some service in this department. Both of these boys are rather light and, depite their speed and general play, it would be hard for them to stop a heavy line barrage.

Cranford, the lad that puts them between the uprights, has been showing up well in the numeral barking department, and despite his kicking ability he has need of experience before being a quarterback. When Gillem gets experience and good football judgment he is lacking in avoirdupols.

Talk of making a signal caller out of Chesty Alibrooks has shown up little, as this lad is doing his daily dozen with the boys on the hardwood. Sousa's Latest

Trial By Band Of Corps

When John Philip Sousa's latest composition, "The Legionnaires," is taken to Paris in May by the American commission to the International Colonial and Overseas Exposition, it will receive its initial rendition by the world's most famous military band, that of the French Foreign Legion band, that of the French Foreign Legion.

The march king has dedicated "The Legionnaires" to the Paris Exposition. Critics who have attended private rehearsals declare the latest Somea march is even more thrilling and impressive than "El Capitan" and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

The French Foreign Legion's military band is one of the strangest musical corps ever assembled. Most of its members are enlisted under false names, and twenty nationalities are represented on the band's roster. Many of the musicians were formerly in Berlin, London, Petrograd, Rome, and other European capitals, but now they are the French equivalent of plain John Smith, simple soldiers of the Legion.

The Mexican was surrounded by a group of interested young people. When one says "Mexican" the usual picture brought to most American people is the man with a large sombero, dark, piercing eyes, a scarf of livid colors thrown across: the shoulders, flash of color on the wide bottom trousers, and a knife concealed somewhere in the colorful regalia.

Senor Enrique C. Aguierre had no large sombrero, no livid colors flashed from his costume, no knife was concealed about his person, but a pleasant face greeted us, a face which belonged to one who had a most interesting personality behind it.

Enrique C. Aguirre is one of the small group of younger Latin Americans who are exceptionally qualiffed to be interpreters of the life and culture of Latin America to the people of the United States. A native citizen of Cuba, son and grandson of eminent Cuban patriots who fought for Cuba'e indepedence, a graduate of the University of California, he has for ten years served as an educator in Mexico. He has been a member of the faculty of the Unicersidad Naclonal de Mexico, Director of Recreation of the Federal District of Mexico, and on the staff of the Public Charities of Mexico. A trip will be made to Emproy the 18th of April, a match is pending with either Georgia Tech or Oglethorpe the 17th. Sewanee will be played here May 1, and Miss. College May 2. The team will be sent to the Si.A.A. tournament the 8th and 9th of May in Memphis. A stop off is planned the 7th in Nashville where Vanderbilt will be encountered. Howard and Auburn will be played some time in April. Matches are pending with S. S. U., Univ. of Miss., Mercer, A. & M., and the University of Tenn. Chattanooga will be played here the 15th of May.

Alabama lineup is uncertain, but it is probable that it will be ac follows: Robert Little, No. 1; Alder Simpson, No. 2; Shaffer, No. 3, and Coero, No. 4. This will pit the two captains against each other. Miller against Simpson. The two funny captains may also oppose each other, Beerman against Little. This leaves Mallory against Shaffer with Stewart playing Coero.

Coero.
Credit must be given where credit is due, and credit certainly is due to Dr. Eckert for his work as coach. Not a little of the present team's success and also of the success of the teams of the past is due to Dr. Eckert's advice, criticism and help in general. A former star college tensis player himself, he has transferred a lot of his ability and skill to the present pupils. He can step out on the court any time and give any of the varsity a hard match. More praise to Dr. Eckert, a coach little heard of, but whose work can be seen in his teams' records.

Quite a crowd is expected to be present. Tennis is rapidly becoming as popular a sport in the South as it is in the North. There is no admission to sit down. While Alabama is a heavy favorite, the Panther netmen, undefeated for two years and tied twice, will be in there battling for every point.

Snappy Synopsis Of "As You Like It"

"As you like it," is one of Shakespeare's most noted comedies. In it we find hits imagination fired to a keen pitch, and his philosophic eye brightest. The play covers five acts, briefly summarized:

Act I. A Duke of France, being dispossessed of his dominions by a younger brother, Frederick, retires to the neighboring forest of Arden. His daughter, Rosalind, remains with her beloved cousin Cella at her usurping uncle's court.

A wresiting match takes place between the Duke's wrestler and an accoment offered by the Bradford Trio proved rather amusing.

In the throat tlekling contest led by the elder Bradford, Walton Wright's basso and Rat Searcy's cocording tenor were the like of which have never been heard before on the Hilliop.

The unapproachable figure of Miss Dwight Roper was displayed in a most pleasant manner, while Big Townsend looked more guilty than pleased when Wee Coshatt and shots un were offered as a necessary part of the procedure.

Mrs. George Bridges Makes Splendid Home For Seven Little Tots; Teaches Them, Plays And Works With Her Brood, Ranging From Three To Twelve

By Anita Van de Voort

Mrs. George Bridges, a student at Birmingham-Southern, and her husband have started out on a "nobie experiment" in education and environment. They have one child, Mary Eleanor, age eleven, and have adopted six more. The ages of the children range from three to twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. Bridges are having the Mrs. Bridges are having the children's I. Last week they were drawing and cutting out savages and pasting them on Africa. Mrs. Bridges says the children are just as fascinated with their play.

A wing has been added to the Bridges' home, part of it is occupied by the boys and part by the girls. There is one large room in the wing which is a sort of living room, play room and auditorium. Here every evening the family gathers and atlaks, plans and plays together. They have a spelling match and each child really works quite hard to keep from going foot.

In a free-for-all fight which followed a basketball game between the Citadel and the College of Charleston on the Citadel campus, two city firemen received injuries which sent them to the hospital and a number of students, firemen and policemen sustained bruises and cuts.

The fight started between the students of the two rival institutions. Police and firemen were summoned. Then the battle turned to a fight between the students of both institutions on one side, and the officers on the other.

Things ended when the firemen turned a hose on the students.

Hurling of the 16-pound weight has fascinated several of the more weighty men about the campus. Speedy Bowers is doing his first work as a shot putter. This big blond mountaineer has already shoved the iron ball 38 feet in his early tryouts. A little more practice in ring stepping and shoulder work should bring this boy's distance to over 40 feet. Townsend is another neophyte at the shot. The pigskin co-captain has been pushing the iron over 36 feet of turf. Tucker and Mann have also been getting 36 and 37 feet. Mr. Pedro Black will seek to improve his distance of 40 feet made last year. Anything over 40 feet in S. I. A. circles is likely to capture a first place. Mrs. W. B. Cooper Is Destined To Sling Stunt Night Hash

Cafeteria Boss Makes Paying Proposition Out Of Emporium

By Edith Blach

after a long journey and read his own epitaph on a tombstone.

Mrs. W. B. Cooper manager of Southern's cafeteria, is the lady in question and she is wondering how last year's cafeteria manager, Mrs. Kennedy, can be in charge of the stunt night celebration when she is in Anniston. Of course the story printed for the last two weeks in the Gold and Black saying Mrs. Kennedy was in charge was a "social error" as the writer evidently forgot that Mrs. Cooper is now the new cafeteria manager.

"We're planning on a big time Stunt Night," said Mrs. Cooper, "with good food and plenty of it."

To be trank, we've often wondered about this "good food business" in the cafeteria. You know they have everything you can think of to eat. We've often wondered who thinks of all of it, and how any one can price things as reasonably as is done.

Mrs. Cooper and her helpers listen to the remarks students make about the strong of the cafeters was a bout the strong of the cafeteria. You know they have everything you can think of to eat. We've often wondered who thinks of all of it, and how any one can price things as reasonably as is done.

Mrs. Cooper and her helpers listen to the remarks students make about different dishes and govern themseives accordingly. That's why you'll usually find your favorite dishes there. Incidentally, this is the first year, according to Mr. Yeilding, the cafeterla has been able to make expenses.

"Mrs. Kennedy has arranged the stunt night for the last few years, but she has not even been here this year," said Mrs. Cooper. "Naturally I had a funny feeling when I read the article, for I've been here all this year and haven't been told yet that I'm fired." She laughed.

A Whim To Learn

The second type, of which there are only a few of us, is here as as a result —a result of a sudden whim, or the result of having more time than we needed. We believe in predestination, especially where grades are concerned. Ours is no definite aim, no high ambition. There is nothing about our career to bother the instructor, for we live in the present.

We enjoy just ambling in and out, studying when the mood strikes us. We study, most of the time, the folks around us and the tree tops outside the windows. especially when the birds swing on the tips of the twigs with intriguing rhythm.

If Ye Olde Collegians could be sorted out at the beginning of each term, and distributed equally according to our classification; the hard work could be divided evenly among the several professors. And life would be greatly simplified.

MacDonald Only High Jumper: Weights, Distance Shap-ing Up

By Lucius Brannon

By Lucius Brannon

Twenty-four freshmen are working out daily in an effort to give Southern a its best frosh track team in history. With the third week of practice near a close, Coach Fullbright is rapidly bringing the lads into shape. Most of these men had no high school experience but under the tutelage of an able coach they are learning fast.

No tryouts have been held for positions, but the track mentor is planning a meet with Philips Hi within a few days in order that he may get a line on the abilities of the first year men.

The frosh seem to be stronger in the sprints than in any other fields at present but this is natural as even students without former training have had need for running abilities, Hillin, Hagan, Young, Goodrich, Wilson, Vincent, Glardine and Dunlap are out for the shorter distances and from this bunch Coach Fullbright will select his men for the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes.

The shot-put and discus throwers will be selected from Wilson, Norris, Hand and some of the newer prospects who have just started practicing. Norris is shining with the shot-put, while Wilson is showing amazing form with the discus, considering that he was not a track man in prep school. Goodrich is showing speed on the low hurdles and with Norris bids fair to make a great combination.

To date McDonald is the only high jumper on the squad and Coach Full-bright is trying to develop jumpers to help him. Goodrich and Hillin are taking care of the pole vauiting in excellent style.

For the half-mile run Roberts, Kidd, and Warner are fighting it out.

Riley, McDonald, Goodwin and Twitchell are turning in excellent performances in the mile and two-mile runs. The new prospects of whom Coach Fullbright is expecting much are McFarland, Edge, Stewart. North-trop, Johnson, Jones and Briner.

Mrs. Cooper, college dieticlan, is in charge of the banquet preceding the skits presented by classes and faculty. A rebirth of a long forgotten art was engineered yesterday in the form of a spelling bee by the Clariosophic Literary Society.

Back and forth flew words, sometimes whole and oftentimes mangled horribly. Fast and furious waged the battle of memories. "Asafetida," and seven Redskins —seven Clarios bit the dust. "Menageria" and several others hastened into discard. With the last metamorphic arrangement of letters, the sides were downed and the meeting adjourned.

The Mississippians have come and gone. The Indians scalped the Panthers in the last scrap unmercifully and it was with a somewhat pleasant gusto that Coach Robinson bid Coach Robinson good bye. Though in no way at one end of the bleachers yelling related, the two Robinsons are both large in body and bull shooters in gab.

Three Sophs showed Captain McCullough that he would not have to uphold all of the hitting ability of the squad. Thomas led the parade with some plain and fancy swatting on Saturday with Midget Wright proving his dependability by slamming out three nice shots on the same day. Cranford got four safe knocks during the series, though his tielding was a bit below par.

Coach Carey Robinson refused to squeeze runners across the platter in the fifth stanza of the first game. The weak end of the batting order was up and no men out, but the Foxye one gave both Doster and Lawless chances to slam the apple.

Due to the pleas of his home crowd out at Ensley, Dunn, a likely looking pitcher, finally got a chance to toss the horsehide in the last contest. He proved to be the most effective hurler of the day, although one counter was registered against him because of poor

The Choctaws just about cooked the Hilltoppers 'til it was Dunn, last week. Mr. Dunn's home towners out in Ensey raised such a hullabaloo, Coach Carey decided it would be advisable o pitch the boy in his home pasture n order that peace and quiet might reign.

Claric Debaters Take Floor For Annual Tryouts

The Clarios were entertained by try-outs for the Intersociety Debates yesterday, the routine of which was relieved by two piano solos.

The winners, to be announced later, will encounter the Belles Lettres team during Commencement Week. All the Clario debaters showed great promise, especially Cullen Wilson, Alma Kirby and several others.

Next Thursday Cloriosophic will hold the try-outs for the Intersociety Oration, which is also to be held Commencement Week.

Belles Lettres One Day Older Than Twin Clariosophic ells add interest. The Belles Let-Alpha Kappa Phi!

By Edith E. Black

One day, more or less, in the lifetime of a club, would not matter greatly under ordinary circumstances, but when it concerns two rival clubs—well, that's another story.

It's all about Southern's two rival literary societies, Belles Lettres and Clarlosophic. When freshmen are trying to decide which society they would prefer to try out for, all the fine points are brought out, including the one which says that Belles Letters excitely was organized one day before the Clarlosophic.

Belles Lettres was organized October 28, 1859 with C. B. Clarke as president of the five charter members.

"To cultivate those faculties of the mind uneducated by college studies and to read and acquire liberal and intellectual views"—this was the purpose of the club.

Both societies were somewhat like fraternities. The Clarlosophic petitioned Phi Kappa Sigma. They were known as the "Clarlos," however, as their yell signifies:
Ho! Ho! Ho!
Phi Kappa Sigma!
Ho! Ho! Ho.

At joint meetings of the societies and at the debates their songs and res yell was: Rah! Ho! Re! Rah! Ho! Ri!

Big Scoop Fails To Materialize For Cub Reporter

A Golden Black reporter, hard pressed for news, strode hurriedly into the president's office. But Doctor Snavely could supply no material for spicy stories for our beloved scandal sheet. And neither could Mrs. Huntley, upon being questioned. But reporters are hard to get rid of, especially G. and B. reporters. This one hung around in hopes of accidentally picking up some dirt or at least some news. As his eyes roved the room, he happened to glance at a letter residing harmlessly in the waste basket. It was not the paper that attracted the reporter's attention—it was the fact that on the letter was scrawled the words: "Send new cat to Mrs. ---"

The reporter pounced. "Did you send the extent was a readed."

Pre-Meds Suspected Of Doing Dr. Currie Plans Lightning Artis-Prize Feline To Foul Ltry For Program Wednesday

Some of our professors still believe in fairy godmothers. Four profs are to conduct chapel next week, and all except one expressed the desire to be relieved of the difficulty.

Dr. Curry leads chapel exercises April 21. His program is going to be very unusual, probably some lightning drawings.

April 22 Mr. Couliette hopes to be replaced by some outside celebrity. He has not planned any program because he hopes his lucky star will still serve him. For the past two years he has managed to evade his "day."

Mr. Daniel looks with consternation on April 23. He has really not succeeded in forming a satisfactory program and hopes also to be aided in this dialema by an exchange.

Mr. Debnam says that if, by any chance, he is still slated for April 24, he will speak on the unemployment question or some other economic puzzle.

General Electric Contributions to Health

GOLLEGE-TRAINED electrical engineers cooperated with the medical profession in developing G-E products that safeguard health. Notable among these are the x-ray tube, the G-E refrigerator, and the G-E Sunlamp. Of these three, the Sunlamp is the latest development, but it has already been acclaimed for its service in helping build that vitality which maintains the happiness of good health.

At Cornell University, members of "cold - prevention classes" (under daily, brief, ultra-violet-ray lamp treatments) reported 40 per cent less colds than were reported by classmates in a group without this treatment. Beyond home and college, the use of Sunlamps has extended to swimming pools and indoor golf courses. In the future, you may enjoy the Sunlamp as a standard fixture in offices, trains, clubs, and many other places where people gather.

And you may continue to expect new, unusual, and useful develop-ments from G-E engineering and re-search. Among such products, there will doubtless be further contribu-tions to personal health, comfort, and convenience, as well as to the promotion of industrial efficiency.

school work shortfly after the season began, and was eliminated from S. L. A. A. competition.

Little interest has been shown in the sport of the thinly clads south of the Mason and Dixon Line until recently. Ed Hann, formerly of Georgia Tech, who holds the world's broad jump record, is also a 10 second man in the century dash. This fact further confirms the theory that dashing and broad jumping are interdependent. Claude Bracey, of Houston, who was one of the nation's best sprinters in 1930, has left his native South to join the Millrose Athletic Club of New York. The "Dixie Express" will compete under Millrose colors in the N. A. A. U. track and field carnival at Lincoln, Neb., on July 3rd.

36 Men Out Here
One hundred and fifty men have reported for track at Harward. Coach Farrell announces that he expects the squad to increase as the season progresses. Compare this number with our own squad of 36 freshmen and varsity and you will see how much easier it is to develop a winning combine north of the M. and D. line.

In the recent South African track and field games J. Joubert, of St. Eleinbosch University, was thought to have set a new mark of nine and two-fifths seconds in the century sprint. Immediately afterwards officials had the track surveyed and discovered that it ran uphili 30 yards and downfill 70 yards. Joubert's time of nine and two-fifths seconds ties the American record of Frank Wykoff, which, as JJoubert's, has not yet been officially recognized.

A very rare and valuable addition to the college library appeared Monday in the form of a twelve-volume Oxford Dictionary.

The Oxford Dictionary was begun in 1899 and was founded mainly on materials collected by the Philological Society as far back as 1857. The Oxford was planned to meet the need of a dictionary that should tell:

(a) How long any word has been in the language.

(b) Which of many senses of a word is the original.

(c) When an obsolete word became obsolete.

Comprehensive

It was, therefore, designed as a supplement to all other dictionaries, it was to register all words and meaning omitted by others, and to give quotations illustrating the first and the last appearance of every word.

To do this, an appeal was made for volunteers in Great Britain and America to collect quotations from special collect duotations from special collect quotations from special sanguage of the words.

It's an old Southern custom, in the spring-time, to bid fare-thee-well whenever possible to the campus and to hie away to the open road, to the whispering violets and to shaded nooks sheltering secluded hot-dog stands.

But it's an older custom to play the perfect host. And to furnish some form of college atmosphere for the Hilltop. On their proper function the greater part of the sucschool seniors are the guests of the school for traditional May Day.

Committees from the Student Senate, Co-Ed Council and other groups on the Hill have been busy for several weeks formulating plans for the annual festival. They have worked hard in a season when hard work is a bane to well-ordered collegiate existence and have arranged a program of fun and entertainment.

They have done their part, but they see the season was a season when they are the season was a season when have done their part.

They have done their part, but they can't do every-

Alone, they can't give the school a live appearance. They can't furnish guides enough to direct activities on the campus as smoothly as should be done. They can't wave a wand and create an audience of yelling bedlamites for the burlesque baseball game which Coshatt and Burks will direct.

Such offices are left for the student body to fill. Every man and woman has been delegated as a committee of one to furnish some form of college atmosphere for the campus. On their proper function the greater part of the success of the day will depend.

Coach McLane's lads started off like Stewart started the fireworks, getting a couple of safe knocks, and Wright, former lead-off man, connected for three safeties, batting at the foot of the lineup.

Captain Jack McCullough showed the Bulldogs something in the way of a mound performance. He had the heavy hitting East Lakers eating out of his hand all the way. But for a poor defensive performance by his aides should have held the Red and Blue scoreless.

In the seventh inning of the initial affray, Captain Otis Kent of the Howardites, began his little song, "Gas-Bag Blues." This boy went so high they are still looking for him out at the 'Dog campus.

Coach McLane's lads started off like a house afire, when with a bit of slow a house afire, when with a bit of slow a house afire, when with a bit of slow in ledding by the Cat outfielders, fly balls went for extra base knocks.

A bit of loose infield play enabled the glowlers to top off by three scores in the third. The Panthers kept gnawing until the fireworks broke loose in the seventh and Doc Newton got a beadache quick.

The Cats stole ten bags, Carter beat grade.

Waller got a trio of thefts to his credit, while Blanton, Stewart and Wright added a brace each.

Every time Lee MacArthur visits the dorm he hands the place a free comic with h's new pale green and lovely peach silk underwear. Oops, my deah! days as the panel in his door is now missing. We name no names.

All of which reminds us that dear little "Brute" and the other dorm mem-bers of the baseball team pulled out yesterday afternoon for an extended trip around the country. "Chesty" will probably return with enough silver to furnish an entire fraternity.

Five hundred girls signed a pledge to leave their stockings in their room last Monday, but Dr. Karmike caught on and Martha Ford, vice president of the students in her sophomore year, had to call a mass meeting to keep the hose where hose belong.

Alabama, Tech, Auburn Join Inter-frat Club

Plans for a new national inter-fra-ternity organization were completed Wednesday at the University of Ala-bama when national officers were elected. der consideration for some time but plaus were uot wound up until this week.

Mother Chapter Here

There has been an organization known as "The Greeks" at Sonthern for a number of years. Being older than the University Chapter, it was granted the distinction of having the mother chapter and retaining its own name as the name of the national organization. In order to keep the distinction of heing the charter chapters, Alpina and Beta will begin the naming of new chapters with the last letter of the Greek Alpinabet, Omega, and work back through Gamma.

At present, there are only the two chapters but petitions have already been received from other larger schools and universities throughout the South. Each chapter will be composed of inter-fraternity clubs at each school. Like the Birmingham-Southern Chapter others will be formed from representatives elected from each fraternity recognized by the Pan-Hellenic Council of that particular school. The purpose of the organization will be to further good-will and friendliness be tween fraternities through the medium of good fellowship and social functioning.

Aces Up!

Unsung and unheralded by the press or college ballyhoo, a tennis team representing Birmingham-Southern these past three years has made a most impressive record. Winning uphill matches and taking games from S. C. teams has been the regular thing. Playing in cold, rainy weather hasn't brought a grumble. Fighting from behind to pull a series out of the fire from stronger outfits has been accomplished without cheering sideline crowds. Galleries usually are slim, principally because games are called so far from the campus.

Hilltop tennismen pay for Highland Park Courts themselves, house out-of-town teams, entertain their visitors, finance most trips without school aid, and take on all comers without a quiver.

Dear Mr. Clingman:

I am doing some writing concerned with modern campus life, and would like to get the proper colloquilisms, or what are commonly called "Wise-Cracks," which are peculiar to your school, as it is recognized a very up-to-date and progressive institution. Thinking that you would be familiar with the campus slang, I felt you might be able to supply this information.

The fact that I am a ciergyman need not in any way restrain your frankness in giving me all the snappy phrases which are popular in your campus conversation. This need not be exhaustive, but I would appreciate some suggestions.

Gratefully yours, squad is "Red" Bethea, footbail captain.

The Southern lineup will be practically the same as that for the Chattanooga meet last Friday with the exception of Blanton, who is making the trip with the basebailers. Coach Fuiibright is grooming his men for the S. I. A. A. meet, and will select his squad from the records they make against Florida and the men will be working harder than ever. The weight men did well against Chattanooga and the runners should make better time as the track was sloppy last week and rain fell during the meet.

The Varsity and Freshmen will combine their efforts as they did against Chattanooga and this should be a great help to Southern as the Freshmen are practically as good as the Varsity.

Theta Kaps Hit O'Neal For 17 Runs

Get Triples

Tuesday, in the first of a series of upsets in the annual intra-mural league The Theta Kappa Nu took the Pi K. A's. into camp. Dr. Whitting's boys took advantage of several miscues on the part of the Football Lodge and with several long hits spliced between, took the first match of the season for the two teams. O'Neal, who was heralded as a twirler, weakened badly in the latter lnnings while Howard, a newcomer, held the hard hitting Pikas to ten safeties, spreading them out well over the ten frames.

Taylor Homers

In the slugging end of the game, the leader was Taylor. This lad got a four-ply swat when the bases were full and turned the tide of victory. Evins, B. Currie and Howard also slugged the ball all over Mr. Munger's back yard and enabled the Theta Kaps to tally several unneded scores. For the losers little Al Walfer proved a magician with the stick. The little fellow got two safeties and scored four runs. O'Neal also proved himself a hitter of note as did Seliers, who rode to the track in the last inning for a homer.

Lumpires: Rice, Kinney.

Beta Kappa Beats KAs By 14-7 Score

Stanfield Has Perfect Day, Three Times Up, Three Hits

Alded by a bit of above par pitching and some timely hitting, the Beta Kappas licked the Kappa Alpha aggregation in one of the biggest upsets in the Greek baseball league. With little Doug Prescott at the throttle and MacDonald and Briner directing the attack, he Fifth Avenue boys emerged victorious over the Southern Gentlemen. Pedro Biack, veteran twirler of the K. A. order, was driven from the mound in the fifth when, with several miscues by his aidee, he blew up as high as a kite. The sixth frame was Prescott's bad inning when several ground balis got by his outer gardeners for extra base blows.

Summary as follows:

Beta Kappa showed by far the hardst hitting aggregation in their openage it it, and with this triumph bid air to make League B more eveniy natched than was expected.

Stanfield, with three safe knocks tu of as many tries, and Black, with our for four, are going to give someme a run for his money in the way to a stanfield.

12 Run Rally Falls Short As ATOs Lose 18-16

The Apple

Wednesday the S. A. E.'s took their second game in the Pan-Hellenic series from Alpha Tau Omega, 19-17. Leading by ten runs in the fifth, the Sig Alphs weakened and let in 11 scores before retiring the side. Hines walked several men, and his mates failed to back him up. Plays were made for base runners, and not the batter.

Charlie Weston, A. T. O., pitched consistent ball and with better support promises to develop into a firstrate twirler. Joe Whitson slipped a couple of safeties just over the Sig Alph infield. Shaul and Farmer got two bingles apiece.

Millsaps Gets Two

Millsaps drew a brace of wins, the first in a tenth inning rally, 7-6, the second ,8-5. Sensational fielding by Waller and beautiful twirling by Jackie McCullough made things look bad for the Delta Staters. Carter did a bit of timely hitting that almost carried the Alabama outfit to a last minute victory.

Passeau disclosed a speed ball that had Southern in the dark for several innings, swinging at little or nothing except thin air. Stewart tripled in the niath with none out, but died on third. McDanlel, of Millsaps, spilled a barrage of hits all over the park and was a big factor in the win.

Blanton Homers

Al Blanton arrived in Jackson after appearing in the 'Nooga track meet. He made a sweet running catch in left in the second game, played Tuesday. Two singles and a home run that eailed out of the lot into the deep blue made Mississippians sit up and take notice.

FULLBRIGHT HOPEFUL

Team In Fine Mettle After Fast Meet With Florida Gators

Coach Fullbright's track squad chased the University of Florida runners all over Munger Bowl last Friday. They did not, however, succeed in catching them and the Alligators handed the Panthers an overwhelming defeat. Florida took all first places, but this should not discourage the Fullbrighters, as many of the races were run in close to record time for S. I. A. A. competition. The Florida track squad is well balanced in all events and should deal plenty of misery to other teams in the Southern Conference meet.

Coaches Fullbright and Robinson set this morning with the squad headed for Memphis and the S. I. A. A. annual track meet. Nine tracksters and Manager Burks compose the squad. The men making the trip and the events in which they will participate are as follows: Vaughn, O'Neal, Carl Wright and Walter Wright, in the hundred and two-twenty dashes; Jackson and Blanton in the 440 dash; Crenshaw in the half-mile run; Mann in 20 yard high hurdles; Clernshaw in the half-mile run; Mann in 20 yard high hurdles; Elanton in pole vault; Black in shot put, discus and broad jump, and C. Wright in broad jump.

These men will meet plenty of competition in Centenary, University of Louisville, Loyola, Southwestern and other S. I. A. A. teams. The best record made to date in competition is that of Toppino, of Loyola, who has run the century in 9:8. The record in this sprint should be bettered along with other records of long standing in the conference.

Racquet Weilders Completely Submerge Miss. Choctaws

The Panther courtmen were at top form last Saturday morning and awept aside the crack Mississippi College Choctaws 6-0. This was the fourth conference win for the Panthers with no losses. The Choctaws were rated as the best conference team played by the Hilltoppers this season. With four wins and no losses, the Panthers have been established as one of the favorites to win the S. I. A. A. tournament at Memphis on Friday and Saturday. Miller and Beiman are expected to represent Southern in the tournament.

With Jimmy Stewart back with the team, after the baseball trip, the boys seemed to have the added pep and vigor which was necessary to blank the Delta State boys. Mississippi College is rated better than some teams that have defeated Southern this year, but they found the Panthers at the top of their game in six matches played at the Melrose Creamery courts.

The new Birmingham-Southern catalogue announces an important change in the schedule for the first course in Geology.

The course will be given each semester hereafter. There will be a class meeting each day in the week except Saturday. Heretofore, the course has demanded two hours laboratory per week throughout the year but through the new arrangement there will be only one period of 3 hours per week each semester. The ratio of lecture to lab was 60 to 60, but by the new schedule this will be changed to 75 to 45.

The advantages to be gained by the new arrangement may be outlined briefly as follows:

1) The course material will be more compact.

2) Upper classmen and freshmen will attend different sections thus permitting a type of presentation especially adapted to each group.

Letters To The Editor

In Advance

The Gold and Black.

Birmingham-Southern College,

Dear Editor:

I happened in a barber shop recently and an incident which occurred there struck me as amusing. Should you agree, you might want to pass it on to your readers:

A young mother entered bringing along her son who appeared to be about one and one-half years old. While the barber was cutting his hair the child was attracted to the various articles in the shop.

Suddenly the little boy's attention was drawn to a highly colored little graph of a nude woman to which he pointed excitedly. His mother said to the child. "What is it, dear?" To which the child replied, still pointing at the picture, "Mama."

Very truly yours,
Harry M. Hirsch.

Jimmy Shipiey and Lucia Beddow did some big league batting in a fast ball game in the parking space between the S. A. E. house and Science Hail.

Joe Whitson pitched a good game for the Pi Phi combine and got good support from Lessie Gewin and Dove Beddow. Maggie Jones chased fly balls into the tall weeds with grear speed and grace.

K. D.'s Try Delayed Steal Parlss Gambrill led the K. D. outfit in an uphill fight against the heavy swatting Poi Phols. Arnold Powell, Dot Brough and Jaue Lyle filled out the side.

Jimmie, lead-off man, soaked the pill, stole second and rared home on hard hit balls by Lessie and Dove. Joe (Gold-and Black man) Whitson fouled out to Jane.

Lucia drew a pass, taking second with a beautiful hook silde under Farlss. Maggie (Loudspeaker) Jones smacked the apple down the taird baseline and among the autos.

Two alumni of this august institution have announced the beginning Friday, May 22, of the weekly dances at Highland Park Club, which offer popular rendezvous for the college sets during the lengthy term of vacation. Hickey Freeman and John Buell, under the name of the University Club, will be sponsors of the weekly events. Even if one is completely isolated from the companionship of one's extended from the companionship of one's extended from the companionship of one's will be specified in the one who provides inspiration in the one who provides inspiration in the library, a weekly visit to Highland Park will completely dissipate the boredom of contacts with vacation jobs, and the days of Summer nothingness.

Gilbert Miller and Irving Bleman, stellar racqueteers for Birmingham Southern, swept through all opposition to cop the S. I. A. A. Tennis championship at Memphis last week. In the doubles finals, the Panther team defeated Hunter and Morris, of Mississippi College, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3. Not content with this, the Hilltop pair each fought their way to the finals in the singles division. Here, Captain Miller defeated his teammate in a hotly contested struggle, 3-6, 6-3.

Soph Infield Back
The entire Sophomore infield which did duty this year will return for next season. They should work well together. Thomas performs at first, Doster and Wright at second and short, while Cranford holds down the hot corner. These men are all about as capable as you will find anywhere and work well together.

The outfield is going to be the problem for next season. We must have some hitters to replace Cleveland,
Stewart and Waller. Captain-elect Blanton is the only one from among the lettermen left in the outer garden. He is a grand nucleus to build around, however, and we predict for him a successful year next season.
His hitting has not been quite up to in great style. Perhaps there is some excellent material from among the Freshmen, who have not had an opportunity to show their ability this season, since the Freshman did not put out a team.

Big Four

WITH four city athletic crowns resting on Sunshine Slopes we add our word in celebrating with the school the first four-letter athletic department in the memory of this senior class.

Pilgreen and Black started it, with the excellent aid of a pack of hungry Panthers; Coy Summerford and his lynx-eyed cagesters called it a season only after winning the city basket ball title.

Millet, Bieman, Mallory and Stewart, gutbusters who have dealt misery to tennis opponents for four years, did their bit; and McCullough's golden black nine put the finishing touch on a good job by defeating their rivals from the eastern limits of the city three games to one.

by defeating their rivals from the eastern limits of the city three games to one.

Nothing new can be said about the men responsible for the four-fold victory. They fought; took adverse breaks philosophically and the favorable breaks with a grip that squeezed opportunity to the last drop. They were true Hilltoppers, and more cannot be said.

Birmingham-Southern is to be congratulated on an excellent athletic season, on the support with which it met each campaign and on the quiet attitude taken toward wholesale victory.

And the rival from across town is to be no less complimented for its sportsmanship. Howard has always turned out flighters who weren't until the last whistle of the game. Its student body has proved itself, time after time, to be a gracious victor; it has proved itself again great in defeat.

The finals were marked by some bursts of snappy baseball and brainy work by both outfits. Some bonehead breaks by the Sig Alph bunch almost took the last game from them after outplaying their rivals.

Baxter Goodrich pitched his mates to two successive wins on as many days. Erratic play behind him in the third encounter almost drew victory from his grasp. Several walks were costly as they were converted into scores by weak hitting belta Sigs.

Tutwiler, after hurling air-tight ball in the series opener, either didn't have the same stuff for the deciding game or his opponents fell into a hitting streak and made the most of Delta Sig miscues.

Balloon Busters Just Go Puff-Puff-Puffin' Along

Emory and Georgia Tech met upon the field of competition recently in a balloon-bursting meet. The Emory balloon-bursters swamped the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech teams with apparently negligible effort in the state inter-collegiate balloon-blowing tournament.

"Coughing' Kennedy Nahas, reported to be one of the greatest hot air experts in the south, blew in for third place. 'Dopey Duke' Richardson, big daddy rabbit on the Georgia puffers, exploded for second."

Reading one of the letters to the editor, printed in the Howard Crim-

No doubt the Birmingham-Southern backers got quite a kick out of read-

In congratulating the winners in the great Camel contest we want at the same time to thank most cordially the approximately million men and women who displayed their friendly interest by sending in an entry.

We wish also to thank the millions of smokers throughout the country for the appreciation they are showing for our new Humidor Pack as is evidenced by the notable increase in the sale of Camel cigarettes.

By means of this dust-proof, germ-proof, moisture-proof Cellophane wrapping the rich aroma and full flavor of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos have been air-sealed in Camels for your enjoyment.

If you have not tried Camels in the Humidor Pack all we ask is that you switch over to this brand for one day.

After you have learned how much milder, how much cooler, how much more enjoy-able it is to smoke a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette, go back to the harsh hotness of stale cigarettes if you can.
